VERY LATEST by MARY MARSHALL

Everlastingly useful is the type of negligee called bed jacket or pignoir. It doesn't of course, matter what you call it. The important thing is that the little garment itself is essential to comfort, to daintiness.

For Christmas gifts you can make these little jackets of crepe de chine, trimmed with lace, as the sketch suggests. In any of the light and dainty colors they are charming.

Here are the measurements for the diagram:

- AB—22 inches
- AC—40 inches
- AX—12 inches
- AY—20 inches
- XZ—16 inches
- DG—34 inches
- Dx—17 inches
- Ex—4 inches
- YE—7 inches
- YD—6 inches
- Fx—7 inches
- DH—9 inches
- DK—9 inches
- HK—18 inches.

Cut with D—G on a crosswise fold, if you wish, or cut with the center front, that passes through F and x, on a fold. French seam A—X—H to C—Z—K, and the same on the other side. Cut out the neck as indicated. If you wish, the front may be left closed, or it may be slashed open and hemmed or bound.

3 RULES big help to BOWELS

What a joy to have the bowels move like clockwork, every day! It's easy, if you mind these simple rules of a famous old doctor:

1. Drink a big tumblerful of water before breakfast, and several times a day.
2. Get plenty of outdoor exercise without unduly fatiguing yourself.
3. Try for a bowel movement at exactly the same hour every day.

Everyone's bowels need help at times, but the thing to use is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You'll get a thorough cleaning-out, and it won't leave your insides weak and watery. This family doctor's prescription is just fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin, and other helpful ingredients that couldn't hurt a child. But how it wakes up those lazy bowels! How good you feel with your system rid of all that poisonous waste matter.

BUILD UP TO PREVENT PAINS

How a Missouri woman was benefited by taking Cardui is described below by Mrs. Joe Schumer, of Cape Girardeau: "I suffered with irregularity. For weeks at a time I was so weak I could not work. I had aches in my back and head and legs—I ached all over. I would get dizzy and feel faint. I had read about Cardui, so I got some and took it. I improved a great deal. After I had taken four bottles, I felt like a different person."

CARDUI

or miss" proposition. N. W. Williams, practical poultryman in charge of the State College flocks, says mating poultry is a hard job for the experienced poultryman and that the inexperienced man generally gives it no consideration at all. However, it is one of the most important jobs to be undertaken at the beginning of the new poultry year.

First the grower must know what he wants. If he wants egg production, he must mate birds that have been producing eggs. If he wants show birds, he must use those that have the standard conformations.

To mate birds for egg production, the poultrymen ought to understand what body factors indicate high egg production, says Williams. Select those of standard weight that are vigorous, broad, deep and with large body capacity. Such birds will lay more eggs and the chicks will be stronger than those from birds which do not have such desirable characteristics. If the hens lack some of these good qualities but are good layers, use a male bird which will correct the deficiency in the chicks. No bird should be used in the breeding pens which has a tendency to be weak constitutionally.

In mating for show purposes, careful breeding must be done through several generations. Birds with any disqualifications such as split wings, wry tail, side sprigs and foreign color in the feathers should never be used as breeders because the undesirable features have a tendency to creep out in the resulting chicks, says Williams. He urges that much attention be given to selecting the male bird both when breeding for eggs or for show purposes.
