Important To Delinquent Tax Payers

As will be seen from an advertisement of Chas. P. Green, County Attorney in another column, delinquent tax payers are reminded they have only until April 1st to refinance their taxes with the County. After this time the County proposed to proceed to close up all delinquent tax accounts not otherwise taken care of. Of course in the institution of these tax suits and closing them there is a certain amount of cost that the County will pass along to the tax payer or to the purchaser of the property. It is to save this expense that all delinquent tax payers are urged to make arrangements to take care of their taxes by or before April 1st. There are several methods one can use to take care of this situation. The most convenient and practical is with the County or the Federal Land Bank. Those in arrears sufficiently long to endanger suits should see the County Attorney at once and take some immediate action towards taking care of these accounts in order to save unnecessary additional costs.

MISS TIMBERLAKE ENTERTAINS

The Business Women's Circle was delightfully entertained by Miss Elizabeth Timberlake Thursday night, March 16th, with eight members and four visitors present. Miss Lucy Timberlake, the president, presided. The scripture lesson was given by the president, business attended to and program rendered. At the close of the program Miss Elizabeth Timberlake had charge of the social hour which was greatly enjoyed by members and visitors. Two contests were used which worked us hard but some were fortunate enough to figure them out and they won a prize for their reward. After the contests the hostess, assisted by Lulu May Timberlake, served delicious refreshments. Those enjoying Miss Timberlake's hospitality, as well as profiting by the program, were: Visitors, Mrs. R. G. Bailey, Mrs. Geo. Selby, Miss Newkirk and Mrs. F. Suttenfeld; members, Mrs. C. H. Murphy, Mrs. C. C. Hudson, Misses Anne Benson Priest, Marie Meade, Lillie Edwards, Eleanor Collier and Lucy Timberlake.

Bunn Woman's Club

The Bunn Woman's Club held its regular meeting Friday, March 16th, at the High School. The meeting was opened with a song, followed by the club pledge read by the Secretary, Mrs. E. M. Beddingfield.

The roll call was answered by each member telling something interesting about the new Spring fashions.

The President called for committee reports and Mrs. W. L. Williams reported on the Fiddler's Convention (sponsored by the club) which was held at Bunn High School on March the 8th.

The purpose of the convention being to raise money to improve the old school building, now occupied by the grammar grades.

Project leaders then gave their reports for the month of February, since the club had decided to keep more accurate records for the year 1934 by recording all projects accomplished during each month.

A most interesting talk was given by Mrs. Robert Johnson (child development leader) on "Your child and the Movies," showing the necessity of choosing the right pictures for children to see.

The meeting was then turned over to Miss Priest, who gave an interesting display of the newest material samples, patterns, and fashion books.

Candy was served by the social committee, after which the meeting adjourned.

Mrs. E. M. Beddingfield, Secretary.

Importance Of Daily Attendance

In an address before the Parent-Teachers Association of Mills high school on Thursday afternoon of last week, Miss Louise Joyner, a member of the faculty, paid particular stress on the importance of daily attendance, and gave some convincing figures and examples, which naturally revived the interest of all the friends of the school and all those interested in the welfare of the children. Figures quoted by the speaker showed that absences increased from 788 in September to 1905 in January and dropping back to 1690 in February. Of course bad weather and sickness was responsible for a portion of this, but it was her opinion that indifference on the part of parents was responsible for a large percentage of the absences. This not only hinders the child in its educational progress but will have serious effect upon the capacity and efficiency of the school in the fact that the allotment of teachers for another year is made upon the basis of the attendance of the former year. In this case it means fewer teachers and less personal attention to the children. A most impressive, but real, contrast was drawn by the speaker, in the following: "I think just now of a bright, attractive boy of 16 years, in the 6th grade, another of 18 in the same grade, another of 17 in the fourth grade. Each of these boys is capable of learning, capable of keeping up with his class year by year. Each should be in high school, at least. Yet, on account of very irregular attendance, each one finds himself amongst youngsters who seem mere babies in contrast to his own age and size. How much finer citizens these boys would prove to be, what an addition to their community, if they were equipped with a high school education.

At 3:00 o'clock Edward Best played Aycock and won. The semi-final game was played between Aycock and Gold Sand at 7:00. Gold Sand won this game by a few points. At 8:30 the final game was played between Middleburg and Edward Best. Middleburg won this game by a few points.

After the final game a trophy cup was presented to the winning team, which was Middleburg.

New Cooperative Formed In State

Raleigh, March 20. — The Farmers Cooperative Exchange, a State-wide cooperative organization which was incorporated here this week with an authorized capital stock of half a million dollars, will be in active operation by May 1, according to M. G. Mann, general manager.

The new organization will take over the functions of the three purchasing organizations that have been operating in the State—the Cotton Growers Supply Company, of Raleigh, the Producers Mutual Exchange, of Durham, and the Southern States Cooperative.

The initial working capital will be furnished by these three organizations and it is expected that additional capital will be secured through the Farm Credit Administration's Bank for Cooperatives at Columbia, S. C.

The new cooperative, the services of which will be available to every one of the State's more than 275,000 farmers, will serve as a cooperative purchasing medium for feeds, seeds and fertilizers and other farm supplies and equipment and will also provide a cooperative marketing outlet for poultry, eggs, and livestock and for crops not now handled by commodity cooperatives.

Under the plan local distributing points will be set up all over the State—probably one or more to a county—and the organization will operate on a cost basis with patronage dividends being paid back to members.

Although comparatively new in the South, the idea of cooperative purchasing has been successfully practiced by Northern and Western farmers for some time.

The Farmers Cooperative Exchange is patterned after the Grange League Federation of New York State which has been in successful operation for 10 years and which does an annual business of more than $30,000,000.

Leaders of farm life in the State have unanimously endorsed the cooperative, pointing out that it will eliminate competition, pass on to farmers the benefits of large scale buying and tie together more closely the various agencies dealing with farm betterment.

W. W. Eagles, of Macesfield, is president, and Dudley Bagley, of Moyock, vice-president of the cooperative. E. S. Vanatta, of University Station, is secretary-treasurer, and B. W. Haigh, of Raleigh, is assistant secretary-treasurer.

The directors are: U. Benton Blalock, Raleigh; C. W. Tilson, Durham; W. E. Funderburk, Monroe; J. W. Albritton, Calypso; and J. W. McCorkle, Kernersville.
