J. H. Bottom Killed By Lightning

J. H. Bottom was struck and instantly killed by lightning at his home pear Dicken's store Monday afternoon during a heavy electrical storm. He had just gone in the house out of the storm from his work and stopped on the porch, where a little boy and a dog were when he received the bolt. The little boy or the dog were not infured. He was 51, years of age and leaves a wife and one son, and two grand children, who were living with him.

The remains were buried at the Wester grave yard, near Joe Champions on Tuesday afternoon. Quite a large number attended the funeral.

A colored Reel Team, as an auxiliary to the Louissburg Fire Department was organized by Chief of the Fire Department, J. S. Howell, on Monday night with the following members: R. M. # STANDARD SCHOOLS WIN

IN ELECTION HELD ON MONDAY, AUGUST 10TH

When Voters in Cedar Rock-Cypress Creek School District Refuse To Vote Off The Special Tax And Abolish The District And Return To Six Months School Term.

An overwhelming defeat was administered the special School tax Dis-trict election in Cedar Rock-Cypress Creek School District, in Franklin County on Monday, August 10th, 1931, when an election for voting off the fifty cents special school tax and cholishing the special district was held at Edward Best High School with a result of 221 voting to abot-ish the district and tax against a registration of 806. During the camerally explained that if anyone was busy who wished to vote "to retain the school" in the election and thereby keep the tax and district need not attend the polls to vote and it would count for the school. This accountcd for only 147 actually voting for the school.

The question and movement about the special tax and district being abolished has been before the abolished has been before the peo-ple of Cedar Rock-Cypress Creek District since the early part of the summer when petitions were presented the Boards of Education and County Commissioners of Franklin County requesting that an election be grant-ed the district that the people therein might have the privilege of decidng the question. This campaign and election has been closely watched throughout the County by both the friends and those who were not friends of the schools. It was the beginning of what might mean the destruction of the public school system in Franklin County.

The campaign was predicted upon the idea of saving the special tax to the tax payers of the district, and was given momentum by many outside influences.

The reaction of the friends of the schools took on such proportions and challenged such activity that the questions were tightly drawn and brought about a fuller information concerning the results. From this study, it was found what would be sacrificed to no advantage, but loss, and with such little relief. and with such little relief, if any, and too what selfish consideration was being given the children and their future, the spirit of the movement turned more in favor of the schools and in the election Monday the people of the district decided for the continuance of the eight month school, their standard high school and a square deal to their children in order to give them a fair chance with other children of the State.
