SEN. WAYNICK SPEAKS HERE

Sen Capus Waynick, Director of Federal Re-employment in the State, entertained the members and a number of invited guests at Louisburg Kiwanis Luncheon at Franklin Hotel on Friday night with a splendid address. Senator Waynick is a fluent and entertaining speaker and gave much inside information relating to the scope and objects of the Department he represents.

The music by the local committee was much enjoyed as well as the splendid luncheon served. The guests attending were as follows: C. W. E. Pittman, Director of Relief, Franklin County; A. F. Sharpe, Case Worker, G. L. Bobbitt, Project Supervisor, Charles Young, Re-employment Agent; M. S. Clifton, Disbursing Officer, of the Federal Relief Department in Franklin; Harry P. Stevens, Federal Crop Loan Ad-juster; County Commissioners, Dr. C. H. Banks, C. C. Hudson, T. W. Boone; Dr. J. E. Fulghum, Miss Edna Oliver, representing the Health Department; Mrs. J. F. Mitchner, Superintendent Public Welfare; Miss Anne Benson Priest, Home Agent; E. J. Morgan, Farm Agent; Mayor W. C. Webb.

Was for 38 Years Clerk of Superior Court in Vance; Outstanding Citizen

Henderson, Jan. 15.—Colonel Henry Perry, 77, for 38 years clerk of Vance Superior Court, died of a heart attack at his home here tonight shortly after 7 o'clock. He had been in failing health for several months, and against the advice of his physician insisted on attending last week's term of criminal court. He suffered several minor heart attacks during the day Sunday and a severe one early Sunday evening. He appeared to rally, however, though his condition was not materially improved today. Shortly after midnight another severe attack came and he died before a doctor could reach his bedside.

Col. Henry Perry Called By Death

Colonel Perry is survived by his widow, Mrs. Janie Hall Perry, of Henderson and Mrs. Flora McKinnon Perry, of New York city, widow of Henry Leslie Perry, an only child, who died ten years ago, and two sisters, Mrs. A. C. Zollcoffer and Mrs. W. H. Nicholson, both of this city.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed tonight, but services will probably be held Wednesday afternoon from Holy Innocents Episcopal church, of which he was a prominent member and a high official. Interment will be in Elmwood cemetery here.

Colonel Perry was widely known to judges and lawyers over the state. He was perhaps the oldest superior court clerk in North Carolina, both in age and point of service. He was first elected to the office here in 1892 but after four years was defeated in the Populist wave that swept the state. In 1900 he was re-elected, however, and had held the office continuously since that time, and never missed a term of court in the entire period until last October when illness kept him at his home.

Colonel Perry was one of the county's outstanding citizens, and a lifelong Democrat. When Leslie Perry, died ten years ago, the parents and the widow donated to Henderson and Vance county the H. Leslie Perry memorial library, tax supported institution and one of the greatest benefactions in this section of North Carolina.

Colonel Perry was a native of Franklin county, but came to Henderson in his early manhood and had lived here until his death. He was affectionately esteemed by those who knew him and his name was a household word in Vance county.

Frightened Into It
"How long have you been working for this company?"
"Ever since they threatened to fire me."—Safe Worker.

The absent-minded professor met his son in school one morning and said, "Good morning, John. How's your father?"
"Daughter, your hair is all mussed up. Did that young man kiss you against your will?"
"He thinks he did, mother."

First Ambassadors To and From Soviet Russia

WASHINGTON: Alexander Troyanovsky, (left) is now "at home" here, the first Russian Ambassador to the United States since post world war days. The Soviet Ambassador was joined at Paris by William C. Bullitt, U. S. Ambassador to Russia, the two returning to the United States together. Ambassador Bullitt will return to Russia in late February.

GALA MID-NIGHT SHOW PROJECTS APPROVED

LOUISBURG THEATRE
SUNDAY, JAN. 21st

Feature Picture "Broken Dreams."

The Louisburg Theatre is showing for a mid-night show Sunday night, 12:01, Randolph Scott, Martha Sleeper, Beryl Mercer and Buster Phelps in "Broken Dreams."—A brand new domestic drama with an appealing title, and grand entertainment. "Broken Dreams" packs much human interest, with audience sympathies concentrated on a little boy and a well chosen comedy situation that will make you roar with laughter.

As will be seen from their advertisement on page three of this issue stating that "Cowgirls of the Golden West" would appear at this mid-night show, also on Monday and Tuesday, but on account of this performance being unavoidably cancelled, it will not be presented. But the pictures as advertised will be shown.

Fills Vacancies

Louisburg College announces the appointment of two teachers to fill the vacancies caused by the resignations of Mrs. Theo Wooten McCullers and Miss Isabel Ziegler. Miss Amelia Bruns of Charlotte, N. C., becomes the teacher of vocal music, and Mr. A. S. Berghauer of Rogersville, Tenn., becomes the head of the Department of Foreign Languages.

Mr. Berghauer is A. B., M. A., Duke University. He has had several years experience as a teacher of foreign languages and is highly recommended by the authorities of Duke University.

Miss Amelia Bruns has the degree of Bachelor of Music, Converse College, Spartanburg, S. C. She has had three seasons in New York under Percy Rector Stephen and Estelle Liebling. Miss Bruns has been heard in special auditions by Lily Pons, Gigli, and Jeanette Vreeland. All of these celebrities gave her great encouragement in the pursuit of her art. Miss Bruns won first place in the North Carolina Atwater-Kent Radio Auditions in 1928 and 1932. In the district audition at Atlanta, Ga., in 1928 she won third place, and in the district audition in Louisville, Ky., in 1932 second place. The encouragement given to her by eminent singers who have heard her and the victories she has won in Atwater-Kent auditions give clear evidence of her superior ability as a singer. She gave a brief recital in the Social Hall of the College on the evening of Thursday, the 18th.

WILLARD E. COOPER DEAD

The funeral services for Mr. Willard E. Cooper, who died early Saturday morning at Rex Hospital, Raleigh, following an aggravated case of pneumonia, were held from the home of his father, Mr. W. J. Cooper on Kenmore Avenue Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock conducted by Rev. D. P. Harris, pastor of the Louisburg Baptist church, of which the deceased was a faithful member. The interment was made at Oaklawn cemetery with full Masonic honors, the Masonic ceremony being in charge of Mayor J. M. Turley, of Clayton, Master of the Clayton Lodge, in which the deceased held membership. Each of the services were largely attended, many distant places being represented showing the wide popularity of the deceased, and the floral tribute was especially large and pretty.

The pall bearers were as follows: Honorary—Jimmie Nelson, Burt Sheppard, W. C. Webb, Frank Wheelers, Jr., Lawrence Miller, Tom Duncan, Newman Freeman. Active—Bennie Wheelers, Osmond J. Hale, H. H. Hilton, Kenneth Collier, A. W. Person, Ned Ford.

Besides his wife who was Miss Virginia Wilder, the deceased is survived by his father Mr. W. J. Cooper, three brothers, Messrs. Lawrence Cooper and James Y. Cooper, of Clayton, W. J. Cooper, Jr., two sisters, Mrs. Leon Vick, of Henderson, and Mrs. John D. Beatty, of Elizabethtown, N. C.

Mr. Cooper was one of Louisburg's most popular and promising young men. At the time of his death he was an active cotton buyer on the Louisburg market and was developing quite a lucrative business in fertilizer and cotton. His business dealings were handled so fairly and in such a pleasant manner that he won the confidence and made friends of all in whom he came in contact. He was thirty years of age and was the son of Mr. W. J. Cooper, one of Louisburg's popular business men, and member of the Board of Town Commissioners.

The bereaved family has the deepest sympathy of a large number of friends.

Tubercular Sanatorium For Franklin County

Plans for a new Tubercular Hospital, to be erected at the County Home, for Franklin County, were submitted to the County Commissioners at a special meeting, January 11, 1934.

This institution is to be erected through the help of the C. W. A. and the project, approved by the County Commissioners, has been submitted to authorities of C. W. A. in Washington for their approval.

The erection of this institution will fill a long felt need and solve the problem of hospitalization for tubercular patients in Franklin County. This move will be of great importance in the control of tuberculosis within our county.

The plans for a fourteen bed institution to be located on the land already owned by the county near the County Home. The approximate cost of the hospital will be between eight thousand and ten thousand dollars. The Board of County Commissioners appointed the following committee to follow up this project: Dr. O. P. Fitzgerald, chairman, Dr. James E. Fulghum, Mrs. Ben. T. Holden, and Mr. C. C. Hudson.

Louisburg Milling Company Gives Away Towels

A nice bath towel is being given to the customer who brings Louisburg Milling Company as much as 10 bushels of corn at one load to be ground either for himself or neighbor. A few weeks ago this Mill ran an advertisement in our paper announcing this offer and Mr. J. R. Debnam, of Sandy Creek Township, was the first to receive a towel, followed closely by Mr. O. G. Phelps, of Louisburg township.

We are informed that the offer is still open and the towels are ready to be delivered as rapidly as they are called for.

They are also buying corn which farmers have for sale. See their advertisement elsewhere in this issue.

BABE RUTH

TO CONTEST INJUNCTION

New York.—Standard Oil Company of New Jersey announced its intention to oppose the application of the Secretary of the Interior for an injunction to restrain it from carrying out its radio contract with Babe Ruth, who has enrolled over 500,000 youngsters in his Babe Ruth Boys Club conducted over the air.

"This suit," officials of the company explained, "is understood to be based on the theory that in offering of the prizes to the boys in the form of baseballs, fielder's mitts, and trips to training camp violates rules 16 and 17 of the Code of Fair Competition for the petroleum industry.

"Rules 16 and 17 do not present a new limitation on the marketing of petroleum products. These rules have been in existence for our years, and since 1929 have been part of a code approved by the Federal Trade Commission. They were devised and intended to prevent the practice of selling petroleum products below the open posted prices. It is regrettable that the government's interpretation of these provisions should lead it to attempt to interfere with the project in which the prizes are offered not as a price concession or in any way in connection with sales, but in pursuance of a legitimate advertising program."

It should be clearly understood, as emphasized in the radio announcements, that participation in the contest involves no obligation whatsoever to make any purchases from the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and its affiliates, the Standard Oil Company of Pennsylvania, the Standard Oil Company of Louisiana and the Colonial Beacon Oil Company.

"The company is supporting the Code and endeavoring scrupulously to observe it in letter and in spirit."
Babe Ruth and his Boys Club have been broadcasting since January 3 for the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and its affiliated operating companies. The program is built around the Boys Club idea and offers prizes each week of 200 baseballs and 100 fielder's mitts to club members. In addition, Ruth plans to take fifty youngsters to his Spring training camp as awards in a prize contest.

When reached today Ruth expressed surprise that the Government would even attempt to interfere with any effort to build an interest in sports.

"I've got half a million kids in my club now," he explained. "I can't let them down. These kids believe in me and in my club and I've got to carry this thing along. Kids are writing me from all over the country and I can't see why the Government wants to stop our radio program just because we're giving the kids a few prizes to keep them interested in the club."

Far Ahead Glimpse Into Program Is Offered; Will Ask Fund

Washington, Jan. 17.—Congress had a far-ahead glimpse into the administration legislative program today while setting out to dispatch the business more immediately at hand, the extraordinary monetary bill.

Rejoicing that it was given jurisdiction, the house coinage committee put aside its dollar stabilization hearing to polish the Roosevelt dollar bill. Senatorial doubters, meanwhile, had white house word that President Roosevelt obtained an affirmative opinion from Attorney General Cummings on the constitutionality of his plan for the federal government to take over all monetary gold before he put it into a recommendation for the legislation.

There also fluttered to the capitol from the other end of Pennsylvania avenue the news that the promised request for over $1,000,000,000 of additional recovery program funds for this year will be along soon. Trailing behind a few weeks will be what Mr. Roosevelt has to say on stock exchange regulation, war debts, tariff reciprocity powers, railroad and general transportation questions and more government agency consolidation.

To Finance CWA
Out of the added money to be spent between now and June the civil works administration will be financed.

Senate committee banking and air mail investigations attracted many auditors there; while the house, buying itself with the interior department appropriations, had little out of the ordinary to offer. Possibility of a banking committee contest against the coinage committee there for jurisdiction over the 50-60-percent gold dollar bill provided one long chance for fireworks, however.

Chairman Smith of the senate agriculture committee laid plans to introduce a bill to prohibit government cotton crop predictions, which he insists do not truly reflect the crop's condition and which "disturb" the market. Congressmen, their interests being as varied and full as those of the many-sided sections electing them, found in downtown developments more material for reflection, including:

Allot Millions
The PWA continued to allot millions for job-making construction, setting aside almost $8,000,000 for 53 non-federal projects in 23 states.

It became apparent that the administration will make no effort to extend the life of the Hawes-Cutting Philippine independence bill, which expires today, but it will hold the opinion that this legislation can always be revised.

Meanwhile, independence for the Philippines within two or three years, providing the United States grants ten years' preferential trade relations after independence, was proposed to the President by the Quezon delegation from the island.

As an alternative, it suggested, a flat grant of independence on July 4, 1940, with present trade relations between the two countries to continue until then.
