

CIRCULATION CAMPAIGN WITH $1,500 IN PRIZES GETS STARTED WELL

Several Entrants With More Looked For During The Week

Announcement that The Franklin Times Will Give Away Free in a Few Weeks $1,500 In Autos, Cash Prizes, and Cash Commissions For a Few Weeks Spare Time Work Getting Subscriptions, Brings Ready Response from Ambitious People.

Announcement is last week's issue of the Franklin Times of the great subscription and prize campaign that carries with it $1500.00 in prizes and cash commissions was greeted with a ready response on the part of the waiting public. Several names have already been enrolled in the campaign for more readers, and names of other folks in the County have been suggested to the campaign office by various friends.

Quite a number of the 200-free vote coupons have already been clipped from the paper by the candidates and their friends, and sent in to the campaign office for the drive located in The Franklin Times building, Court Street, Louisburg, telephone 282. These coupons, good for their face value in votes, may be clipped free from each issue of the paper and placed to anyone's credit toward one of the five prizes which will be awarded on the night of December 7th, just five weeks from tomorrow night. Other votes that will determine the winners of the new Ford Sedan valued at $625 and the new Ford Sport Roadster valued at $575, are earned on paid subscriptions to The Franklin Times. New and old subscribers count alike in votes toward these two cars and the three cash prizes of $100, $50, and $25.

In order that none will lose anything by taking an active part in the campaign, the paper has arranged to pay to all who take an active part in the subscription drive and whose work in securing new and renewed subscriptions to The Franklin Times is not quite enough to win them a prize, a cash commission of ten per cent on every dollar of subscriber money turned in during the campaign will be paid. This provision makes it possible for all taking active part to be rewarded in accordance with the effort put forth. If they work hard they will get one of the five prizes—if they do but little they receive a cash commission based on the effort alone and the results obtained thereby.

While quite some few have sent in their own names and others have been nominated by the public in general, there has been little or no active work done so far as the office knows at this writing, other than two or three small cash reports checked in. Many of those nominated have received letters of notification from the campaign office with subscription receipt books enclosed. Evidently their friends who have nominated them believe that they have the qualifications for success and stand ready to help them in their campaign. Perhaps some of the nominees have gone to work to win and before the week is out will report in with enough new and old subscriptions to put their names on the top of the list which will be published next week.

It was the intention to publish today the names of those who have entered to date and make special mention of those who had made a subscription report up to last Wednesday morning, but as it takes a couple of weeks for a campaign to get under way there was hardly any response this week.

Next week the first list of contestants with their addresses will appear. Some might decide to publish what votes they have earned up to that time while others will hold theirs back for a later publication. In regard to this we wish to repeat that candidates run their own individual campaigns, and keep track and hold their own votes to publish in the paper as they see fit. Each subscription report will earn a given number of votes as shown by the schedule printed in the page announcement that appears today.

In order to help those who have already entered or have been entered by others, or will enter this week there is a special coupon printed today good until a week from tomorrow night, or Saturday night, November ninth. The campaign will remain open till eight o'clock on that night. Those candidates who are determined to take advantage of all possible votes offered will make good use of this coupon, and it will give them a fine start in votes besides the regular votes on subscriptions.

Do not neglect the free 200 votes that appear each week. Have your friends save them for you and send them into the campaign office. They all count toward your total. Those who are interested in making their spare time between now and December seventh pay them big dividends are urged to clip out the Entry Coupon printed today on another page and lose no time in sending it in to the campaign office. Others who wish to know more about this free offer that is open to all ambitious persons, married or single, can send in the information coupon for further details. Prompt attention will be given to all inquiries. Everything is free including stationery to write to those now taking the paper and others living outside the town and county who are good prospects for subscriptions.

BARACA-PHILATHEA CONVENTION

The Franklin County Baraca-Philathea Convention will meet at old Sandy Creek Baptist Church the first Sunday in November, the program beginning at ten o'clock A. M. We truly feel and trust that this meeting will bring great results in our Sunday School work. The supreme challenge that comes to the youth today is the same challenge that has faced him through the ages—that challenge for service. In my mind there is no greater place for service in all the world than in the Sunday School, for here we are coming in contact with all classes and all ages. Some of the world's greatest men have credited the Sunday School for their early inspirations in life, and truly many a man has found his life's calling in the Sunday School.

We trust that the various churches will not be negligent in the selection of their delegates and the arrangement of their reports, but when the roll is called let each church be represented with its report. The program for the day is unusual; we expect to have present some of our Wake Forest talent both in oratory and in music. Not only that, but two outstanding addresses will be delivered by Mr. Hill Yarborough, of Louisburg, and Rev. Charles Gillespie of Creedmoor. Let us strive to make this the greatest day in the history of our Convention. The program is as follows: 10:00 O'clock A. M. Song Service—Audience. Welcome—Bryant Leonard. Selection—Sandy Creek Quartet. Devotional—M. V. Parrish, Wake Forest. Selection—Wake Forest Quartet. Business: Appointment of judges and committees. Roll call and report of classes. Address—Hill Yarborough, Louisburg. Selection—White Level Quartet. 12:30 P. M.—Lunch.

EDWARD BEST COMMUNITY FAIR

Gets Commendation of Large Numbers—Exhibits Fine and School Stunts Pleasing—Dr. Browne Makes Splendid Address

Prof. T. E. Brown, State Director of Vocational Education for North Carolina, addressed the citizens of Cedar Rock-Cypress Creek Township at their second annual Community Fair, held at Edward Best High School, Friday, October 25, his subject being, "The Community Fair as an Institution." In elaborating upon his subject, Mr. Brown effectively contrasted the old individualistic mode of living, especially among the people in rural communities, to the modern cooperative way of living. And he said, that the community fair is one of the most important institutions serving to bring about this change in living conditions. It gives people a chance to compete one with another to see who can produce the best products, thus imbuing the winner with a feeling of having succeeded in accomplishing something worth while, and imbuing those, not so fortunate, with a feeling of eager determination to do better next time. Sup. E. L. Best spoke to the crowd for a few minutes expressing his delight at seeing so many eager-looking bright-eyed young people in the audience, who, he said, have so much influence upon the life of any community. Mr. Best explained the advantage of having a community fair, saying that we should insist upon knowing why we didn't win if we didn't, so we would have something to work toward for the next year.

Mrs. T. H. Dickens, President of the Edward Best Community Fair, introduced the speaker, meanwhile offering a suggestion which is expected will be put into effect as part of the plans for the fair to be held in 1930; namely, that there be some provision made for exhibits for the little folks, such as pets, etc. Supervising Principal T. H. Sledge, presided over this program held at 10 o'clock in the morning. Following this program, the time was spent in viewing the exhibits from the four elementary schools in the District, exhibits put on by home Economics girls and vocational students, and exhibits of canned goods, fancy work, old relics, and farm products from the various communities in the district. All of the exhibits were good, reflecting much credit upon those displaying them. After dinner, the four elementary schools each put on a stunt in the auditorium. These were very entertaining and much enjoyed. Hickory Rock-White Level won first place in the stunts, and Justice second. They also won first and second place respectively in their booths.

The judges for the school booths were: Mesdames A. W. Person, Ben. T. Holden, and R. F. Yarborough, of Louisburg; those for the fancy work and canned goods were, Mrs. Effie Vines Gordon, Home Agent of Nash County, and Mrs. ———, Dozier, former Home Agent of Nash County. The judges of the exhibits, etc., reported as follows on the basis of 100 points:

School	Ex.	Par.	Stunt	Att.	Total
H. R.-W. L.	60	13	15	7	95
Jus.	55	10	13	9	87
S. Pths.	60	15	11	9	95
C. Rk.	45	10	11	8	73

Some of the special features of the fair week, the poultry swine exhibits, baseball games played by the High School boys and girls, and a parade which included about 500 pupils. White Level-Hickory Rock School made the greatest number of points, thus winning the banner for the year 1929-30.

TOBACCO AGAIN SELLING HIGH

On Louisburg Tobacco Market with Much Better Satisfaction

"I don't see how anyone can kick on the prices paid for tobacco on the Louisburg Market today," said a farmer to the editor of the TIMES yesterday, and explained that he was here observing, to see where to take his tobacco he had already for market. He agreed that prices paid here yesterday for all grades were as high as had been paid for like tobacco this year, and gave assurance that he was going to sell on the Louisburg market.

This was an assurance to the TIMES that prices had really advanced. Reasonably good sales have been made at all warehouses in Louisburg the past week in spite of the bad weather and a good demand is in evidence.

Growers coming to Louisburg are assured of good prices, good accommodations and the Louisburg Welcome which makes you know and feel at home here where friends meet and splendid business opportunities are offered you.

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS

As you are already aware the Franklin Times is putting on another Subscription Contest. It has been five years since our last and fifteen years since the one before. It has been a great pleasure to us to have your name on our list and in many cases carry your subscription over the many dull years. The object of these contests, of course, as you are fully aware, is to collect all the arrears and to get subscriptions paid in advance. It is true this is a tight year financially, but it takes money to print and mail a newspaper and we are compelled to make collections at times. Therefore we hope all our subscribers will be as eager and enthusiastic in rallying to our relief as we have been to serve you, and not only pay up what you might owe, but a year or two in advance. In doing this you will have an opportunity to help make some lady or gentleman happy by winning a prize that will be valuable. Assuring you of my confidence in your appreciations. A. F. JOHNSON, Editor.

Franklin County Fair Draws Big Crowds

AGRICULTURAL EXHIBITS BEST IN HISTORY OF ASSOCIATION

Live Stock Exhibits Show Much Progress in County—Other Exhibits of High Order And Admired—School Parade Hampered By Rain But Makes Good Showing—Big Midway and Splendid Fireworks—Balloon Ascensions Attracting Much Attention

With the biggest, best and most attractively arranged exhibit of farm products, a big midway and many concessions Franklin County Fair got underway Tuesday with a good crowd in attendance. Among the many special attractions this season are the balloon ascension and fireworks daily, with the added thrills of the concessions, shows and rides.

Wednesday was school day and in spite of the rain a large number of children were present and a parade headed by the Moose brass band of Raleigh and followed by the Boy Scouts and Battery "B" a parade six city blocks long was given from the intersection of Church and Nash Streets to Main then up Main to College thence to the Fair Grounds. The weather being so very unfavorable in the morning only a small portion of the children arrived in time to enter the parade but came later and swelled the number attending to probably five or six thousands.

Thursday was designated as cattle day and observed with a big parade and a balloon ascension and was largely attended. The cattle and hogs this year being of an especially high order and shows a big improvement over former years, indicating a healthy interest in improved live stock in Franklin County.

The Franklin County Fair is primarily an agricultural fair. This year the agricultural exhibits greatly exceeded and excelled anything before in the history of the association. The splendid condition of the exhibits, their selection and arrangement were especially attractive and pleasing. While all the exhibits were fine and deserve special credit, the outstanding one was the combined exhibit of the Vocational Departments of Edward Best, Gold Sand and Bunn High Schools, in which the boys work and the girls work were displayed in small booths jointly. These displays represented the projects of the boys and girls in their school work and were especially creditable. In the Edward Best exhibits the following boys and girls took part: Ruby May and Willis Collier; Mildred Bobbitt and Clarence Vick; Mary Johnson and Russell Bunn; Nell Stallings and Brad Strickland; Elaine Sykes and J. C. Bunn; Christine Bowden and Jasper Wester; Placid Hayes and Newell Smith. In the Gold Sand were Maude Pernell and Thuyman Griffin; Ruth Evans and Perry Conn; Effie Lee Cole and Astor Parrish; Pattie Ruth Moore and Maurice Wester; Irma Gupton and Eddie Joyner. Bunn only had three boys entering Bruce White, Linwood Mullen and Earle Richardson. The display was unique. It was novel. The only time one of its kind having been presented in the State, according to State officials who have seen about all the fairs.

The next in importance was the splendid complete farm exhibits presented by H. F. Mitchell and Sons, P. R. Inscoc, and J. D. Newman and Son. These exhibits gave a clear idea of what can be done on a farm in Franklin County and with such farming the variations in prices of raw material matters little. The latter was awarded first prize.

The egg exhibit put on by the Cedar Rock-Cypress Creek Poultry Association was interesting and instructive as was also the joint exhibit of the four Vocational Departments in the County. Leaving the agricultural exhibits one's fancy was attracted by the excellence and fine taste of the school exhibits, which gave evidence of the fine work being done in the schools in the County. By these features children are being taught the practical education as well as the technical. Each exhibit gave evidence of individuality and much work, care and skill. Youngville High was awarded first prize, and Epsom second prize.

Those seeking beauty were satisfied when they reached the flower booth. This display was lovely. It was more than pretty. The perfect arrangement gave a most wonderful color scheme that demanded admiration.

The pantry supplies and Home Economics departments made one's mouth water and were more than fine. But why try to describe when it takes a visit to appreciate it—or better still a banquet.

The paintings, fine arts and needle works departments were splendid but Si Dowe our special correspondent has told you about these. We admired them as did all the others who passed.

The exhibit of the Colored schools was especially creditable. To those who have noticed this booth from year to year, were especially well pleased at the great advancement made by the Colored teachers and pupils. The work in all branches was very creditable. The schools participating were Louisburg Graded School, Mission School, Cross Roads School, Walnut Grove School and Eagle Rock School.

Owing to so few children in line the judges failed to award prizes for the schools in parade.

The big midway is proving especially popular and many are enjoying the many games, plays and rides, as well as fortunes.

Tomorrow will be turned over to the Colored population and it is predicted a record breaking crowd will be in attendance.

As a whole this is the most successful fair of the Association and Dr. A. H. Fleming, Secretary is to be commended for the great efforts he has put forth to bring to the attention of our people the Agricultural possibilities and progress of the County.

CULPEPPER REUNION

On Sunday, October 20, 1929 at the old home of Madison and Catherine Culpepper, near Spring Hope, was a beautiful scene when the children, grand and great-grand children met to give honor to their memory. There were about one hundred and seventy-five present, consisting of four generations.

At ten o'clock they began to arrive, the old people taking their seats on the porch talking of by-gone days, while the young ones amused themselves as they liked. There was a big table arranged in the large cedar grove which was beautifully decorated with dahlias and roses. Near one o'clock the table was spread with barbecue, chicken, cakes, custards, pickles and lemonade. Prayer was offered by Bunney Joyner. Every one enjoyed their dinner and especially the barbecue.

Immediately after the table was cleared Mr. and Mrs. Culpepper's children who were: W. H. Culpepper of Cedar Rock, Mrs. Genora Batchelor of Nashville, Mrs. Puss Gay of Spring Hope and Mrs. R. B. Harris of Justice carried flowers to the graves.

About four o'clock the crowd began to leave, everyone saying how pleasantly they had spent this reunion day.

A Great Grand-child.
