KIWANIS OBSERVE

LADIES NIGHT

Install New Officers and Set Program
For New Year—Enjoyable and Interesting meeting

The Kiwanians of Louisburg recently observed Ladies Night with an exceptionally fine evening of entertainment at Welcome Inn. A most interesting program was presented under the direction of S. L. Blanton. Mrs. W. E. White and Mr. G. M. Beam each put on a stunt in which several ladies and gentlemen present took part. Special vocal music was rendered by Miss Helen Leigh Fleming, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. S. B. Berkeley, following which several interesting and appropriate speeches were made by Mrs. A. W. Person and Dr. H. G. Perry.

The officers were installed at this meeting. Dr. H. H. Johnson, the retiring president, introduced the new officers as follows: W. R. Mills, president; S. P. Burt, vice-president; R. G. Bailey, secretary; and F. J. Beasley, district trustee. The directors were also elected accordingly: A. H. Fleming, G. M. Beam, W. B. Tucker, S. L. Blanton, J. A. Wheelers, A. Tonkel, and E. L. Best.

After being recognized, President W. R. Mills took charge of the chair and spoke of the work to be done in the ensuing year. He stated that he would name the various committees and explain their duties at the next meeting of the Kiwanis Club. The work of this next year will concern two types of citizens, the underprivileged child, by the continuation of the work of the past year, and the underprivileged farmer, the consideration of the latter being the major work of the approaching year.

NEW YEAR FITTINGLY RECEIVED

The new year of 1930 was fittingly welcomed in by the people of Louisburg who were in fine spirits and were joyous in the approach of a brand new year, which holds in store for them many surprises and pleasures. The welcoming feat began at eight o'clock in the evening and continued throughout the night reaching its glorious climax when King 1930 was ushered in at the appropriate hour. Everything was done to make a glorious beginning, even to the loud pealing of the bells in every corner of the town, the blowing of trumpets and whistles, and the explosions of fireworks. The occupants of the town saw fit to receive the New Year in this happy manner and hope that King 1930 will approve of the reception given him at his arrival and make use of similar ones throughout his visit with them.

FIFTY-FIVE ANSWERS RECEIVED

To the missing letter feature of the community page in our issue of Dec. 29 fifty-five answers were received with eleven bearing the correct list of words. Those sending in correct lists were Mrs. B. M. Alford, Miss Manner Smith, Mrs. F. A. Cheatham, Mrs. Oza Smith Jennings, Gracie Hill, Mozelle Hill, Mrs. A. D. Murphy, Ida Mae Gilliam, Mrs. A. C. Collins, Emma Strickland, Hodge P. Alston. According to custom the names were drawn from a hat, through the kindness of Mr. E. C. Perry and were drawn in the following order: Mrs. B. M. Alford, Youngsville; Mrs. A. D. Murphy, and Mrs. Oza Smith Jennings of Louisburg; and Mrs. F. A. Cheatham of Youngsville.

This time there were eight words with missing letters, as follows: in advertisements, s in furnishings, in F. W. Wheelers and s in headquarters in Reavis and Harrison; in write-ups, i in business in Farmers & Merchants Bank, m in communities in Louisburg College; in subject matter, p out of appreciated, n out of determination, t out of recreations; and r in correct in the rules.

There has been a great deal of interest shown in each of the six appearances of the community page. In spite of the fact that it was an impossibility for everyone out of fifty-five or sixty contestants to get a prize, each one seemed delighted and eager to try again. This being the last of the series, the Franklin Times wishes to thank every contestant for the interest in this feature.

FIND HUMAN SKULL

IN WOODS NEAR ALERT

Sheriff F. W. Justice and special Coroner A. F. Johnson visited the Alert section Tuesday to make investigation of a human skull found the day before by Capt. Bobbitt and others while fox hunting. The skull together with several other small bones and particles of clothing were found on the side of a hill about a half a mile east of the Louisburg-Alert road near Sandy Creek and is supposed to be that of — Hinchin, who disappeared near this point about two years ago. At the time of his disappearance an investigation was made by officers and people of that community and two negro boys were held for several days as suspects, but no trace of the body could be found and no evidence of foul play was discovered.

The officers Tuesday took charge of the bones and remnants of clothing and will make further investigation with the view of ascertaining the cause of the death and placing the responsibility if possible.

It seems that Hinchin was from the western part of the State, but had lived in this County years before, and had a son living here at this time. He was on his way to visit his son and had to walk about a mile through a dense wood and bottom. The last seen of him alive was when he left a negro Taylor's store a short distance from where he left the main road. A few days later his suit case was found near a ditch cut open and clothing scattered.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

At 11 o'clock next Sunday Morning, Rev. A. D. Wilcox will preach on the theme "The Year Ahead." At the Evening hour 7:30 o'clock, the theme is "The Sweetest Story Ever Told." This is a special service for girls and young women. It is the first of a series of evening sermons to youth. Special invitation to girls of the College and High School. Girl ushers and collectors will represent both of these groups. Special music at both services under the direction of Mrs. W. E. White. The junior congregation will meet at the 11:00 o'clock hour.

MAN SERIOUSLY SCALDED

On Tuesday morning, Mr. Walter Aycocke, received serious, if not fatal, injuries by being badly scalded while working on the boiler belonging to Mr. George H. Cooper, which is located in South Louisburg and which he was firing. He was taken to a hospital in Rocky Mount for treatment. It is stated that Aycocke was under the boiler doing some work when it sprung a leak scalding him very badly before he could get out. Mr. Aycocke is a man of a family having a wife and six children.

STILLS CAPTURED

The following is a list of stills captured in less time than a month by J. R. Pearce, with officers, E. R. Timberlake, J. B. Young, of Franklin County, and Taylor, Duke, and Fuller, of Wake County, and others:

One 25 gallon outfit on J. W. Winstons farm 2 miles west of Youngsville; one 75 gallon outfit hid under what is known as W. T. Young's bridge; one 75 gallon outfit on or near the Press, Davis place; one 100 gallon galvanized kettle on the same place; one 75 gallon kettle on J. E. Harris, land near Ralf, Bakers house; one 125 gallon submerged outfit on what is known as the late Jim Harris land; one and the most interesting outfit was brought in by two young boys J. M. Young and Dick Timberlake; 20 gallon Gas tank for the still and a square worm. There was destroyed at the different places about 4500 gallons of mash. It was unfortunate for the officers as there were spies watching and gave the alarm time enough for all of them to flee.

U. D. C.

The J. J. Davis Chapter U. D. C. will meet with Mrs. H. H. Johnson, Tuesday afternoon Jan. 7th, 1930, at 3:30 P. M.

MRS. C. K. COOKE, Sec'y.
MRS. H. W. PERRY, Pres.

UNIQUE MEMORIAL SERVICES

Rock Hill and Concord Good Health Societies Pay Tribute to the Late Dr. J. E. Malone

About fifteen years ago, when he was Superintendent of Health for Franklin County and the town of Louisburg, the late Dr. J. E. Malone organized among the colored people living along the water shed on either side of Tar River above Louisburg several "Good Health" societies. The objects of these organizations were the general betterment of the health conditions among these people and the keeping of the water supply of Louisburg free from contamination and under the tactful and sympathetic guidance of Dr. Malone literature and suitable meeting places were provided. The natural love of these people for musical expressions was fostered and encouraged and the organizations became real cultural centres out of which among other good things have come some choral organizations of more than local repute.

In November 1928 Dr. Malone died but this work has gone on and of their own initiative these societies held on December 26, 1929, a memorial service in honor of the memory of their friend and patron. With the co-operation of Dr. R. F. Yarborough, present Superintendent of Health, the courthouse in Louisburg, was procured for these services and a program of readings, short talks and negro spirituals, rendered as only the real southern negro can render them, touched and held an audience that comfortably filled the auditorium for more than two hours. The services were presided over by James I. McKnight, secretary of the Rock Hill Society and in addition to a number of readings, solos and choral selections rendered by the Rock Hill and Concord Societies, short talks were made by Uncle Bartlett Perry, president of the Rock Hill Society, Deacon Sam Brooks, Rev. D. P. Lewis and Dr. J. B. Davis. The only white people taking any part in the exercises were Dr. R. F. Yarborough, who paid a beautiful tribute to Dr. J. E. Malone, and Mr. E. H. Malone, a son of Dr. Malone, who in a few words expressed the appreciation of his family, many of whom were present.

Dr. Malone, who was a man of fine mind and rare culture, a slave owner himself and the son of slave owners, having spent much of his childhood on a North Carolina plantation and during a long and active practice had retained his contacts with these negroes, for whom he always felt a deep interest and real affection, and few men could better than he appeal to the responsive nature or hold the love and confidence of the best type of southern negro whose simple sincerity and quiet dignity impels and compels the respect and esteem of every southern gentleman among whose finest traditions is a kindly and protective interest in the colored race.

There was something finely impressive in this expression of love and esteem of one race for one of another who, as was said by one of the speakers, could be most fittingly described as one "who went about doing good, and healing all who were oppressed." In these times, such an occasion gives us the best evidence of the splendid feeling in this locality among the best elements of both the white and colored races and is worthy of the caption "a unique memorial service."

J. S. CARTER'S STORE BURNS

The store building and entire stock of goods and fixtures of J. S. Carter, at Pearces, in Dunn's township, about twelve miles south of Louisburg, was destroyed by fire Monday night at a loss of above $5000, only partly covered by insurance. In addition, all the equipment, except the books, of the Sandy Cross Junior Order was consumed as they occupied the hall above the store.

The fire happened about seven o'clock and was supposed to have been caused by a defective stove flue. Mr. Carter was not present until after the fire. In addition to the above Mr. Heath Carter, who lived in a room adjoining the store lost his belongings and about $175 in currency.

MRS. MARGARET ADELAIDE WILDER DEAD

Mrs. Margaret Adelaide Wilder, wife of the late L. J. Wilder, died at her home near Mitchiner's Cross roads on Dec. 25th. Mrs. Wilder was born June 5th 1857, being 72 years of age. She joined Perry's Chapel Baptist church when eleven years of age and remained a consistent and faithful member until her death. Mrs. Wilder meant much to her community and church, but most to her home, where she was by her quiet and unassuming way a real blessing not only to her children but to their friends, for all the young people loved Miss Addie.

Surviving her are three daughters, Misses Minna and Mary Wilder and Mrs. H. G. Jones, five sons, W. G., R. L., B. F., L. J., and S. O. Wilder, eight grandchildren, Louise, Ruth, Elizabeth, William, Avery, Margaret and John Lee Wilder, Adelaide and Rachel Jones. She also leaves three brothers, M. D. Wilder, Franklinton, R. F. Andrews, Lawton, Okla., J. W. Andrews, Pink Hill.

We rejoice with these for the long and useful life that her Master allowed her to live.
