MANY ATTEND COMMUNITY FAIR

Large Number of Exhibits Of Splendid Quality; Fine Parade of School Children; Many Entertaining Features Greatly Enjoyed By All

Possibly the most successful event in connection with the Louisburg Graded School in recent years was the Community Fair held on last Friday. This was the first fair of its kind held here and was well and favorably received. It came as a part of the Vocational Agricultural Department established this year. The success is due largely to the untiring efforts of Mr. J. B. Litchfield, vocational teacher, and the splendid cooperation of his officers and committees.

The most interesting feature of the day, certainly to the entire public, was the splendid parade which took place at 11 o'clock when more than five hundred school children of all sizes and ages took part and formed a line of March reaching from the Court Square to beyond the Methodist Church a distance of three blocks or more. The parade was led by the Boy Scouts band and followed by a doll parade all decorated in national colors, the leading carriage bearing the national N. R. A. insignia and the latter the F. R. A. sign and slogan, both of which drew a loud and enthusiastic response from the public as the parade passed up street.

Arriving at the school auditorium a most interesting and instructive program was taken up and presented:

There was greater interest in the Babies Contest for the Fair than was expected. There were sixteen babies who entered. From these, the Judges with Miss Oliver in Charge chose Miss Mildred Maloy Malone for first prize and George Herman Murphy for second.

Much interest and fun was displayed in the Contests choosing the boy and girl with the most freckles, the reddest hair, the fattest and the whitest head. These prizes were distributed as follows: to the most freckles, boy, Raymond Edwards, girl, Odessa Radford; Fattest: boy, John Sledge, girl, Jane Murphy; Reddest hair: boy, Red Kemp, girl, Leona May; Whitest head, boy, James Marshall, girl, Imogene Smith.

The Fashion Show under the direction of Miss Rogers and Miss Dennis was a great success. Miss Kinsland of the College was announcer for the following Models: Children Models: Jill Allen, Nancy Carlisle Griffin, Talmadge Thomas, Martha Ray Matthews, Dickie and Van Fleming, Jackie Harkness, Mary Boone, Betsy Cobb, and Becky Beasley; Ninth Grade Home Economics: New Dresses—Dorothy Wiggs, Rose Malone, Frances Ferguson, Fern Fitzgerald, Eugenia May, Studie Toone; Dresses remodeled from mothers and grandmothers dresses—Cornelia Merritt, Sophia Spivey, Adele Holmes, Actavia Laster, Edith Harris, Beverly Shearin, and Lucille Hudson. The High School Glee Club at this time gave several enjoyable numbers, after which Mrs. B. T. Holden awarded prizes to several groups. Fall Costumes were modeled by College Girls; Betty Cooper Davis, Florence Alston, Marjorie Burgess, Helen Keel, Virginia Siler, Budie Louise Abernathy, Ester May Brown, and Josephine Rouse. Little Jackie Harkness then sang and danced. Several of Louisburg's Department Stores had dresses modeled by: Lina Welch, Marguerite Rouse, Marguerite Tonkel, Lucille Hudson, Virginia Siler and Birdie Louise Abernathy. In the end Louisburg College Orchestra favored the crowd with several selections.

PRICES HIGHER ON LOUISBURG MARKET

The Louisburg Tobacco Market has enjoyed splendid sales the past week both as to quantity and prices. Many growers from a distance bringing their tobacco here to be sold for the better prices offered here. During the past week entire warehouse sales have averaged approximately 17 cents while entire days breaks have gone as high as $15.71.

People are being convinced that the Louisburg Market is holding its own at the top of the ladder of better prices and every accommodation is being extended those who sell here. You are invited to come to Louisburg with your next tobacco with the assurance that everything will be done for your benefit.

Teachers Hold Meeting At Edward Best

The teachers of the Edward Best district held its first monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon, October 17, at 3:00. The meeting was called to order by the chairman, Mr. R. E. Miller. After Mr. Miller read briefly the outline of the work for the year, he suggested that we organize. The following officers were then elected: Chairman, Mr. R. E. Miller; secretary, Miss Eva Cooke and librarian, Mr. Bruce Perry. We decided to meet on the last Friday afternoon in the school month. Topics were then assigned to different teachers to prepare reports for our next meeting.

Mr. Miller, in a few words, introduced the speaker for the afternoon, Dr. George Howard from the University of N. C., and also stated his topic, which was: "Problems of Attendance and How to Solve Them."

Dr. Howard first gave two reasons why we have an attendance law, namely, for the good of the State, and the good of the child. Then he gave two ways to aid attendance: 1. By teacher and parent having a cooperative spirit existing between them. 2. By making the school program so worthwhile, that the children will want to come to school.

In conclusion Mr. Miller added two points to the two stated by Dr. Howard: 1. Attractive school rooms, 2. Attractive teachers.

NEGRO KILLED Home Coming At College

Willie Hawkins, colored, about 40 years of age, was shot and killed in the yard at the home of a man by the name of Elliott near the dyke on Lynch's Creek Saturday night about dark. Coroner J. W. Freeman was called by Sheriff Spivey and an inquest held, which was continued to Wednesday night and then continued to a later date. The evidence so far presented to the jury tended to show that there was a crowd of negroes at Elliotts, that had been drinking and during a dispute of some kind a pistol fired and Hawkins fell. The evidence so far has not disclosed the responsibility for the killing.

The jury is composed of the following gentlemen: C. C. Collins, R. A. Pearce, D. W. Spivey, Percy C. Holmes, J. P. Moore, J. B. Gordon.

NEW FARM CREDIT

Columbia, S. C.—The organization of local production credit associations in the Carolinas, Georgia, and Florida will be the first duty of the new Production Credit Corporation of Columbia. These associations will be organized on a county basis, and President Looney, of the Columbia Corporation, suggests that educational meetings be held in various parts of all counties where farmers may be interested in order that they may understand how to obtain loans and the benefits to be derived.

Following these educational meetings, a county meeting should be called after arrangements have been made to have a representative of the Production Credit Corporation of Columbia present to explain details and assist the farmers in making application for a charter to the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration. When it has been determined that a local association is needed, a charter will be granted, and a business meeting of the incorporators will be called for the election of directors and the transaction of other business necessary to perfect the organization. The association will then be in position to accept applications for loans.

Initial capital for local associations will be secured by the sale of their class A stock to the Production Credit Corporation of Columbia. Funds so obtained will be used to purchase suitable securities to be pledged with the Intermediate Credit Bank of Columbia in support of the local associations' liability to that bank. The Intermediate Credit Bank will extend to the local association a line of credit equal to approximately five times the securities pledged, such credit to be represented by satisfactory farmers' notes that may be discounted for the association by the Intermediate Credit Bank. The interest earned by the funds pledged as security goes to the local association to help pay its expense of operation and is in addition to interest obtained from local loans.

Farmers may secure loans from the local association for the production and harvesting of crops, breeding, raising, and fattening of livestock and for the production of livestock and poultry products. Such loans will be made at a rate of interest not to exceed 3 per cent above the discount rate of the Intermediate Credit Bank, which is now 3 1/2 per cent per annum. Under present conditions the rate of interest to a farmer borrowing through a Production Credit association would be 6 1/2 per cent.

A farmer must own class B stock which may be deducted from proceeds of loan) valued at not less than 5 per cent of the amount of his loan. Class B stock carries voting privileges for the election of officers and directors and shares equally with Class A stock in the distribution of dividends. No stock in the association carries double liability.

The Grand Jury completed its work on Thursday afternoon of last week and filed the following report:

To the Honorable W. C. Harris, Judge Presiding:

We the members of the Grand Jury for the Franklin County Superior Court in session October 1933, hereby respectfully submit its report as follows:

We have examined in detail and passed on all bills that have been presented to us.

We have visited every school in Franklin County and have found the buildings in good repair. We examined each truck in detail and found them in good shape. We also found the sanitary conditions in the schools good. We are proud of our well-organized school system and our transportation policy that looks first to the safety and comfort of the children.

We have inspected all offices in the court house and the office of the Superintendent of Schools and have found all well kept and records properly filed.

We visited the County Home, Prison Camp and found both in good condition and inmates happy and satisfied.

We have inspected the offices of the Health Department, Home Demonstration Department and Welfare Department. Under the circumstances these offices are kept as well as possible. Seeing the crowded conditions, however, we recommend that one of these departments, probably the work of the Home Demonstration Agent, be transferred up stairs to the present Grand Jury room. We do not feel in the least any interference with the work of the Grand Jury the few days that they use the same and would relieve the crowded condition in this office. At present there does not seem sufficient facilities for heating and ventilation and the janitor service is very poor.

We made a thorough inspection of the jail, which we found in fairly good condition. We believe, however, that the sanitary conditions might be improved. We recommend that the sheriff be given full control of the jail
