CANNONS BOUND OVER

UNDER $500 JUSTIFI- ABLE BOND EACH

For Robbery of G. W. Mur- phy & Son Store Sunday Night, July 15th—Perry House Waives Examina- tion, and Gives State's Evidence — Maj. S. P. Boddie, J. P., Holds Hear- ing in Court Room

Roger Cannon and Johnnie Cannon were bound over to Franklin Superior Court under $500 justifiable bonds, each at a hearing given them before Maj. S. P. Boddie, Justice of the Peace in the Court room in Louisburg on Thursday afternoon of last week to answer to the charges of breaking into G. W. Murphy & Son's store and the larceny of goods therefrom. Ernest Perry House, who was a member of the party, after giving evidence for the State, waived examination and was placed under a $300 bond.

According to the testimony of Perry House and corroborated by police officers and findings the plot had been well laid. The three gathered under the bridge between 7 and 8 o'clock, appropriated a boat nearby, and went down the river to a point back of the store, or more nearly back of the jail. From there they went to the rear of the store, broke a street light in the back lot, and cut the wire making entrance into the store. It was not brought out which one of the Cannons went into the store. House refused to go in. Being detected by Mr. Murphy the one inside scrambled out and all ran for the river. Johnnie and House reaching there first got in the boat and crossed by the use of a pole. Later Roger called and they went back after him, the pole broke, so Roger and House swam the river pushing the boat containing Johnnie. From here they went to Roger Cannon's and changed clothes, and House went home.

The officers going to the river found a shirt, which being identified, led them to Roger Cannon's house, where Cannon was found with scratches on his back as if gotten in getting through the wire screen and finding the wet clothing and piers.

The defense offered no evidence, in rebuttal, and the Court ordered the bonds for their appearance at October term of Franklin Superior Court.

The state and private prosecution was represented by Mr. Chas. P. Green, who has developed quite a strong case and is giving much attention to the details of the evidence looking towards a more complete case when called in October.

PERRY WILSON LASSITER, JR. DEAD

On Thursday morning, June 28th Little Perry Wilson Lassiter, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Lassiter died after a short illness. He was the only son and just five months old. Interment was made at Corinth Baptist church Friday evening at 3 o'clock. The floral offerings were beautiful and bespoke the deepest sympathy of many friends.

A slight infestation of boll weevil is reported in Richmond County farms with a few farmers dusting with calcium arsenate.

JOHN DILLINGER IS KILLED IN CHICAGO

Arch Criminal Is Shot to Death As He Leaves Theatre in Evening

Chicago, July 23.—John Dillinger, arch criminal of the age, was shot dead last night by a group of Department of Justice operatives as he walked out of a Chicago movie theatre.

He whipped an automatic revolver out of his pocket and held it half raised when the operatives loosed a withering blast of revolver fire that dropped him mortally wounded. He died a few minutes later.

Fifteen operatives had surrounded the theatre after information had reached Melvin H. Purvis, Chicago agent for the Department of Justice, that Dillinger would attend the show. Not a word was spoken as the outlaw ran into the cordon of officers.

Dillinger knew what was coming. He gave a hunted look, reached quickly into his pocket and the guns roared.

The end of the greatest man-hunt in contemporary criminal annals came in the swift tempo in which the notorious outlaw had lived.

The federal men watched him buy his ticket, and then for more than two hours—"the longest two hours I ever spent", Purvis said—kept the theatre surrounded.

"It was late yesterday when I received undercover information that Dillinger would attend the movie, Manhattan Melodrama, at the Biograph theatre", Purvis said. "I hurriedly made arrangements to surround the theatre with picked men from among my investigators. They were armed only with pistols. No shotguns or machine guns were issued, for I wished no general firing that might endanger passersby."

"I stationed myself in my own automobile, parked on the same side of the street, and facing north. My men were stationed in the doorways about the theatre.

"It was shortly before 9 o'clock when I first noticed Dillinger. He was coatless, but wore a hat and gold-rimmed spectacles.

He had passed my car before I saw him, but I have studied every available photograph of him so carefully that I recognized the back of his head immediately.

"As he bought a ticket, I got profile and front views of him, and I knew I was not mistaken. Those two hours that he spent in the theatre, two hours and four minutes, to be exact, were the longest I ever spent.

"By the time he had left the show, our plans were complete, and my men were covering the neighborhood about the show so thoroughly that a cat couldn't have gotten through.

"When Dillinger left the show, he started south and again passed my car without noticing me. As soon as he had gotten a step past my car, I thrust my arm out of the car, dropped my hand and closed it, the pre-arranged signal for closing in. Instantly men appeared from all sides.

"Dillinger gave one hunted look about him, and attempted to run up an alley, where several of my men were waiting. As he ran, he drew an automatic pistol from his pocket, although I have always been told that he carried his weapon in his waist band.

"As his hand came up with the gun in it, several shots were fired by my men before he could fire. He dropped, fatally wounded. I had hoped to take him alive, but I was afraid that he would resist to the last.

"I was surprised to notice that the scar on the left side of his face had been removed without a trace, a nice piece of plastic surgery. It was one of my identification marks that I had impressed on my men."

"I'm glad it's over."

BIG STORM DAMAGE

The heavy wind, rain and hail storm that passed through Franklin County on last Friday night and also on Sunday night did considerable damage to crops and property. So far no loss of life has been reported.

In the Epsom Community centering around J. T. Weldon's Friday night crops were practically destroyed by hail and wind, especially tobacco. Also around Ingleside and Moulton with much property damage around Commissioner P. S. Foster's. Reports indicate great crop damage around Centreville with much wind damage.

Many barns and pack houses were reported struck by lightning and burned, including one at J. O. Wilson's and one near Four Bridges.

Several cows were reported killed, among them being one belonging to R. A. Pearce in Louisburg and one belonging to C. H. Stallings at Justice. In the latter instance Mr. Stallings' son was almost killed in the shock. The lightning did much damage to electric light and telephone systems in this section.

Many Industries Benefitted

Railroads, boat lines, trucking companies, and even air lines greatly benefitted by the increased production of automobiles during the first six months of 1934, according to statistics recently analyzed by the Chevrolet Motor Company.

During this period, automobile companies sold and registered more than a million passenger cars and trucks in the United States alone. The hauling of raw materials to the various factories and the movement of finished cars and trucks from factory to dealer make the automotive industry one of the greatest contributors to transportation revenue.

Chevrolet, according to figures released, uses all channels of transportation in manufacturing, assembling, and delivering cars. Three hundred and sixty railroads and numerous boat lines and trucking companies hauled 2,111,798 tons of Chevrolet freight during the first six months of 1934. During this time Chevrolet used 96,973 freight cars and the tonnage moved by means other than rail would have required an additional 63,528 freight cars.

This one motor manufacturer has thus contributed more than $20,000,000 to the nation's transportation systems. These figures do not include shipments of parts and accessories by airplane, an innovation in the automotive industry which is growing increasingly popular with dealers everywhere.

GREATER U. S. AIR FORCE

Urges Corps of 2,320 Planes as Provided in 1936 Act; Larger Ratio for Combat

Washington, July 23.—The United States Army Air Corps must be reorganized and brought to the highest efficiency in the world, the Baker Board reported today to Secretary of War Dorn.

The nation's civil and naval branches are second to none, the board declared, but the Army, largely because of Congressional sluggishness, is woefully laggard and requires immediate modernization.

6 Points Stressed
The report, compiled by a board headed by Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War under President Wilson, made an exhaustive study of all phases of military aviation. It recommended that:

1. Expansion of the Army Air Corps to 2,320 planes, the number provided in the 1926 Congressional Act, with a larger ration of combat planes.
2. A national aviation policy to be decided on and retained for at least a "reasonable" length of time.
3. Retention of the present air get-up with a closer co-ordination between ground and air troops. Suggestions of merging all military and naval aviation into a separate unit was called extravagant and impracticable.

Encourages Industry

4. Encouragement of the aviation industry to permit it to expand quickly and efficiently to wartime productive demands.

5. Revision of the internal organization of the air corps, increase in the number of flying hours per pilot from the present 150 to 200 hours to 300 hours yearly, greater training in flying under hazardous conditions and with instruments such as are used on commercial planes.

6. A liberal policy in encouraging and perfecting experimental developments and in permitting the Secretary of War to purchase by design competition, by negotiation and by open competition. Suggestions that the Government establish and maintain its own airplane factories were condemned.

Changes President

Columbia, S. C., July 23.—F. H. Daniel has tendered his resignation as president of the Federal Land Bank of Columbia, serving the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, to accept a position as assistant supervisor of the emergency crop and livestock division of the Farm Credit Administration in Washington, and Julian H. Scarborough, general agent of the Farm Credit Administration of Columbia, has been elected to succeed him, retaining at the same time his position as general agent. The change is effective immediately.

Mr. Daniel has been president of the land bank since 1929, having been prior to that time assistant manager and manager of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Columbia. He was elected president of the land bank to succeed the late Howard C. Arnold.

Mr. Scarborough who takes over the presidency of the land bank and who also retains the position as general agent was for seven and a half years state treasurer of South Carolina. He became general agent of the Farm Credit Administration of Columbia, which serves the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, on Dec. 15, 1933.

Mr. Scarborough is the third general agent of a Farm Credit Administration district to serve also as land bank president. The general agents of the Houston, Texas, and Springfield, Massachusetts districts are presidents of the land banks of their districts.

Youngsville News

Dr. Claude Timberlake and children, Dr. R. E. Timberlake's wife and R. E. Timberlake, Jr., and wife went to Nags Head for a week.

Miss Elizabeth Winston from Goldsboro and Miss Gertrude Holden of Louisburg are visiting Miss Gertrude Winston.

Dr. Claude Timberlake has just about finished the erection of a filling station just north of the city on Route 50 at the intersection of Hillsboro road.

Misses Coleen Wilder and Beatrice Jeffers, of Louisburg, are spending the week with Misses Mae Roberts and Lucille Timberlake.

The grading of Highway 500 through the city is making great headway.

Some fishes of the tropics eat only at night.

TOBACCO GROWERS

County Agent E. J. Morgan states that Saturday July 28 is the last day a tobacco contract can be accepted.

This means, he says, that any person in this county (Franklin) who was eligible to sign a contract last winter and did not sign, has until Saturday night, July 28 in which to sign. Those signing now will get rental and parity the same as those who signed last winter.

Those in the county who could not sign a contract will please write him giving their name and address so he will know to send allotment applications to.
