CROP LOAN PAYMENTS

Mr. Harry P. Stevens, Inspector for the Government Crop Production Loan office, writes concerning loans in Franklin County as follows:

"To those Citizens of Franklin County who were fortunate enough to secure a loan from the Crop Production Loan Office this year: Permit me to say that I have just spent a few days in Washington. While there it was my privilege to discuss with those in authority the conditions as now exist in Franklin. Those in great need and the distress situation was especially emphasized in my discussions.

"It is the outstanding desire of those in authority that everything possible be done for the people in pressing need. If any borrower has failed for reasons beyond his control to produce sufficient crops to repay his loan and in addition there is not enough to supply the needs of his family, then that borrower may rightfully expect leniency. On the other hand if that borrower has not been faithful in his efforts and cannot show clean hands in the disbursing of the funds entrusted to him then that borrower has no reasons for asking leniency.

"Franklin County has shared more largely in the distribution of funds by the Crop Production Loan Office than any other County in North Carolina. It behooves every citizen of this County to encourage the paying back of this money. It is a well known fact that it required very hard work on the part of our representatives in Congress to get such beneficial measures passed. Our own Congressman would be highly delighted to know that Franklin County was doing its best to repay this money.

"I do not know that there will be another loan made in 1933, but I do know that if such a loan is made, those Counties where a determined effort is made to repay the 1932 loans, will have the preference.

"I am satisfied that there is much need in Franklin. I feel it is an outstanding privilege to aid in the work in this County. I do know that great numbers of people in Franklin are making sacrifices to make restitution of the money borrowed. There are many people who could pay who are not making any effort to pay. There are some people who cannot pay in full. There is scarcely any one who cannot repay part of the money loaned.

"It is my purpose to visit every portion of Franklin County. It is my great desire to help those in distress. My special commission is to ask leniency for those who honestly need aid. To that end I absolutely demand to know the truth and that the individual has clean hands.

"I shall be in Mr. Taylor's office in the First National Bank Building each Saturday."

The Red Light

Chief Pace requests the Times to extend his greatest appreciation to the many motorists visiting Louisburg for their cooperation in observing the parking regulations. ## Christmas Seal Sale Launched

The Christmas Seal Sale opened Thanksgiving Day. This is the day set apart for the beginning of this National sale of seals. Franklin County has never failed to set in motion an active campaign on this day.

The seals will be on sale at the following drug stores: Scoggin's, Boddie's, Beasley Brothers' and Pleasant's, until December 25th.

The benefit of the sale in Franklin County will be to the undernourished children. Last year the Tuberculosis Association cooperated with the State Milk-Campaign and assisted largely in Franklin County in distributing milk through the school kitchens. Nothing could be more beneficial than milk for the undernourished children, nor so effective in fighting the dread disease.

Honesty that doesn't come naturally can't be depended on.

Battered Gray Fedora—Still In The Ring
President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt tossed his hat into the presidential ring several moons ago. It was kicked about quite a lot but it came through, battered a bit 'tis true. Now it rests secure in a safe at Albany, awaiting a jaunt to Washington. . . . The President-elect is mighty particular about that hat . . . a gray fedora which came to be known throughout the land. One of his first acts on November 9th, was to place it away.

Barr Killed In Auto Accident Casts First Vote At 92

L. M. Barr, of Early, S. C., a member of the United States Navy stationed at Norfolk, was instantly killed Sunday night about one and a half miles from Poplar Springs on the road to Pilot when the car he was driving collided with a car driven by E. C. Jones. In the car with Barr were S. K. Bobbitt and A. J. Zimmerman, both of the Navy and both of whom received injuries, Zimmerman receiving injuries of a serious nature. No one was in the car with Jones, who also received injuries but not considered of a serious nature. Coroner Earp was called and from his investigations decided it was purely an accident and conducted no inquest. The body was taken to Zebulon to await information from relatives.

Coroner Earp's investigation developed facts that shows that Bobbitt lives at Rocky Mount and that a boy from Bunn by the name of Jones is in the Navy and is a pal of Bobbitt. Bobbitt, together with Barr and Zimmerman, were on leave and had gone to Rocky Mount to visit his parents. Jones not getting a furlough requested these boys to drive to his home near Bunn and deliver a message to his parents for him. It was on this mission that the accident occurred.

Both cars were badly damaged.

Tyson, of Durham, and one sister, Mrs. Ida Hale, of Louisburg, and one brother, J. H. Beddingfield, of Raleigh.

Mrs. Parrish was a former resident of Louisburg moving to Durham many years ago. She was a most estimable Christian woman loved, respected and admired by those who knew her.

The funeral services were held at the home in Durham Tuesday morning and the interment at Louisburg was largely attended by friends of both Durham and Louisburg. The floral tributes was especially pretty. The bereaved family has the sympathy of a large number of friends.

Don't do it today unless you are sure of being satisfied with what you did tomorrow.

Swindles Warehouse

A slick crook visited Louisburg Monday and got away with $110.00, and possibly another $107.00. The swindle was perpetrated against the Southside Warehouse in the form of fictitious tobacco sales bills and checks. It seems as if the party got hold of some blank bills and checks and filled them out to suit himself, and proceeded to turn them into cash. Supposedly the first bill and check was for $110.00. This, it is understood was cashed and got by. The second was for $107.00 which failed to clear, but is outstanding. The third was for $146.00, and was frustrated, the party escaping. Just what evidence has been found is not known, but no arrests have been made, although it is understood the writing on one bill is recognized.

A very gratifying report of the year's activities and achievements was made by the secretary, Mr. Frank Wheelers, Jr., and short talks were made by Messrs. W. R. Mills, L. L. Joyner, Hill Yarborough and E. L. Best.

A feature of the evening's entertainment was the song and dance act, given by Reginald McFarland, accompanied at the piano by Miss McFarland, of Jonesboro, N. C.

A delightful program was presented by the Music Department of Louisburg College. Mrs. Warren McCullers sang "The Vow", "Eyes of Irish Blue", "Pale Moon", and "Plantation Song". Miss Dorothy Hurley was the accompanist.

The sorry thing about it is that no man thinks his oil company is a "fake" until he has lost everything.

Some folks don't seem to realize that when they have what they need, they have enough.
