

Did you ever stop to think

EDSON R. WAIVE
Shawnee Okla.

The city that gets favorable publicity gets the business. If your merchants do not advertise their wares and go after outside trade, some other city will—and will get the business.

Laws are made for both public officials and private citizens to obey. When the private citizens only obey the law, a city or state is in a sorry way, indeed.

Times have changed. So have my opinions.

If local merchants paid as much attention to their advertising as they should, the mail order houses would not do much business.

It is said that prosperity is just around the corner, but it is a corner that will be successfully found and turned.

Unless a city is going forward it is really slipping backwards, as cities do not stand still.

If a lot of our politicians took a long vacation this country would get along better, as some of them are not constructive leaders.

Competition between cities spurs them on to civic achievement.

The government of a city is never better than its citizens want it to be.

Your Chamber of Commerce is busily engaged in improving trade conditions, social welfare and in encouraging the growth and prosperity of your city. Every business man should be an active member.

Some are asking why the Government sympathizes with farming and frowns at lotteries.

Designed in Sizes: 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52. Size 44 requires 5 yards of 39 inch material with 3/8 yard contrasting for ruffle.

FOR SLIM LINES
Pattern 8326: The larger woman will delight in this smart frock with its slenderizing lines and flattering surplice closing, good for early fall and all through the winter whether it is made in silk, satin or woolen.

The revers can sport the soft ruffling as shown in the large view or it can be smartly manish without the ruffle. The large buttons at the end of the side closing are a decorative touch. This frock is fitted in the back by means of darts, and the front of the skirt has a kick pleat at the end of the center seam. The sleeves also are interesting with the smooth fitted shoulders and wrists, and the wide flare at the elbows.

For PATTERN, send 15 cents in coin (for each pattern desired), your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE to Patricia Dow, The Franklin Times, Pattern Dept., 115 Fifth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

THE CHEAPEST STERILIZER

This is one of the most valuable letters I have ever sent you, so note it well; there is nothing more truthful.

In handling any sort of sore, ulcer, abrasion or fresh wound of whatever nature, it is absolutely necessary that you do so with CLEAN hands and CLEAN DRESSINGS. Nothing impure or "septic" should contact the unhealthy sore or lesion or wound. It is your duty to clean up at once.

"Peroxide" of hydrogen is a cheap, reliable cleanser for foul places—but do not use peroxide continuously, unless the physician advises that way. Peroxide may hinder healing indefinitely in ulcers or chronic sores. I seldom use it more than once—right at the beginning of treatment.

Leaving all medicine out, you have within the ordinary kitchen the best means of making things absolutely sterile—boiling. The finest hospitals use that method, and there is none better. You can boil water till it is absolutely free from germs. You can boil the old bit of muslin, and make first-class dressings for wounds. I can smile with satisfaction when I am called to attend a patient, and find his wound washed scrupulously clean with boiled water, and a clean, boiled "rag" resting over it to keep off flies, dust, or other impurity.

Bear in mind: A CLEAN wound begins healing at once. Clean wounds are seldom painful, because no irritants are there. And don't forget—you can clean a wound if you have some place to boil water and dressings.

Nothing DIRTY should touch any wound or sore that you desire to heal. . . . And you can clean a lesion as well as the best hospital in the land can do—if you try intelligently.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Fun the 4-H Way

Fun is a big thing in the life of boys and girls. Some thoughtless folks think it's foolish to spend time and money to provide it. They say in the good old days the youngsters made their own fun, so why not now. They did, but there was only one chance then of the fun being harmful to 10 in modern days that it will be. The reasons are plain to any thinking person.

4-H club leaders hold this view and plan the activities for their clubs with a proper allowance for recreation. They hold that recreation can be organized so that it is not altogether pure fun, or nonsense, although that no doubt serves a purpose at times.

Mrs. William C. Staley, a local club leader near De Ruyter, New York, gave her club of boys a jolly time this summer with an organized woodland party. It is one of many types of what might be called "serious" fun. The party was the main feature of a picnic. On gathering at the home of the leader the "gang" was told where to find a sheet of

Teachers Meeting

On Thursday afternoon, Nov. 1st, the teachers met to discuss plans for education week. As the theme was "Planning for Tomorrow through Support and Improvement of Schools" the teachers outlined their plans as to how they would bring out this idea in their own particular field of activity.

Mr. Holton spoke on "Enriching Character through education."

He maintained that this was the chief end of education and to achieve this correct attitude should be built up and instilled in the pupils. Miss Massey and Miss Roberts discussed "Planning for Tomorrow." This involves body, mind and soul. They stressed that permanent value was what was needed. The pupil should know that the greatest aid to him tomorrow will be a sound well-kept body, a strong character, and a trained alert mind.

Mrs. Moss and Mrs. Winston discussed "Developing New Types of Schooling." They showed the importance of the people realizing that as the world changes, methods must change accordingly. This must be applied and procedures of teaching changed according to the pupils' needs. Mrs. Preddy and Miss Hill gave plans for "Improving the Rural School." The chief idea, they maintained, is to keep the pupils busy and interested in what he is doing. In order to do this every person connected with the school—directly or indirectly—must cooperate to make it a success. Also, in order to keep the pupil busy with some profitable work, equipment is necessary. Miss Tharrington and Miss Strickland then discussed "Preparing for New Kinds of Service." They showed the importance of developing open-mindedness in the pupil—a weapon against changing modern conditions. They pointed out how the child could be taught to take a place in the home, church, school, and community. Mrs. Green and Miss Winston gave points on "Quickening the Sense of Civic Responsibility." In order to do this ideals must be built up and a respect for institutions of government taught. The pupil must be shown that he is a part of the government and to do his part he must prepare himself to be a thinking citizen. Mr. Mitchell discussed "Financing the School." He pointed out the fact that the sales tax taxes the individual according to the money he spends, and because of its existence the property tax is lower than it would be otherwise. He further showed the useful use of our money by comparing the old charter school with the modern school today.

A round table discussion followed each paper. Ideas were exchanged and new ones suggested. Mr. Mitchell suggested that we urge the children to tell their parents about Education Week and invite them to visit school during that time. The meeting then adjourned.

Just Nice Friendly Remarks
Pearl: "It must be three years since I saw you last. My, how you've changed! I hardly know you, you've aged so much."

Ruby: "Well, I wouldn't have recognized you in a thousand years, either. It was that dress that identified you."—Santa Fe.
