burg, N. C., as second class matter.

Rocky Mount seems to be having quite a heated stir between the ministers, aldermen, Judge and public over the operation of a swimming pool on Sunday. We didn't know churches ever objected to cleanliness.

A movement is being launched to work the grave of Aunt Abbie House, whose ministrations to the Confederate Soldiers fully entitles her to be designated as an Angel of Mercy. The entire South will no doubt be delighted to have an opportunity of taking part in this great privilege of bestowing a recognition of honor.

One of Louisburgs leading merchants informed the Times this week that it isn't the fault of the merchants that more of the Louisburg bread is not sold in town. He says the merchants have to carry what their customers want and their customers don't want the local bread. He puts the responsibility right square up to the housewives or the ones who buy for the home. It now looks like it is time for the housewives to demand Louisburg bread.

Governor Gardner is to be congratulated upon his insistence that the State Convicts be given work on the State Highways. In fact the entire construction and maintenance of the State Highway system should be done by the Convicts under competent supervision. And misdemeanor camps should be established in the State System and all county roads should be taken over. If this system were used within twenty-five years, no doubt every road in the State could be paved with no increase in the present cost.

George W. Wickersham, Chairman of President Hoover's Law Enforcement Commission in a letter to the conference of Governors the past week speaking of prohibition suggested that the National and State governments cooperate in enforcing prohibition by the National government handling the smuggling, shipping and wholesale manufacture, while the States handle the bootlegging and other infractions, and that the Volstead law be so modified that it can reasonably be enforced. Just what he meant is not clear as it is receiving quite a lot of discussion, however, we feel that most any change would help present conditions.

A QUESTION WITH TWO SIDES

A citizen, who read the article in the Franklin Times last week and the editorial concerning the Bakery and buying at home took exceptions at the statements made and, representing himself as a buyer, stated that many things can be bought away from Louisburg at a great deal cheaper than they can here, and that he felt it the duty of the purchaser to save where ever he can in these times of tight finance. He stated that he knew of cases where medicine was charged for at $1.40 per ounce that could be bought for 50 cents, bread for seven cents instead of eight or nine, clothing for $12 to $20 instead of $20 to $40, beef for 25 to 30 cents instead of 35 to 45 cents, groceries 15 per cent cheaper and printing 10 to 20 per cent less, than in Louisburg. Speaking further he referred to merchants and business men trading away from home taking the position that if it is profitable to them it is also profitable to him.

There is a great deal of truth in the argument he advanced, and the conditions need some real adjustment all along the line.

However this citizen fails to see the conditions that would exist if every body followed his example and did all their trading in the big cities. They would have no drug stores to render aid in an emergency no grocery or clothing stores to come to their aid when they had no time to go or send to the city, the outside bakers would raise the price of bread, they would have no newspapers to carry complimentary accounts of the marriages or deaths of their loved ones, local news or to produce a rush job of printing. The taxing value of the county property would be cut more than half in two, more than doubling the taxes that the local markets for produce would be no more, and the churches and schools would become extinct because of no source of maintenance.

There is an advantage lots of times in paying more for things at home. It helps to build up your home, and what helps to build up your home helps to build up your business, whether a business man or laborer. It reduces taxes and provides luxuries and conveniences. The man or woman who spends a dollar out of town because they think they are saving a few cents are badly mistaken. They may save a little on the particular item, direct. But indirectly they will lose twice or three times what they appear to have saved. Every dollar spent for merchandise in the community would be less than half what they are today. Our churches and schools would be more prosperous, and every individual in the county would enjoy a prosperity greater than has ever been seen before.

 Lets try trading at home for one year and see the difference.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Dear Editor: Since I have seen so many delinquent tax payers advertised in our county paper I wish to have just a few words.

I wish to be well understood in the beginning. I have the highest esteem for all of our officers from township Constable to Governor of our state because I helped to put all of them in office.

Just a few weeks ago there were advertised two pages in our county paper of land for county taxes. Last week there were about the same delinquents advertised. I wish to know who is to blame for all of this?

If it is necessary for some to pay taxes it is necessary for all. If it is not compulsory for all to pay taxes it is not for some.

The delinquent occupies just as much space on the highway as any of us and in some cases more space. He occupies just as many desks in our school rooms, and he is entitled to them. But please for God's sake let all of us who are eligible of paying taxes be fed just alike.

I see in the last meeting of our Commissioners that they had to borrow money to meet their obligations until new taxes could be collected. Who is to pay the interest on these loans? We faithful taxpayers who go up and pay our taxes and only say they are so high I don't see how we can pay them. Yes they are high and will be so long as we have to pay for the man who does not pay at all.

I just wish to know is there some remedy for this? If so I wish to see it put into effect and I believe there are other tax payers who would like to see the same.

J. D. NEWMAN

(Mr. Newman is in error in his statement that about two pages of land was advertised for taxes. There was only a small number over one page.)

SANDY CREEK ITEMS

Farmers around here are quite busy preparing, and filling barns.

A right good crowd was at preaching, at Mt. Gilead Sunday, but we want more to come. So come all of you next first Sunday at eleven o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gupton, Miss Lucy A. Styles, and Mrs. Ida M. Byron of Norfolk motored to Spring Hope last Wednesday.

Mrs. John Hinderlite who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. L. Joyner, has returned to her home in Petersburg.

Mrs. Ida M. Byron and Mr. Bob Perry, of Norfolk, Va., who have been visiting Mrs. D. E. Griffin, have returned home.

We are very glad to hear one of our leading merchants Mr. C. G. Cash who has been sick, is much better.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Joyner, and Mrs. W. H. Medlin went to Petersburg the 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Burnette called on Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gupton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Joyner were pleasant callers at Mr. D. E. Griffin's Sunday.

Mr. S. C. Joyner, of Gupton's was the week-end guest of Mrs. D. E. Griffin.

Mrs. R. P. Griffin and little daughter, Maxine, of Nashville are visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Strickland called on Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Joyner Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kennedy visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hight, Sunday.

Miss Bernice Fable of Petersburg, is the house guest of Mrs. J. L. Joyner.

If you want to attend a wide awake Sunday School go to Sandy Creek.

Little Adele Cash has been right sick with Whooping Cough. We hope she is lots better.

If this escapes the "waste-basket," we'll call again soon.

"JUST US"

RUNNING A COUNTRY NEWS-PAPER.

There is an idea prevalent among many people that running a country newspaper is a "soft snap," a job requiring very little ability that anybody with half sense, can do and loaf half the time. The following clipping from a current issue of one of the trade papers is a fine argument against this idea.

"Running a country newspaper is a business and a profession; a science and a calling. Its successful operation requires no less exacting application of correct business practice than does the operation of the bank in the same town. But that alone is not enough. It must combine ideals with industry, soul with mind. It must analyze the financial, cultural, and moral needs of its people, and work intelligently and tirelessly for their welfare. At the same time it must above all be a faithful mirror of the daily life of its people. It must give the news of its community honestly, sympathetically and interestingly. To do this requires more than high order of ability. It requires a love for the work—a 'calling.' In probably half the towns and cities of the state the editor of the leading paper could operate successfully the biggest business of the town. Often the man who heads that business would be a flop as an editor. For mere business ability is not of sufficient avail unless one has heard the call to serve as well as to gain. With a newspaper of this character, a community is fortunate. Without, it is dead."

FUNERAL HELD FOR

MRS. H. L. ROWLAND

Well Known Lady Passes Away Saturday After Lingering Illness.

On Saturday evening, June 29, the gentle, loving, lovable spirit of Mrs. Geneva Hight Rowland, faithful loyal and devoted wife of Hubert L. Rowland, slipped away from its moorings at the home place where she had lived happily these forty-nine years, since coming as a young bride in 1880.

Another year and she could have observed her golden wedding anniversary and it is more than remarkable that of the eleven children who blessed this congenial union nine could have attended such a golden occasion. She leaves to mourn her going and to honor her memory her husband, H. L. Rowland, and the following children: John Paul Rowland, Bernice L. Rowland, Joseph Samuel Rowland, William Albert Rowland, Mrs. Allen Harris, Miss Fannie Rowland, Mrs. J. E. Ellington, Mrs. Festus Fuller, and Mrs. L. W. Huff, Jr.

She was twenty-one years old when she married her husband, and she lived with him for the remainder of her life. She was a devoted wife and mother, and a true friend to all who knew her. She was a member of the Plank Chapel Church, and she was a member of the Plank Chapel Church of which she has been a member since early childhood amounting well nigh to worship. She supported loyalty, enthusiastically, energetically every movement in which her "little church in the wilderness" had a part. She will be sorely missed, but her spirit will make those left carry on with renewed zeal to in a measure, make up for the break in the ranks. It is a significant fact and one in which should her husband justly take pride that every member of this family has followed and is following in their footsteps as out and out Christians and women. No other monument could be so fitting: "Their Walks do follow them."

The funeral services were marked by a beautiful simplicity in accord with the way of her life. As the casket was tenderly borne from the home, the choir of Plank Chapel, led by Mrs. P. C. Smith, organist, sang "Jesus Lover of My Soul," while the honorary pallbearers carried the many beautiful floral tributes from the room. The pastor of Plank Chapel Methodist church, Rev. K. F. Duval, assisted by Rev. G. W. Starling, of Durham, Mrs. Rowland's pastor from 1909 to 1912, and Rev. Daniel Lane of Louisburg, conducted the services in the church. Rev. Mr. Starling paid loving tribute to this mother in Israel, whose home always had "the prophetic chamber" ready. The favorite hymns were sung during the service "How Firm a Foundation," "Lead Kindly Light," "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," were sung in the church and as the service concluded at the grave the choir sang "Abide With Me," "Sweet Bye and Bye," and "Christian's Good Night."

Just at the sunset hour as the sweet strains of the latter floated out in the air, her body was laid to rest by the side of her two infant children, and the throng of relatives and friends turned softly away, the benediction of peace, sweet peace and gift of God's love resting upon all.

The active and honorary pallbearers were as follows:

The following relatives and friends attended the funeral of Mrs. H. L. Rowland, who was buried at Plank Chapel church on Sunday afternoon:

Mrs. Hester Rowland and family, of Warehous, S. C., Mrs. Randolph Montgomery, Washington, D. C., Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Starling and Miss Mary Lee Starling, of Durham, Rev. Daniel Lane, of Louisburg, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Britt, and son, of Greensboro, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Young, Durham, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Broadwell and family, Apex, Mr. and Mrs. Sykes, Mr. and Mrs. Harper, of Cedar Rock, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Williamson, Mrs. F. W. Wheelless, Miss Lucy and Hallie Davis, W. F. Davis, Mrs. W. L. Beasley, Mrs. F. J. Beasley, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Fuller, Mrs. R. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Hill, Mrs. Dickerson, all of Louisburg, Mr. W. H. M. Jenkinson, Franklin, and from members of the Philathe-listic church of which Mr. H. L. Rowland is a member; Mr. A. G.

kings, Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Young and family, Mrs. O. O. Young, Misses Mary and Eleanor Young, Allie Young; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moss, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ayscue.—Reported.

IN MEMORY OF ROBERT

LEE HICKS (1859-1929)

In the recent passing of Robert Lee Hicks, Franklin County sustains the loss of a good citizen. He was loved by all who knew him and will be long remembered by his many friends.

He lived a simple life and was kind and helpful to all around him. He showed his faith in God and the Bible and the church by his regular attendance at church. His cheerful and smiling face will be remembered by all who came in contact with him. He was a very quiet and peaceful man. He did not mix in the affairs of others, unless he could be of help and was needed. God called him in his sleep and took him to the land of Peace, where he awaits his loved ones. Let us all live a pure life so that we may meet our departed friends and relatives in the world to come.

A GREAT-NEICE

A scientist says that no sound has ever been lost and that it may eventually be taken from the air. That's bad news for the man with a scolding wife.

It has been little more than fifty years since the first telephone conversation was held, the first successful test having taken place March 10, 1876. Today telephone conversations are being held between people on the North American and European continents.

Large numbers of carrier pigeons are kept in England, Belgium, France and other European countries. There are numerous pigeon clubs which hold pigeon races. Carrier pigeons have been known to travel as fast as 180 miles in four and one-half hours.

The natural color of the lobster is green, that being the color of the rocks around which he lives on the bottom of the ocean. When boiled he turns red, which is due to a certain chemical substance contained in the shell.

The first submarine was built three hundred years ago, during the reign of James I of England. It was a crude affair, to be moved by cars, and of no value other than a curiosity.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation; then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases, which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy two tablespoonfuls in a glass of water before breakfast and continue for a week. While relief often follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Lee's Laxative and Cathartic Compound is inexpensive, and is made from the purest Drugs that money can buy. This harmless preparation is used by thousands of stomach sufferers with excellent results. For sale by Scoggin's New Drug Store, Nash Street, Louisburg, N. C.

land left by J. F. Bowden and wife, P. J. Bowden, Book of Wills "V," page 36, in Franklin County, North Carolina. (See record of accounts, Book no. 6, page 233, J. C. and H. C. Bowden, Executors.)

This being a part of the property described in the above deed of trust, said property being located in Franklin County.
