

SHE TOOK SODA BY HANDFUL, SHE SAYS

"I used to have the most terrible headaches imaginable, and my liver must have been badly out of order for

MRS. ELLA BYRD

I was habitually constipated. At times rheumatic pains through my sides, back and lower limbs were so intense I could hardly walk. I used to take soda by the handful trying to get relief from indigestion. Since taking Sargon I eat anything in the world I want without a sign of indigestion, every rheumatic pain is gone. I've gained back 8 pounds I lost and worlds of new strength and energy. "Sargon Pills got my liver to acting right, freed my system of poisons and overcame my constipation."—Mrs. Ella Byrd, 36 Cataba St., Asheville. Scoggin's Drug Store, Agents.—Adv.

is another step toward centralization, but State authorities, and county, too take the position that it is better to "play safe."

The idea long prevalent that "a prophet is not without honor save in his own country" does not harmonize with the spirit of the Cary folk near Raleigh. These people are strong for the home product and emphasized an appreciative local spirit on Friday evening in a fine tribute to their distinguished son, the late Walter Hines Page, who was born there 75 years ago, grew to manhood on North Carolina soil, became a noted author and publicist and finally Ambassador to the Court of Saint James by appointment of President Woodrow Wilson. Walter D. Siler, assistant attorney general, was the principal speaker. President Hoover and other national figures sent impressive letters, while old friends of childhood days paid fulsome tributes to the lad who started at the bottom of the ladder and gradually ascended to a pinnacle of fame.

A report comes from the State Board of Health to the effect that thirty-seven persons lost their lives by drowning during the month of July; that automobiles took a toll of forty-seven and 183 died from tuberculosis. There were eighteen suicides, twenty homicides, seven deaths from railroad accidents, eleven from burns and conflagrations, one from accidental gunshot wounds, five from gunshot wounds of a doubtful nature, and one from airplane accident. 174 children under two years of age died from diarrhoea and enteritis. During the month 508 children died under one year of age and 626 under two years, maternal mortality cases numbered forty-nine. Pellagra took a toll of 139, whoopingcough, 37, typhoid fever 29, syphilis 23, and influenza 16.

Dr. F. M. Register, for eleven years director of the division of vital statistics of the State Board of Health has been elected health officer of Wayne county to succeed Dr. L. E. Corbett, resigned. Doctor Register was one of the 22 employees of the State Board to be "let out" on August 1, when it was said budget requirements necessitated a reduction in the personnel of the department. The county of Wayne is considered fortunate in securing the services of Doctor Register who, during his thirty years of health work has been connected with the public service twenty-eight of them being with the State.

ICE CREAM SUPPER

The ladies of Ebenezer Methodist church will have an ice cream supper Friday night, August 22nd, at eight o'clock at Smith's Dairy Farm. The proceeds will go towards buying a carpet for the church. Everyone is cordially invited.

Smoke Chesterfield

MILDER, YES—BUT SOMETHING MORE. Chesterfield offers richness, aroma, satisfying flavor.

BETTER TASTE—that's the answer; and that's what smokers get in Chesterfield in fullest measure—the flavor and aroma of mellow tobaccos, exactly blended and cross-blended. Better taste, and milder too!

POULTRY NEEDS CARE DURING HOT MONTHS

Proper care and attention of the poultryflocks during the summer months will be reflected in increased profits when the flock comes into production and will also mean a greater percentage of healthy birds for the breeding flock.

"Some poultrymen have a great tendency during the hot months to let up in feeding and management of their flocks," says R. S. Dearstyne, head of the poultry department at State College. "This is a dangerous practice to get into and will produce detrimental results that will be reflected all through the laying period. Breeders carried over from the previous year may go into a molt and improper feeding will tend to prolong this period and retard production."

A falling off in receipts should not mean a let down in the care of the birds, he says. Lice and mites must be guarded against as these pests propagate very rapidly during the summer and are a heavy drain on chick vitality. Round worms and tape worms are also to be guarded against and Mr. Dearstyne advises that all pullets be dewormed about a month before they come into lay. This allows time for the bird to throw off any bad effects that might result from the treatment.

Mr. Dearstyne says that adequate drinking fountains, plenty of fresh water, and summer shade are necessary essentials in the care of the flock. Heat prostrations are caused by a lack of those essentials, by an inadequate number of trapsnets or overcrowding. This condition can be overcome by strict attention to these details by the poultry owner.

Green feed should also be provided for the flock, but where this is not available, the ration may be supplemented with a one per cent biologically tested cod liver oil. Mr. Dearstyne states that under no circumstances should the poultrymen discontinue the feeding of mash as this balances the ration and furnishes the feed so necessary for high production.

Community improvement, like physical improvement, comes from exercise. Somebody has to do something.

Smallest Horse

C. G. Buton, of Independence, Kans., owns a dog that is bigger than a horse, as the picture shows. The horse, "Prince," is 26 inches high and weighs 37 pounds. "Duke," the dog, a Great Dane, weighs 176 pounds. He is the largest dog of his breed and "Prince" the smallest horse in the world.
