Opening Day For Louisville Market

Three Warehouses Being Put In Readiness For Big Sales; Strong Line-Up; Full Corps of Buyers

Those interested in the operation of the Louisville tobacco market this season are making arrangements to handle big sales throughout the season. All of the warehouses have been put in ship-shape and many improvements made. A full corps of buyers representing all concerns are assured from the beginning. The opening day has been set for Tuesday, September 20th, at which time each house is expecting big sales.

Louisburg is especially fortunate this year in having possibly the strongest line-up with the warehouses it has in the history of the market. All three of the warehouses will have full management of well experienced warehousemen who know the tobacco game throughout.

The Union Warehouse will be under the management of Dorsey Nelms, R. F. Parham and Matthew Sykes, who have had many years experience on the Rocky Mount Market. They are known as among the State's best warehousemen. Dorsey Nelms is known as one of the best warehousemen in the State. They will be associated with them Mr. H. E. Hicks as bookkeeper and C. C. Johnson as floor manager. In another column we make an announcement that you should read.

The Riverside Warehouse will be operated by Messrs. L. M. West and W. W. Sutton. In these gentlemen Louisville has drawn from the Henderson and Rocky Mount markets two of its best tobacco warehousemen. Each of them know tobacco from the planted to the drying plant. They will have associated with them Mr. B. N. Williamson, who was raised up in a tobacco warehouse and has been there ever since. He is an experienced warehouseman and is well and favorably known by our tobacco growers.

Mr. F. S. Hicks, will be the auctioneer and Messrs. Willard White and Bill Alford will be their book-keeper and floor manager respectively. The Planters Warehouse will be run by three of Franklin county's old war horses in the tobacco game, Messrs. Sam Meadows, Marvin Perry and Grover Harris. These gentlemen need no introduction to those who have visited the Louisville market in the past. They have not announced the personnel of their assistants but you can be assured they will be capable and accommodating gentlemen.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

On Tuesday, August 23rd, the kind Master of the universe saw fit to call unto himself the gentle and kind spirit of Lemuel Eugene Winston. Brother Winston, loved the Jr. O. U. A. M., and was a faithful attendant until ill health made it impossible for him to heed to its regular summons. He was a good and true Christian, and for many years a faithful and honorable member of Christian church. He was a good and loving husband and father, and a valuable citizen, living in his daily life the teachings of the order. While we weep the loss of our dear brother we can console ourselves with the thought that he has entered upon that sweet journey—"From whose bourne no traveler returns."

Therefore be it resolved, by Youngsville Council No. 273, Jr. O. U. A. M.: First, That we extend to the family and relatives our heartfelt sympathy in their hour of bereavement, and pray that our Heavenly Father in His tender mercy and love may comfort them.

Second, That in the passing of Brother Winston that the Youngsville Council Number 273 has lost a most valuable member, whose absence we mourn and whose memory will ever keep fresh in our heart by the recollection of his faithfulness to his duties, and the cheerful greeting with which he always met his friends. Third, That a copy of these resolutions be entered upon the records of the Youngsville Council, a copy sent to the Franklin Times for publication and a copy sent to the family of Brother Winston. Read and adopted this Aug. 30th, 1927.

On Saturday afternoon from four to six little Misses Esther Jane Weldon and Blanche Rae Weldon celebrated their 10th and 8th birthdays respectively. The clouds were lowering and the day dismal but this didn't dampen the spirit of the little folks in the least as they played games so merrily. All eyes were bright when they marched into the dining room decorated with many fall bowers and saw the large white birthday cake which was oblong having at one side 10 pink lighted candles and 8 at the other side because of the two birthdays. Each child found her place and was served pink cherry cream in cones and white cakes. Attractive favors were given of many colored kisses. The children were then taken to the yard and served delicious watermelon. Both Esther Jane and Blanche received birthday gifts. Those present were little Misses Katherine Macon, Mary Alice and Frances Pernell, Temple Ayscue, Estelle Stokes, Bettie Fuller Ayscue and Helen Gray Kearney.

When the long table was spread it was fairly covered with good things to eat and those present report a real good time. Rev. H. E. Crutchfield was present as an honored guest. Plank, Chapel Bright Jewel Band gave a delightful program at Epsom on Friday evening. It is to be regretted that a very small audience heard the program due to it not being known very well and bad weather too.

Mr. W. P. Winn was taken home Monday from Maria Parham hospital much improved. His friends will be glad to know.

Why not build a modern poultry house to protect your flock this winter? Plans may be had free by visiting the Agricultural Building at State College.

LOUISBURG COLLEGE RE-OPENS

For 148th Session Wednesday, September 7th; Exceptionally Strong Faculty

Louisburg College will formally open her doors for the reception of students for the 148th time next Wednesday. The College had its first opening in 1779 and has been in practically continuous operation up to the present time. This is a remarkable record and probably has no equal in the South and few if any colleges in the East can boast of so long and honorable record.

The prospects for this year are exceptionally fine, both as to enrollment and as to the personnel of the faculty. At the present time every available space in the dormitory is occupied with a number of students on the waiting list. The College authorities always expect a number of cancellations at the opening, but there seems little doubt but that every available foot of space will be occupied on the opening date. The faculty is unusually strong this fall, for while a number of strong teachers will not return again this year, their places have been filled by teachers of the very highest training and skill. The former teachers who will return are: Miss Sallie P. Betts, Dean. Miss Lilly Letton, English. Miss Alma Bizzell, Mathematics. Miss Myra Yancey, Modern Languages.

Miss Elva Sheek, Art. Miss Elizabeth Maddux, Home Economics. Miss Ruth French, Piano. Mr. A. W. Mohn, Voice.

Mr. E. L. Best, Education. The former administrative and other officers who will return are: Miss Sallie P. Betts, Dean. Miss Mary Alice Ramsey, Registrar. Mrs. Johnnie Mae Woodward, Librarian.

Among the new teachers are: Miss Mary Bosworth, M. A. Columbia University, History and Education, Seattle, Wash.

Miss Blanche Banta, M. A. Columbia University, Latin, Shelbyville, Ky. Miss Harriett May Crenshaw, Piano, College of Music, Cincinnati; Chicago Musical College; Leschetitzky, Vienna and Paris; New York City.

Miss Evalent B. Terry, Violin; New England Conservatory of Music; private study, special teachers, America and Europe; Otego, N. Y. Miss Carlotta Mitchell, Expression; Greensboro College, University of Virginia, University of Chicago, Curry School of Expression, Boston; Montgomery, Ala.

Lottie V. Covington, Business; Blackstone College; Richmond Business College; Fostoria, Ohio. Mr. W. R. Willis, Washington, N. C., comes to take the position as Treasurer and Business Manager; and Mrs. Cara McMullen, Henderson, Ky., Dietitian and Matron. Miss Ethel Sugg returns as College Nurse and Dr. S. P. Burt as College Physician.

President A. W. Mohn, whose resignation was accepted by the board of trustees a month or so ago and whose leaving occasioned so much anxiety on the part of the people of Franklin County and elsewhere, will remain as President of the College, having been given a six months leave of absence by the board of trustees. This action will allow President Mohn to fulfill his contract with the Presbyterian University in Tennessee, after which time he resumes active work as President, and will carry on the development program of the College, looking to the raising of $1,000,000 for buildings and endowment, which program was unanimously adopted by the board of trustees at a recent meeting. All differences of policy between President Mohn and several members of the board of trustees, have, we understand, been settled and the College, we believe, will now go forward with brighter prospects than ever in its history. When the present plans for the College have been carried out Louisville College will have capacity for between 450 and 500 boarding students and an endowment of half million dollars, sufficient to properly maintain the College on a high plane and meet all the requirements of the various state and national accrediting agencies. Five new buildings are a part of the building program.

During President Mohn's absence the faculty with Prof. E. L. Best as chairman will be in charge. We wish for Louisville College the best year in its history and pledge our cooperation to help make it so. The people of Franklin County are more interested in Louisville College today than ever before and as one of the evidences of this have pledged themselves to complete the Franklin County building this winter. We recognize that Louisville College is the county's greatest asset and our effort will be put forth to help in its great work.

FRANKLIN COUNTY SUPERIOR COURT

Judge C. C. Lyon Presiding; Civil Term Only; No Cases of Public Importance

Franklin Superior Court was convened Monday morning by Judge C. C. Lyon, of Elizabethtown, who is presiding in the absence of Judge N. A. Sinclair who is regularly scheduled for the fall term of courts in this county.

This is a two weeks civil term of court and no cases of public importance are on the docket which is rather small as compared with former dockets.

As is usually the case in the trial of the civil docket court is slow and dry, but Judge Lyon has endeared himself with our people by his frank and impartial manner in conducting the sessions of his court. He is a most able jurist and has a pleasant manner in rendering his rulings.

It is reported that Judge Sinclair will be present next week to relieve Judge Lyon.

MOHN TO DIRECT EXPANSION DRIVE

Louisburg College Trustees Reconstituted and President Comes Back

The board of trustees of Louisville College, meeting in Raleigh Saturday, unanimously endorsed the million-dollar expansion program proposed by President A. W. Mohn and granted Mr. Mohn a six-month leave of absence after which he will return to the presidency, which he resigned last spring.

The leave of absence as granted Mr. Mohn in order that he may fulfill a contract with a Presbyterian Corporation in Western Tennessee to conduct a campaign for funds. During the six months President Mohn said he intended to devote part of his time to duties at Louisville College and the remainder to fulfilling his contract in Tennessee. Prof. E. L. Best, of the college faculty, will act as chairman of the faculty during President Mohn's absence.

The trustees also elected W. R. Willis, of Washington, N. C., as treasurer and business manager of the college.

Following the meeting, members of the board and President Mohn expressed confidence that the Methodist Conference would endorse the million-dollar expansion movement and that all friends of the college would get behind the drive.

Of the additional funds, it is planned to put $400,000 aside as endowment and the remaining $600,000 is to be used to pay off bonded indebtedness incurred in making old buildings up to date and replacing obsolete equipment and to erect and equip five new buildings.

This, according to the president, will give the college a capacity of between 450 and 500 boarding students, and so equip it that it may rank as one of the best equipped women's colleges in the State and in the South.

President Mohn was re-elected at the meeting of the board of trustees in May, but resigned because he said he was not getting proper cooperation from the board, which appeared inclined to regard his program as too ambitious.

His resignation was accepted but upon the request of Louisville citizens the board reconsidered and gave Mr. Mohn ten days to reconsider and make arrangements for getting released from his Tennessee contract. The board then refused to reconsider a leave of absence or a part time arrangement, which it finally agreed to Saturday.

The pastor did the preaching. All who heard him said he did some of the best preaching they ever heard. We feel very proud of our new pastor. He is an excellent speaker, so come to hear him.
