

FIRST LIST OF CANDIDATES TODAY IN FRANKLIN TIMES $1,500 CONTEST

Ideal Time Now To Start Actively Only Four More Weeks To Win Prizes

Late Entrants May Push First Contenders Out of Race unless Active Start is Made. Contenders From Out of Town Have Not as Yet Started to Reap Harvest of Double Votes. Ambitious Leaders Needed From Many Towns That Should Produce Winners. Special Vote Offer is Opportunity to Take and Hold The Lead. Enter and Start Campaign Now While Votes Are Highest

The Franklin Times $1500.00 Subscription and Prize Campaign has met with a ready response from ambitious spare time workers in Louisburg and surrounding towns of the County. Names of prospective workers that have been received at the Campaign office up to last Wednesday are listed in the page announcement today. Just how many of these names will be on the list four weeks from today, the day before the campaign ends? How many will have the courage to remain in the race till the finish? How many will drop out to be replaced by more ambitious contenders? Time will tell. This campaign certainly is no place for folks who have not the patience and persistence to go through this earlier stage of the campaign. The first few weeks are the hardest part of the campaign. Mostly promises are given now to candidates, for the public no doubt may wait to see who will stay in the race. Those who persevere will reap the harvest of promises given earlier in the campaign to those who drop out.

Assuming that a candidate asks for subscriptions and a number of the folks asked say they have promised another candidate. Who knows whether this first candidate will remain in the race? No one, at this early stage of the campaign. Suppose that first candidate does remain in the race, and returns to obtain the subscription. There is nothing to prevent the second candidate obtaining another from the same subscriber. That is going to happen many times for those candidates who remain in the race till the finish. There is no secret for success in this campaign. Just plain, everyday grit and determination plus confidence and energy will bring you in a winner.

The out of town folks seem not to have awakened to their opportunity through the double vote offer for subscriptions. This provision of the campaign was planned especially for their benefit to offset the supposed advantage of the Louisburg entrants. However, the whole county is virgin territory for an enterprising candidate whether listed from Louisburg or any other town in the County. There are thousands of subscriptions waiting for ambitious candidates regardless of the towns they live in.

The campaign manager has talked with many residents in the surrounding town whose first question was: "who is the local candidate?" This eager interest is positive proof that local candidates from surrounding towns, if they will but show an active interest in their own individual campaigns are assured of concerted support of the people in the towns in which they reside.

Among the towns that are as yet not represented by candidates, and where the support is waiting them, are Mapleville, Zebulon, New Hope, Seven Paths, Alert, Ingleside, and Kearney. The other towns in the County are represented by candidates in today's first list of nominees, but is not known at this writing whether those nominated will remain or be come in active candidates or not. At this writing there have only been a few subscriptions reported. Arouse yourselves, nominees from the surrounding towns—active support, practical support is there if you will ask for it. You must take the lead—for you are the local representative. The campaign is still in its infancy and there is plenty of room for new entrants. Any reader who desires to try for one of the five prizes, or who has faith in the ability of a friend to win a prize, is urged to clip the coupon printed in the full page announcement today and send it in to the campaign office of The Franklin Times. Here is a good opportunity for those candidates who wish to make a good start. In last week's announcement there was a special coupon published calling for 20,000 extra votes for three, two year subscriptions. This offer is good until tomorrow night. Out of town candidates mail in their report and if received at the campaign office Monday will be credited with the extra votes. So far this offer seems to have gone unnoticed, and it therefore is a good opportunity for a wide-awake entrant to get the jump on the other candidates and take the lead.

Only Minor Cases In Recorders Court

Only cases of minor importance were before Judge Palmer in Franklin Recorders Court Monday, and the disposition was made in short time. The docket as disposed of was as follows:

J. D. Wester plead guilty to a bad check charge and judgement was suspended upon payment of costs. Nick Gupton under a bad check charge failed to show up, and was cited out. Manzy Harris was found guilty of removing crops, prayer for judgment continued upon payment of costs. Prayer for judgment was continued upon H. B. Edwards in two cases one for carrying concealed weapons and one for assault with deadly weapons.

Morris Hight, C. D. Hunt and Mrs. C. D. Hunt, were acquitted of a charge of larceny and receiving. Prayer for judgment was continued upon payment of costs and pending good behavior, upon Louis Southall for unlawful possession of whiskey.

A jury trial was demanded and granted Vester Bunn on a charge of public drunkenness, and the case continued.

Eugene Faulkner appeared in court to take up his road sentence of 8 months imposed at a former term. W. A. Wall, operating automobile intoxicated, failed to show up and the case was continued.

FRANKLIN COUNTY WOMEN HOLD INTERESTING MEETING

Miss Estabrook Makes Excellent Address on Household Management Before Federation—Many Matters of Interest Before Meeting

The Franklin County Federation of Women's Clubs which held its fall meeting on November 2, in the morning in the Home Economic rooms of Mills High School in Louisburg, was addressed by the State Household Management Specialist, Miss Helen Estabrook at which time she discussed windows and draperies. Before taking up her main topic Miss Estabrook explained "Household Management", the project of the clubs for the coming year. Entering upon her topic she stressed simplicity, open views allowing plenty of light and air, and sunfast material hung full width as she discussed the types of draperies, material, how they are hung, edge finish, length, top finish and lining. Irregular lines were illustrated and discussed by the speaker. The many sample curtains and patterns which Miss Estabrook displayed and used in explaining and illustrating the points which she emphasized added greatly to the information she gave the attendants arousing much interest.

Mrs. T. H. Dickens, president of the Federation, called the meeting to order at 10:30 in the morning and presided over the meeting with great ease and charm. "Onward Christian Soldier" was sung in unison by the assemblage at the opening of the meeting. Afterwards the roll call was had, the results showing the leading club in attendance to be the Eordeaux Club, this being the fourth year in succession that this club has received this honor. The minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Sam Nash, and approved. Immediately following, Miss Daisy Caldwell, Home Demonstration Agent of Franklin County, talked for a few minutes concerning the attendance to these Federation meetings. She suggested that the club having the greatest attendance should be awarded a prize for the same.

Mrs. Mack Mullen gave a very interesting report of the district meeting that was held at Warrenton, November 1, at which meeting Franklin County was represented by nine members of the Franklin County Federation.

Following Mrs. Mullen's report, a business session was held, at which time new officers were elected. Those being elected were Mrs. C. C. Pippin, of Bunn; president; Mrs. Peter Dean, of Cedar Rock, vice-president; and Mrs. William Person, of Gold Sand, secretary.

After this business session, Miss Estabrook made her interesting talk which was enjoyed by all the club women and visitors who were eager to learn the right and wrong of drapery. The dinner followed and was served at 12 o'clock in the kitchen of the Home Economic rooms, after which the meeting adjourned.

Supt. E. C. Perry, and Mrs. R. F. Yarborough attended a District Welfare meeting at Henderson Wednesday.

DR. H. H. JOHNSON ADDRESSES P. T. ASSOCIATION

Association Holds Annual Election of Officers—Many Splendidly Encouraging Reports Made

"Aspects of Health" was Dr. H. H. Johnson's topic when he addressed the Council of Franklin County Parent-Teacher Associations Saturday afternoon, November 2, at 2:30 o'clock in the auditorium of Mills High School. He said that the teachers and parents should be interested in this topic since they both have their own health and the health of the children in their hands. "All papers and magazines refer in some way to child health and training, because Health Education is so vitally important," said Dr. Johnson. Millions and millions of dollars are spent on Health Education. He continued giving the list of the requirements of a well-developed child; a healthy body, a healthy mind, and a good spirit or moral character. The great need of health at the present has too suddenly been cast before the eyes and minds of the public, showing that the haste and strain of present times demand better and more healthful people. The present generation is not bearing up under the conditions caused by the improvements and developments. A majority of the diseases are caused and aided in development by physical and mental strain. It is, therefore, important, he said, that more time and study be spent upon such a vital subject.

Dr. Johnson explained how the local Kiwanis Club had taken up this work giving as examples the several pre-school clinics that they held in Franklin County and the Tonsil-Adenoid Clinic held at Louisburg. Of the one hundred and twenty or thirty children that were examined, he said, forty per cent were undernourished and sixty per cent had enlarged or diseased tonsils and adenoids. Dr. Johnson said that the children not properly fed, or the undernourished children were handicapped and were the women and men who have tuberculosis and die young. Therefore, the proper diet is a vital problem, the basis of all health. "It is far more easier to start on the right diet than to change from the wrong to the right later on," expressed Dr. Johnson. As for the defected tonsils, he said, they cause heart disease, anemia, rheumatism, mental retardation, and other diseases.

Dr. Johnson stated that it had been estimated that the local Kiwanis Club health project had saved Franklin County $5000. The Parent-Teacher Associations aided, he said; but he also said that they should co-operate further by securing lists of proper diets from the Home Demonstration agent, Miss Daisy Caldwell, and the Franklin County Board of Health, and informing the people of the county concerning them and spread them throughout the county. He, also, predicted that another pre-school clinic would be held in Franklin County if the Parent-Teacher Associations, the most vital organ in the reaching of the majority of the public, co-operate and aid in decreasing

TOBACCO PRICES HIGH AT LOUISBURG

Tuesday Brought Biggest Break and Highest Average in Two Years

The past week brought increased interest and enthusiasm to all interested in the Louisburg tobacco market because of the fact that on Tuesday the sale was the largest in two years and brought the highest average price in the same length of time. On this day tobacco sold as high as a dollar a pound and much satisfaction at the prices on the Louisburg market was expressed by the many growers who were present.

All grades were much in demand and bringing good prices, and the character of the tobacco offered was much better than usual. Aside from the rainy days the sales the past week have been especially good and with good prices and strong demand.

The Louisburg market is forging ahead and doing a great work for the tobacco growers who are showing their appreciations for the efforts put forth in their behalf.

Get your tobacco ready and bring it on to Louisburg and help your home market help you.

the 20,000 children that die needlessly in the nation every year from neglect. It is Dr. Johnson's belief that the present generation is a failure, that it is not holding up under the immediate conditions but that the oncoming generation with the knowledge and achievements that are now being prepared for them will contain the saving power for the nation.

Preceding this address, the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. F. Mitchener, who presided. "America" was sung as the opening number on the program in unison by the audience. Mr. T. H. Sledge led in prayer, after which the minutes were read and approved. Following the address, special music was rendered by Miss Helen Leigh Fleming, who sang Schubert's Serenade, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. A. W. Person. This music was greatly enjoyed by the audience.

The reports of the different schools Parent-Teacher Associations were given, showing splendid work being carried on in each organization. The schools reporting were Edward Best, Franklinton, Epsom, Gold Sand and Louisburg.

At the close of the meeting the election of officers for the new year took place, the old officers being re-elected. The officers are as follows: Mrs. J. F. Mitchener, Franklinton, President; Mrs. M.
