Report of Grand Jury.

The grand jury completed its work Wednesday morning and filed the following report:

To his Honor Judge W. A. Devin, presiding at May term Court,

JURY HAS COOKE New Rulings On Absentee Voting

Chairman W. D. Fuller, of the Board of Elections of Franklin County, has recently received rulings and instructions concerning the ab-sentee ballots as follows:

The oath must be actually admin-istered by the officer to the person seeking to use the absentee certifi-cate. If the oath is not actually administered, the ballots accompany-ing the certificate are invalid and should not be counted. It may, of course, be presumed, nothing else appearing, that the jurat is regular, and that the oath was actually administered. In the case of Boulden v. Davis, 200 N. C., 24, the Supreme Court has held that where it appears that the oath was not ac-tually administered, the ballots tually administered, the ballots should be rejected or thrown out. The certificate used must be signed by the elector and not by some one in his behalf. Of course, an illiterate person entitled to vote is permitted to make his mark.

A person desiring to vote by one or the other of these methods may make application to the chairman of the county board of elections before the ballots are distributed, br to the registrar of the precinct after they are distributed. He may make this application in person, or by mail, or through another. If the application is made through another, it must be written by order of the applicant. This means that the applicant must sign the request for the ballots, or he must in writing, signed by him, direct some one else to do it for him. The ballots should not be delivered when one person simply comes or writes for them for the use of another. The person de-siring to use the ballots must make the request himself in person, or in writing, signed by him, or he must in writing, signed by him, appoint some one as his agent to make the application for the ballots for him.

The ballots, with the return envelope, are then to be furnished to the applicant by the chairman of the board of elections or the registrar of the precinct, as the case may be. They may be so furnished by deliv-ering them to the elector in person, ering them to the elector in person, or by sending them through the mail, or by delivering them to his agent duly authorized in writing upon the application signed by the applicant. The absentee elector must sign his name on the ballot or ballots which he desires to cast. If he does not so sign his name on the ballot or ballots, such ballot or ballots not so signed must be rejected and not

Any applicant, physician, elector, officer or other person making any false oath or false certificate in connection with an application for ballots, the return of the ballots, or obtaining ballots, or otherwise relating thereto, or any election official violating any of the provisions of the absentee ballot law, is guilty of

Maj. McLendon Speaks

Maj. L. P. McLendon, State Mana-ger for the Ehringhau sfor Governor Campaign, delivered a strong ac-cress to a large number of Franklin County citizens in the Franklin County Court house at he noon recess of Court Tuesday. He told his hearers how Mr. Ehringhaus was peculiarly tted for the position being new in-to public life he would bring a freshness of viewpoint into the life of the State such as is always true with one fresh from the people. He told them that if Mr. Ehringhaus was nominated and elected his would be a distinctive Ehringhaus administration. He enumerated at length his idea of economy and committed his candidate to the full support of the six months public school from sources other than tax on land and declared that the Democratic platform to be written by the State Democratic Convention would be his political bible. Maj. McLendon's speech was well taken by the many who heard him. He was introduced by Mr. Hill Yarborough.

Lieut. Governor Fountain Speaks

To Big Crowd in Court House Wednesday Noon

Lient. Governor R. T. Fountain, Candidate for Governor in the three corner race this year, spoke to a Court house filled with citizens of Franklin and adjoining Counties on Wednesday at the noon recess of Court. Mr. Fountain followed closely his prepared speech in which he answered the specific question propounded to him by his opponents, and in which he states plainly and fully his platform. He told how the big financial leaders had brought on the greatest panic the world has ev er known by requiring the small banks to liquidate by getting rid of all real estate paper, this causing the decrease in value of real property and forming the main reason of the depression, and that these same leaders are now buying and advis-ing buying real estate. He paid his respects to the tax situation, and gave as his idea of the biggest trouwas the rediculously low prices of farm produce, this making the burden of tax unequal.
