LOUISBURG READY FOR CAMPBELL

Two Strong Teams Will Meet
Here on Home Coming Day,
Saturday, Nov. 4th—Large
Crowds Expected to Attend

Louisburg College is making for herself a place of interest in the Junior football enthusiasm of the State. She does not always boast of the top score, but that Louisburg team is right in the heat of the game and puts up a good battle for the sake of the game. There is cooperation, hard play, and clean sportsmanship in the work of that team.

First, the school should be complimented on having secured as this year's coach, Mr. Frank Suttentfield, who was for seven years connected with the High School of Edenton. During his period of training at Lynchburg College, Mr. Suttentfield was at various times captain of the three major athletic teams, football, basketball, and baseball. Mr. Suttentfield is proving a valuable addition to Louisburg College as a popular teacher and most successful athletic coach.

Burgess, the 165 lb. left half back from Old Trap, is Captain of the team. He specializes in speed and has proved one of the most continuous ground gainers of the season. Burgess' 70 yard run in Louisburg's battle with the Maroon and Gold Apprentice Crew broke the monotony of straight football putting Louisburg in position to score its third touchdown. He can be depended on to play spectacular football.

Richards, the 6 ft. 2 1/2 in., 189 lb. right end from Raleigh, has shown through out the season very unusual ability in snagging passes. The Waddell to Richards pass has made many spectators sit up and take notice.

Waddell, the Raleigh, 165 lb. full back, has won a great deal of praise for his triple threat ability and all round work. He comes to Louisburg from State College and shows the result of very careful training.

MacLeod, of Lumberton, 170 lbs. of hard muscle, also possesses triple threat ability. Much to the loss of the team MacLeod has had a tough season, being unable to play part of the time because of physical injuries.

Frazier, 150 lb. left end of Laurinburg, is one of the best defensive ends of any Junior college in the State.

The most powerful factor in line defense in games up to date and one of the individual stars in the game with Carolina Freshmen is Goodwin, 210 lb. center from Edenton. With the assistance of Bullock 160 lb. guard of Fuquay Springs, and Edwards 195 lb. left tackle of Durham, Louisburg forms a mean and stubborn line.

With Buflap of Edenton and Johnson of Cary in the backfield; Ghoson of Oxford, Hoyle of Wakeland, Dale of Fuquay Springs, at the ends; Tucker and Holden of Louthburg, Bray and Budd of Siler City and Sanford of Laurinburg strengthening the line, Louisburg has a team that any Junior college may well be proud.

The injuries to Burgess, the spirited captain, took away the punch from the team and caused a non score game with Oak Ridge, although statistics give evidence of Louisburg superiority; first downs, Louisburg 15, Oak Ridge, 4.

The game with Campbell College on November 4, at Louisburg at 2:30 will celebrate Louisburg College's Home Coming Day. With rapid improvement from physical injuries, the Louisburg team will be ready for a stiff battle.

James Madison May

On Saturday afternoon of October 28, 1933, a large crowd of friends and relatives gathered in Maple Springs Baptist Church at Mapleville for the funeral services of Mr. J. M. May, which were conducted by Rev. D. P. Harris, pastor of Louisburg Baptist church. Mr. May was born January 26, 1847 and died October 26, 1933. He was the son of J. J. and Elizabeth Gilliam May. He spent several years of his life at Franklinton, where in 1907 he became a member of the Baptist church there. On August 3, 1909 he married Miss Bessie Bailey daughter of J. W. Bailey of Middlesex. To this union were born four children—John H. May; Marvin M. May; Miss Eugenia E. May; and Miss Leona May, all of whom survive.

Three brothers—J. O. May, Cedar Rock; R. H. May, Rocky Mount; and T. H. May, Pittsburgh, Penn.; and two sisters—Mrs. Ida R. Valentine, Cedar Rock; and Mrs. Geneva Collins, Cedar Rock, also survive him.

In speaking of the deceased Rev. Harris said, "it was not my good fortune to know Mr. May very intimately, but the great crowd that gathered at his funeral bore its splendid testimony to his great worth as a citizen, and to the purity of his Christian character. He repeatedly assured his family that he was prepared to meet his God. During his last day or two on earth he was heard answering a voice that he said was calling him. He declared he knew the voice, and asked his wife if she too could not hear this voice calling him. After a while he told them it was the voice of his mother, and that he had known who it was calling him.

From all I can learn, Mr. May was a most worthy man, lived a clean Christian life, and was ready to pass into the great beyond whenever it might be the good will of our Father to call him hence. Our sincere sympathies go out to his wife, and sons and daughters, and sisters, and brothers. They must meet him in heaven presently."

HIGH TOBACCO AVERAGES

Good Breaks On Louisburg Market

250,700 Pounds Sold On Monday For $17.67 Average—Good Sales Each Day—Many Big Individual Averages

The wide popularity of the Louisburg tobacco market for the 1933 season is best evidenced in the fact that three times as much tobacco has already been sold here this year to Nov. 1st as was sold last year to the same date, even though the market has been open two weeks less time than last year.

On Monday the market sold 250,700 at an average of $17.67, which included many individual averages ranging around the 30 cent mark. Tuesday's sale averaged $16.92 and Wednesday's $16.17.

The most encouraging thing about the phenomenal popularity of the Louisburg market is the fact that it is being given credit for leading all other markets on like grades and the great satisfaction and delight of the many farmers selling at Louisburg.

It is reported that a man from Nash County who had sold most of his crop and had given up hopes of getting 20 cents or above sold in Louisburg this week two medium grades for $24.50 and $26.00.

It is being suggested that farmers expecting to sell on the Louisburg market on Monday begin coming early, even Saturday would not hurt, as it will give more time for unloading and assure better floor space.

Louisburg is inviting tobacco growers to sell here this year for better prices, and the entire town and community is joining in extending a welcome. Come and be with us.
