HAROLD D. COOLEY

COOLEY GETS BIG MAJORITY

Saturday's special election rolled up quite a big majority for Harold D. Cooley for Congress against his Republican opponent Hobart Brantley, of Spring Hope. Although the voting was light as compared with that of the first and second primaries, when fifty seven hundred and four thousand respectively were cast, Cooley received a vote in Franklin County of 2226 to Brantley's 54.

Franklin township rolled up the biggest vote in the election and reports from all districts show quiet and orderly voting, but no great interest on the part of the voters, feeling that the action of the primary was all that was necessary.

Julius Lehman, one of Louisburg's oldest residents died at his home on Main street on Friday about 1:30 o'clock in the 69th year of his age. His remains were taken to Baltimore Saturday for interment beside his wife who preceded him to the grave many years ago.

Mr. Lehman came to Louisburg in the latter eighties and has been identified with the town's business life ever since, part of the time in business for himself and at other times in the employ of others. He was well known to Franklin County people.

Wilson, July 11.—Two prominent politicians were endorsed for office at a political gathering held at Silver Lake park today which was attended by a number of outstanding politicians and citizens of this section of the State.

Judge Wilson Warlick was endorsed for governor of the State and W. L. Lumpkin, of Franklin county, was endorsed for speaker of the house at the caucus.

The management of Silver-Lake Park was host to the delegation at a delicious dinner which was prepared and served under the direction of Ed. Petway-John Wells, chairman of entertainment at the park, arranged the session and extended a cordial welcome to the visiting dignitaries.

Among speakers at the caucus were the following: A. O. Dickens, of this city; W. L. Lumpkin, of Franklin county; Col. Langston, Larry I. Moore, Claude Abernethy, M. S. Strickland and Troy Barnes.

The gathering was considered highly successful despite the fact that Hon. Harold D. Cooley, of Nashville, recently elected Congressman, was unable to attend because of duties in Washington, D. C., and the absence of Congressman Lindsay Warren, of Washington, N. C., who was unable to be present because of the press of governmental business.

What-Not Bargain Store Robbed

On Wednesday night of last week thieves entered the What-Not Bargain Store on Main Street and carried away quite a number of articles. The entrance was made through a back window, after having pried the iron bars loose. Evidently the knocking of the phone receiver off the hook, together with movements outside the building frightened the thieves and caused them to leave post haste. The amount of loss has not been determined by Mrs. Perry, proprietor, but has found among the missing articles such things as cloaks, caps, hose, beads and yard goods. At this writing no clue as to the identity of the thieves has been found or arrests have been made.

YOUNG PEOPLE HEAR BURGESS

Vice President of Dry Forces Addresses Meeting; Rev. E. C. Few Also Speaks

The Tuesday morning session of the Young People's Methodist Conference was featured by an address delivered by Cale Burgess, vice-president of the North Carolina Dry Forces, on the subject "What Will You Do With Alcohol?"

"There are two reasons why I am glad to address this group," said Mr. Burgess. "First, because I am not one of the people who subscribed to the idea that young people have gone to thunder; and, secondly, because the solution of this great problem will rest largely with the young people of this generation. Alcohol is a habit forming narcotic drug and its excessive use is condemned universally, but it is the moderate use that gives trouble."

Mr. Burgess stated that conditions are better today than before the days of prohibition though he declared there is still too much liquor. In proving his argument he quoted the following statistics:

Fifty-five per cent of insanity is either directly or indirectly traceable to alcohol. Over the thirteen-year period from 1920 through 1933 the insanity caused by alcohol has decreased sixty-six per cent. Over this same period drunkenness has decreased 70 per cent; deaths from alcoholism have decreased 42 per cent; the number of Keely institutes have decreased from 98 in 1920 to 68 in 1933; the number of all other institutions for treating drunks has decreased from 275 in 1920 to 68 in 1933, and the only explanation of this is that they have been forced out of business, he said.

"God pity the day that North Carolina taxes a recognized evil for revenue," he said in pointing out the grave danger that young people who do not know the actual conditions might be misled by propaganda.

His appeal to the young people was not for temperance, if by temperance was meant any drinking at all, he plead for total abstinence.

At the morning watch Miss Virginia Bradshaw, of Burlington, spoke on "The Call to the Abundant Life" and at the evening vesper service Mrs. Charles Thrift of Durham, made a talk on "The Call of the Radiant Christ to the Modern World." Miss Agnes Chase sang the theme song of the Assembly "Are Ye Able?"

"Great unfinished tasks still challenge young Methodists and young Christians everywhere," added Rev. E. C. Few, pastor of Edenton Street Methodist church, in an address.

"More than once has the world been moved by young men of daring. It remains that daring more outstanding than anywhere else is needed in the realm of the moral and spiritual. Let us dare be Christian. For a long time men have prayed, 'Thy Kingdom come, thy will be done on earth.' Also for a long time men have done very little about the answer to this prayer. Nations continue to do battle one with one and to prepare war. Christians pray and Christians fight. The Golden Rule is slightly repeated and just as glibly thrown aside. The church has far to go yet, and who more than the youth of our land should be called to the kingdom for such a time as this? Genuine religion is vastly more than a creed and forms, it is practical. It touches life everywhere and blesses it with its touch. Do we of today stand prepared to put into practice the Golden Rule and to translate into actual living the ideals of Jesus Christ?"

Scout Meeting

All girl scouts and their mothers are invited and urged to be present at the Scout meeting Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the Scout room at the Graded School to discuss preparations for camp.

Big Train Wreck

Big Damage When Southern Freight Train Wrecks At Morrisville Tuesday

Morrisville, July 10.—A tangled, melted mass of freight cars, gasoline cars, railroad tracks and burning timbers was all that remained after a fast-moving 61-car Southern Railway freight train west bound leaped from the track here at 7:05 Tuesday morning and crashed to a blazing halt.

Until the wreckage cools and an examination may be made it is impossible to say exactly how many were dead and injured, said Coroner L. M. Waring, of Wake county, who reached the scene of the wreck early after it was reported.

At Durham the list of injured taken to hospitals was given as: Sam Berry, 28, of Dorchester, S. C., badly bruised, but not seriously hurt; Heskiah Nichols and Andrew Nichols, both of Gibson, with the extent of their injuries unknown, but both apparently seriously hurt, and Clemon Nichols, also of Gibson, who suffered superficial injuries.

What happened to four other persons that the coroner was told were taken from the wreck and sent to Durham for examination for injuries could not be ascertained immediately.

Coroner Waring said that members of the train crew who helped the injured from the wreck said they thought they saw the bodies of two men under one of the cars.

Hoboes on Train
As many as 20 hoboes were believed to have been riding on the train by members of the wrecking crew. It was said that 11 got on at Raleigh. It may be that the entire list of the dead may never be compiled, as the mass of wreckage and ashes might easily remove all trace of any who were in its midst.

The wreck occurred right in the middle of this little village, located 12 miles west of Raleigh. One of the gasoline cars, which did not catch fire, fell a few feet from the station. Gasoline was sprinkled upon the wall of the station, flung there when the car overturned. Cars on the train were scattered on both sides of the tracks, and automobiles on the Raleigh-Durham highway were forced to turn off the road to get past.

The wreck occurred almost exactly where a similar derailment in which one gasoline car burned, took place about 15 months ago.

BEN T. HOLDEN IS SERIOUSLY INJURED

When Truck Strikes Car He Is Repairing Near Elko

May Die As Result of Crash—Reuben Eldredge, Highway Employee, Released Under His Own Recognition—Charges May Be Preferred Against Eldredge in Case Boy Fails to Recover

A youth of 17 is dangerously near death in the general hospital of this city as a result of an accident in the Carlin canyon near this city Saturday night.

Benjamin Thomas Holden is the injured man and in the event of his death serious charges may be preferred against Reuben Eldredge, highway employe, with headquarters in Carlin.

Holden was proceeding to the east with his mother, Mrs. B. T. Holden, his mother's sister and a brother and two sisters. They were returning to their home in Louisburg, N. C., after a vacation trip.

About 400 yards beyond the dam in the Carlin canyon, a tire was punctured on the Holden car and young Holden got out to make repairs. He was in the act of doing this when a truck driven by Eldredge crashed into the car he was repairing.

Seriously Injured

Apparently Holden was struck by his own car, following the force of the collision. An examination at the hospital later showed he had suffered a fractured leg and possibly a fractured skull, although the full extent of his injuries had not been learned today. Hospital attendants declared that his condition was bad.

S. E. Huddleston was one of the first persons to arrive at the scene of the wreck and he took care of the injured man and sent a messenger to Elko to secure the ambulance. Members of the Holden family were out of the car when the collision occurred and none was injured with the exception of Holden's young brother, who received a few scratches.

Eldredge was not placed in custody, but was released on his own recognition, after being accompanied to Carlin by Constable A. H. Berning.

The accident occurred near 8 o'clock but it was 10 o'clock before the injured man was admitted to the hospital. In the meantime he was cared for by Huddleston. The Butler ambulance was also called and Constable Charles Harper accompanied E. T. Butler to the scene of the wreck. However, the other ambulance arrived shortly before and brought the injured youth to Elko.—Elko, Nev. Free Press, July 2.

C., at which place he will take over the liquidation of a like institution. Mr. Bennett will divide time between the Bank at Mebane and the Bank at Louisburg, probably giving the first three or four days of the week to Mebane and the remainder to Louisburg. He will be at the Louisburg bank Friday and Saturday of this week.
