England Named To Revenue Job

Former State Game Warden Succeeds J. R. Collie In State Department

J. R. Collie's 13 years of service with the North Carolina Revenue Department end today.

The resignation of Collie, deputy commissioner in charge of field forces of the department, was announced yesterday by Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell. His successor will be Charles England, for years a prominent figure in State official and political circles.

Mr. Maxwell, in announcing the change, put an end to rumors that the immediate "shake-up" would result in the ouster of A. E. Beddingfield, head of the income tax division. "I know of no further changes contemplated at present," the commissioner said.

Phelps Quitting

The resignation of Jack Phelps, assistant chief of the income tax division, effective March 20, also was announced yesterday by Mr. Maxwell. Phelps has accepted a New York position at considerable advance in salary, the Commissioner's statement said. No reason was given for Collie's resignation.

Mr. England's last connection with the State was as State Game Warden, a job abolished by the 1933 General Assembly. Prior to that time he had been secretary to Governor A. W. McLean and Congressman Claude Kitchin.

Mr. Maxwell, in announcing the two resignations, said:

"Both these gentlemen have given valuable service to the State and the Department of Revenue. Mr. Collie has been connected with the department since its organization. Mr. Phelps has been particularly efficient as an income tax auditor, and in the four years of his service has furnished the base for assessment of approximately two million dollars of additional income taxes.

With 'Best Wishes'

"Both of them leave the service with the best wishes of the Commissioner."

Mr. Collie is drawing $2,700 yearly. His successor's salary has not yet been set. Frank Dunlap, assistant director of the budget said yesterday.

Mr. Dunlap said he also was notified yesterday that John Briggs and Miss Virginia Eller, employees of the Revenue Department, would not be on the pay roll after March 15. "Their services were not needed in the reorganized department," Mr. Maxwell said.—News-Observer.

Paying 80 Per Cent

Mr. G. D. Arndt, Secretary of the Growers Agricultural Credit Corporation, of Raleigh, was in Louisburg yesterday making a settlement with grower borrowers on the last two years business. He said he was making a distribution of 80 per cent of the stock subscribed by the borrowers at this time and expected that in a short while a further payment could be made. Considering the unfavorable crop years in the past this is a very creditable showing.

Chief of Police, C. E. Pace, respectfully requests the public to observe the following traffic regulations. These regulations are all covered by Town Ordinances, and any driver of vehicles can be prosecuted for the violation of them.

1. All automobiles must have two good lights in front and one on the rear. All automobiles must be equipped with mufflers and good brakes. Automobiles can not be equipped with sirens, or horn that is unnecessarily loud.

2. Speed limits are 20 miles per hour in the residential sections and fifteen miles per hour in the business zones. State laws apply to school and hospital zones.

3. No person under sixteen years of age will be permitted to drive a car within the town limits of Louisburg, unless he is accompanied by his parents.

4. No parking of automobiles is permissible on the streets within the business district, between the hours of 3 A. M. and 6 A. M. Such parking prevents the proper use of the street sweeper.

6. Don't park in front of a Fire Hydrant. Don't drive across fire hose. When the fire alarm sounds, pull to one side of the street and wait until the fire truck has passed.

7. The streets are marked for parking. Please park according to these markers and do not block some other fellow who may be in a hurry to move on. Don't park too near corners.

8. Under no circumstances drive on the left side of the street. These traffic regulations are made for your convenience and protection. The Police Department will appreciate the cooperation of all drivers in obeying these regulations, and thereby making Louisburg a safe place in which to operate a car. If you see any one violating these traffic regulations, complain to the Police Department; not about it.

Big Snow

On last Saturday this section was visited by quite a heavy snow storm. The snow began falling in the early hours of Saturday morning and by day the ground was covered. The snow fell all day and into the night. Had it not been that the ground was wet and warm the snow would have reached at least 10 inches. As it was in many places it reached a depth of 4 to 5 inches. It began melting right fast Sunday and all had about disappeared by Wednesday afternoon.

Again on Wednesday night another snow fell. During the early part of the night rain prevailed, but when morning came the ground was blanketed in white.
