Has Flags Used in Centennial Parade

Mr. J. H. Wilder, of near Franklin, was in the TIMES office Wednesday and speaking of the coming celebration of the sesqui centennial said he has the flags he used in the parade in 1879. Mr. Wilder stated that on that occasion there were ninety mounted riders carrying United States flags about one and a half by two feet upon which was printed the name of a county in North Carolina, the number representing each of the ninety counties in the State at that time. All so miniature flags were placed in the brides of the horses. Mr. Wilder represented Caswell county and has the flags he used in good shape and expects to use them on the fourth of July in the celebration of the sesqui centennial.

"J. T." says: Pave your road with smiles and sunshine. Make happy those you meet, otherwise make a date with the grave-diggers to come and "git" you—that you are a "dead one"—J. T. Howard.

Upon petition from the Civic Committee of the Louisburg Chamber of Commerce, the Town Commissioners have set aside a Clean-Up Week to begin April 15th and to last through April 20th.

During this week it is hoped that the residents of Louisburg will co-operate with the authorities in thoroughly cleaning their premises and plunder rooms. By doing away with unsightly accumulations of trash, empty cans, old magazines, etc., one can eliminate fire hazards and mosquitoes, and at the same time beautify ones homes and grounds. Nothing is more attractive to the visitor than a clean, sanitary, pretty town. The town authorities will be glad to haul the trash away. It is hoped that every resident will clean up his premises thoroughly during Clean-Up Week.

Louisburg Chamber of Commerce Goes Over The Top in Membership Drive

Under the lash of General S. P. Burt the second loaves composing the Membership Committee of the Louisburg Chamber of Commerce have broken all records in obtaining members for the year 1929. The following second lieutenants are the only ones known who actually accomplished a drive without passing the buck: Sam Boddie, Bingo White, Morris Murphy, David Harris and Jake Friedlander. Sam Boddie secured more members than any other member of the committee, and won the handsome prize (a cussing out for not getting more), that was ordered by General Burt.

The large membership indicates a spirit of wide awake progressiveness upon the part of the business men and women of Louisburg, and it is hoped that every man and woman in town, who is interested in the Chamber of Commerce and in building a better town will hurry up and join up at the Boddie Drug Co. The gates stay wide open, and the membership campaign never ceases. It is also hoped that all the members will attend the meetings and help President Fisher Beasley to run the outfit, as he welcomes the ideas and suggestions of any one in Louisburg.

Easter Services at Louisburg Baptist Church

The Easter services were well attended and brought inspiration and encouragement to every one. At the morning worship Rev. A. W. Fleischmann preached on the subject: "The Easter Side of Christian Experience." The message was based on the text John 12:24. In discussing the basic principle of Victorious Christian Life, namely that of sacrifice, Mr. Fleischmann pointed out how the principle was the impelling motive in the life of Jesus, and was fully illustrated at his baptism, at the transfiguration, and on the occasion of the visit of certain Greeks to see him during the passion week. A plea was made to adopt this sacrificial principle in our own lives.

At the evening hour of worship an exposition of the book of Leviticus was presented in the subject: "Christ within the Shadows." The attention of the audience was drawn to two important teachings in the book. First, "the way to God through sacrifice" and second, "the walk with God in Christian growth."
