

CREAMERY FOR LOUISBURG

Louisburg Chamber of Commerce Holds Interesting Meeting—Encouraging Reports Made.

Dairying as Franklin County's future industry was the subject of a most interesting discussion at the regular meeting of the Louisburg Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday night. The subject was introduced by Mr. Malcolm McKinne who gave a very strong plea for the organization of a Creamery and told of its many benefits to a community. He told of the experience his firm had had in dealing with tenants who had no cows, pigs, chickens, etc. His talk was especially interesting as it dealt with a real live problem at an opportune time. He was followed by Dr. W. R. Bass, who is termed the "Daddy of the Dairy interests in Franklin," who responded to an invitation from the President. Dr. Bass told of his efforts and plans to organize and establish a creamery in Louisburg. He told of the cost, the amount of cream it would take to supply it, the amount of cream Franklin is now shipping and what we would probably have if a creamery was established here now. He said prospects were more encouraging to him now than he had expected and if in the next few months the developments continued that he was pretty sure a creamery could be established by January.

The discussion became general leading up to many interesting points and resulted in Dr. Bass being appointed chairman of a special Dairy Committee with authority to name other members of his committee. Dr. Bass named on his committee the following gentlemen: F. J. Beasley, M. S. Clifton, M. McKinne, A. F. Johnson. Dr. A. H. Fleming reported for the advertising committee, that the large bill boards had arrived and been placed. He also read a letter from Vice-President Capps, of the Seaboard, relative to a cotton platform. The impression created by the letter was that the officers of the Seaboard didn't care for any business either to or from Louisburg.

A report on the finishing of the campaign for funds to carry out the advertising campaign was made, and showed money on hand and in sight sufficient to carry out the undertaking.

Mr. T. W. Watson reported soliciting contributions from the Colonial Pine Co., Penders, Standard Oil Co., Texas Co. and others and that all had responded except Standard Oil Co. He read a letter from the Colonial Pine Co. relative to fire protection for their property, which brought on discussion bringing out what had been done and the views of the Town Commissioners and the citizens. President Boddie appointed T. W. Watson, M. McKinne and A. F. Johnson a committee to draft a suitable letter to the Colonial Pine Co. with the ideal of clearing up the situation and showing them that the Chamber of Commerce is in sympathy with its requests and appreciates its co-operation.

A special invitation was extended any or all farmers in Franklin county to become members of our Chamber of Commerce and the entire membership was appointed a committee to extend personally this invitation.

A report was made for the industrial committee that assurances had been given this committee by Mr. F. H. Allen that he expects to build and equip a cotton seed oil mill in Louisburg this fall and winter.

The meeting was presided over by President S. P. Boddie, and Secretary Fleming was present with the minutes of previous meetings and a most enthusiastic and profitable meeting was held.

INTERESTING SESSION RECORDERS COURT

Three cases developed quite interesting legal fights in Recorders Court Monday. These were State vs. Meta Williamson for larceny from Roth's store, John Williams for making a termelion wine and W. C. Skein for driving an automobile while intoxicated. Six cases were disposed of by Judge Perry, one of which was dismissed. The docket as disposed of was as follows:

State vs. Meta Williamson, larceny guilty, 60 days in jail. Appeal.

State vs. Jerry Peoples, nuisance, guilty, 6 months on roads, execution not to issue during good behavior upon payment of costs.

State vs. Jerry Peoples, unlawful possession of whiskey, dismissed.

State vs. John Williams, unlawful possession of whiskey, guilty, fined $25 and costs.

State vs. Percy Boone, unlawful possession of whiskey, guilty $25 fine and costs.

State vs. W. C. Skein, operating automobile intoxicated, guilty, 12 months on roads, execution not to issue upon condition that he pay $50 fine and costs, and refrain from operating any kind of motor vehicle for 12 months.

We are pleased if not downright grateful that a bee has 13,000 eyes, as announced—instead of stings.

No matter who makes a better phonograph record, somebody at our house will break it.

HIGH PRICES FOR TOBACCO

Bright belt tobacco marts in North and South Carolina and Georgia hummed with activity during the past week, when total sales soared above 25,000,000 pounds, releasing thousands of dollars in cash to the growers. Prices tended upward on the Georgia market during the 2nd week of sales, while South Carolina and North Carolina's "border belt" reported a strong tone.

Unofficial figures from South Carolina showed an average of $20.50 per hundred on 18 markets for the four day period while Georgia's unofficial average went above $22 per hundred. South Carolina's unofficial figures gave sales of 10,908,756 pounds, for a total of $2,163,566.37, while Georgia figures from 20 markets aggregated 15,466,682 pounds, bringing $3,569,706.17.

North Carolina's "border" belt totals were not available for the seven markets in the area, but Fairmont for 3 days reported officially $25,735 pounds at an average of $19.36 per hundred, or a total of $179,262.83. The first 3 days on the Fairmont market nearly doubled the first three of 1926 when an average of $16.68 was made, or $2.68 less than this season. Lumberton's official figures for four days gave gross sales of $79,756 pounds at an average of $18.52, both sales and the average being higher than last year.

On all markets, the prospect is for an upward trend of prices, as lower grade leaf and sand lugs have comprised a large portion of early sales, with the better leaf being held back until the season is further advanced. Congestion of the Palmetto State floors that hampered sales at the opening of some place on Tuesday, has been relieved and better conditions prevail. The harvesting of the crop is well advanced and curing is progressing satisfactorily.

Georgia's markets showed a marked increase in both volume and price during the past week, with general satisfaction with prices being reported throughout the belt. Vidalia led the 20 markets in sales during this week, offerings there totalling more than 3,000,000 pounds. The highest general average for a day's sales was recorded at Bainbridge, where 60,000 pounds brought $27.50 per hundred.

The Georgia figures however, are subject to revision downward when official figures are released by the United States government statisticians early next week.

Color of the weed throughout the bright belt is exceptionally good, according to experts, with weight and texture in South Carolina also reported holding up. In Georgia unfavorable weather was said to have cut in on weight and texture, counterbalancing the excellent color.

Harvesting and curing is progressing in North Carolina, according to government agricultural statisticians who predict a yield of 421,742,000 pounds, this year against 393,190,000 last year. Except in the "border belt" North Carolina markets do not open until in September.—Industrial Index, Atlanta, Ga.

COMMUNITY SINGING

We are requested to announce that there will be a community sing at Oak Level Church, near Youngsville the 1st Sunday in September, at 1:30 P. M. All leaders are invited to come and bring their choirs.

HUGH ROBBIN PEARCE

On Wednesday, August 17, just as the morning shadows appeared, our Heavenly Father saw fit to call unto Himself the gentle spirit of Hugh Robbin Pearce. Our loved brother and co-laborer, peacefully passed from the toils and cares of this life into that dreamless slumber that shall know no waking until the great Archangel shall call the dead in Christ to enter into the blessed inheritance. That house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

Therefore be it resolved: That while we, the members of the O'Henry Literary society, of Youngsville High School, do humbly bow in submission to the mandate of the Supreme Master of the universe, yet we deeply deplore the passing of our departed brother and do hereby extend to the family and relatives of the deceased our heartfelt sympathy in their hour of grief and loss.

Be it also resolved, That we will cherish the memory of his many virtues, his cheerful disposition and modest bearing among us and his faithful performance of every trust and that we will endeavor to emulate the life he has set before us, trusting that when we too have approached the end of this life journey, like him, we also may "Welcome the grim tyrant" death, as a kind friend who has come to transfer us from the world of trouble to eternal paradise.

Be it further resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be entered upon the records of the society, a copy sent to the family and a copy to the Franklin Times for publication. Read and adopted this the 22nd day of August, 1927.

RADICALS ELECTROCUTED

Struggle by Sacco and Vanzetti To Escape Electric Chair Unprecedented in American Criminal Procedure, Also in Effect on World Opinion; Two Go to Death at Midnight in Grim Charlestown Prison While 2,300 Police Stand Guard.

Boston, Aug. 23.—Sacco and Vanzetti are dead—but the hue and cry of their dramatic passing rang around the world today.

The end of the seven years fight for life by these convicted radicals—a fight unprecedented in American criminal procedure, and unprecedented, too, in its effect on world opinion—came in the early hours of this morning in drab old Charlestown prison.

The whining sing-song of an electric current whipped through their bodies and burned out their lives while the guns of 2,300 police encircled them to make sure they did not escape Massachusetts justice.

Nothing like it was ever witnessed in an American city. The streets of Boston and other cities saw marching and near rioting in sympathy with them. From Kamchatka to Rio the radicals of the world protested the innocence of the condemned men and demanded their liberation. In London, Paris, Berlin and Moscow there were riotous demonstrations against America—but they died just the same in grim old Charlestown prison hard by the monument on Bunker Hill, and today their bodies lay on marble slabs in the North Grove mortuary.

To the radicals of the world and to their sympathizers among the intellectuals, Sacco and Vanzetti were symbols of legalistic and capitalistic oppression, and martyrs to the cause of political liberalism.

Unyielding Law To the law of Massachusetts, stern and unyielding as the rock of Plymouth, they were a pair of anarchistic aliens who had perpetrated an unusually brutal crime in the murder of a factory paymaster and his guard at South Baitre, and who for seven years have managed to escape paying the penalty therefor.

They died as they lived defiant, contemptuous of the "system" that took their lives, unrepentant, unorthodox, and protesting their innocence to the end. They went to the chair with their heads up, their tread firm, unafraid and without benefit of clergy.

Sacco died almost with "Long live anarchy" upon his lips. Vanzetti, older, more kindly, philosophical, proclaimed his innocence while seated in the chair, and was pronouncing his forgiveness of his enemies when the guards stepped back and signalled for the fatal current.

"I am innocent of all crime," said Vanzetti, without attempting theatrical gestures. "Not only of this one, but all."

He spoke simply, in a quiet voice, as if he had said, "I am tired." He lay back quietly and waited for death. Not so Sacco. Younger, more volatile and impetuous, his first cry upon entering the death chamber was, "Long live anarchy!" and his last, "Farewell, my mother."

Madeiras Dies First Preceding them to the chair was Celestino Madeiros, a Portuguese bank bandit, who killed a cashier in Wrentham while in the act of holding up the place. Oddly enough, Madeiros was accused to the same murder for which Sacco and Vanzetti were executed and his confession exonerated the two radicals. But the law of Massachusetts refused to believe him.

Phlegmatic and sullen, seemingly indifferent to his fate, Madeiros had eaten everything that came his way during his long stay in the death house. He had eaten and slept the long days and nights away. He even had to be awakened three hours before his execution to be informed that this was his last night on earth. And having heard it, he turned over and was asleep again in five minutes. He marched stolidly to the chair and died without a murmur. Nobody rioted or tossed bombs in his behalf.

CHAIRMAN UNIT ACTIVITIES

Her many friends in Louisburg and Franklin County will be interested to learn that Mrs. Hugh W. Perry was appointed Chairman of Unit Activities Committee of the Executive Board of the North Carolina American Legion Auxiliary. The appointment came as a result of the recent State meeting at Washington, N. C. Before this Mrs. Perry was committee woman of the American Legion Auxiliary.

LOUISBURG CIRCUIT SERVICES

The Pastor of the Louisburg Circuit will fill his regular appointments Sunday, August 28, preaching from the following subjects: "Looking for a Place to Land," Shiloh, 11 A. M. "The Power to Carry On," Piney Grove, 3:30 P. M.

Alfalfa properly treated will provide hay and grazing for over eight years without reseeded according to the experience of Messershall Brothers of Raleigh county.

TWO COMMIT SUICIDE SUNDAY

Charlie Puryear and Mrs. Shear Put End to Troubles.

Two suicides were committed in Franklin County Sunday according to reports reaching Louisburg.

Mr. Charlie Puryear took his life by shooting himself through the chest with a shot gun. He was taken to a hospital in Henderson where he died soon after his arrival. He was 24 years of age and leaves a brother and other close relatives. The act was committed in the back yard of his brother near Alert and ill health is given as the cause.

Mrs. Shear formerly a Miss Leonard, of near Alert, took her life by shooting herself in the head with a shot gun Sunday. She leaves three children, two girls and one boy, reason for her rash act has not been ascertained.

MR. L. E. WINSTON DEAD

The remains of Mr. L. E. Winston, who died in Raleigh Tuesday, was brought back to his home in Youngsville Wednesday and were interred in the family plot at Oak Level church Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Besides his wife he leaves two children, a mother, four brothers, Maj. S. E. Winston, of Youngsville, Mr. M. E. Winston, of Rocky Mount, Mr. Jenadus Winston, of Youngsville, and Mr. Herman Winston, of Enfield, three sisters, Mrs. S. C. Holden, of Louisburg, Mrs. L. H. Ragan, Miss Gertrude Winston, of Youngsville.

He was 45 years of age and until his health failed several months ago was a most active and highly respected citizen of Youngsville. He was prominent in church, Junior Order and Masonic activities. For many years he had been the popular carrier on rural route No. 2. In his death his community has lost a valuable citizen.

His body was borne to its last resting place with the usual Masonic and Junior Order ceremonies, and the funeral was largely attended. The floral tribute was especially pretty. The bereaved family has the deepest sympathy of a multitude of friends.

WINS STATE PRIZE

Messrs. C. C. Hudson and F. A. Roth, who attended the Junior Order State meeting at Wilson this week, bring back the report that the Louisburg Council won the State prize of $10.00 for the 20th District, for the largest per cent gain in membership for the past year. This is quite a compliment to the membership of this wide-awake Council.

FRANKLIN COUNTY FAIR

To Be Held October 25th to 29th Inclusive—Big Attractions Already Secured.

Secretary Fleming advises us that the dates for the Franklin County Fair have been set and all contracts made for the best Fair ever held. The Stone Shows have been contracted for the Midway and a wonderful Fire Works display has been closed for each night of the Fair.

The merchants are taking unusual interest in the approaching Fair and they expect to put on the biggest Style Revue ever seen in North Carolina. These style shows have become popular through this section and people come from many other towns to see the new creations for which Louisburg merchants are famous.

There will be other acts of interest along with the Style Revue and a most interesting programme is promised.

The live stock show will be the best ever seen in any county and agricultural products will surpass anything yet seen at the previous fairs.

The premium list is on the press and will be ready to mail out in a short time.

Fair week is Franklin's holiday and the largest crowds that have ever attended a county fair will be here for that week.

UNCLE BILLIE HAS COMPANY

Under the shade of the spreading oaks at the old home place, of Uncle Billie, some over two hundred of the Perry family met on last Sunday to enjoy the day with him.

A long table which had been prepared for the occasion, fairly groaned under its load of good things to eat.

After all had eaten to their own satisfaction, near by was the old time well with the "Old Oaken Bucket" which afforded much pleasure for the old people and amusement for the young.

One nephew Mr. Louis Perkinson, and family motored over from Birmingham, Ala., this being their first trip to North Carolina. Others from a distance were John Perry and family, of Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. John Dement, Gupton; Mr. and Mrs. William Cheaves, Zebulon; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Roberson and family, Atlantic, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Alford and family, and Mrs. A. M. Gardner and family, Spring Hope; Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Perry and family, and Mrs. B. H. Saunders and family, Rocky Mount; Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Fulgham and family, Halifax; Mrs. J. E. Bagwell and children, Henderson; Mr. Fuller Coghill, Henderson; Mrs. Fannie Danjel, Oxford; Mr. Mellona Perkinson, Galbraith Springs, Tenn.

Just as the guests greeted Uncle Billie their eyes would fall on two of the old faithfuls Peter and Missouri enjoying the day with "Mass Billie." Late in the afternoon the guests left for their several homes, each expressing their delight at having spent another day with Uncle Billie, and looking forward to another next year.

Don't put it off, put it on, say extension agronomists in referring to the use of lime this fall.

lum Monday.
