In Literature and Life the short story demands the most interest. Its qualities and methods of writing have been discussed. The Fall of the House of Usher, by one of our noted American writers, Edgar Allan Poe.

The study of Linear and Quadratic systems of equations, which proves to be easier than would be expected, is being taken up in Algebra.

The Home Economics girls have been cooking some good desserts for the past week. We cooked coconut macaroons, chocolate pie, cup cakes, oatmeal cookies and blanc mange.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

by Rev Charles E. Dunn

Peter's Denial. Lesson for January 27th. Mark 14: 12-72.

Golden Text: 1 Corinthians 10:12. The denial of Jesus by Peter is one of the most dramatic episodes in the gospel narrative. It is described by all four of the evangelists. All agree that Peter was identified as a disciple three times, and each time denied it until finally the cock crew.

Matthew, Mark, and Luke tell us that the cock's crowing reminded Peter of Jesus' prophecy of his base treachery, and of how he wept with remorse. Luke adds that "the Lord turned, and looked upon Peter."

Here Peter appears as anything but a rock. Timid, shrinking, nervous, he is a pitiful figure. How can we account for such a lapse? Dr. Matheson calls him constitutionally apprehensive because of his career as a fisherman. The Jews were afraid of the sea, and so the fishermen, thinks Dr. Matheson, were the most timid group in the community, as the shepherds were the bravest.

But a more impressive explanation is that the situation in which Peter found himself was very trying. Jesus was under arrest. Soon He would be condemned for blasphemy and executed. To be associated with Him at such a dreadful crisis was dangerous. No wonder Peter felt panicky!

Now our present world is in a similar state of panic. Consider what is happening in Germany. Chancellor Hitler is anxious to establish a Church that shall abandon the Old Testament in favor of German myths. The German race is to be preeminent, and cherished Christian ideals of the love of God and the brotherhood of man are to be withdrawn because of their Jewish and universal coloring. Due to their refusal to sanction this repudiation of their faith, distinguished professors and pastors now suffer dire persecution. Russia and Turkey are denying Christ in similar fashion. Will these sinning nations repent as did Peter? Time will tell.

BUNN SCHOOL NEWS

Published by Pupils of Bunn High School

New Equipment

Bunn High School has had the privilege of attaining some new playground equipment and a new stage curtain. A member of the high school took a woman around who was working with advertisements. The school was to have one-half of the profit but this was to be in the form of playground equipment instead of money. The company for which the woman was working sent us the playground equipment. If this equipment had been paid for in cash it would have cost much over a hundred dollars. The equipment has been a great pleasure to the students. The stage curtain has a large advertisement in the center for which the store advertising paid for. This went to pay part of the cost of the curtain. The curtain also has been greatly appreciated.

Basketball Games

The boys and girls of the Bunn High School basketball teams played against the boys and girls of Epsom High School. The score for the boys was 22-7 in favor of Bunn. The girls of Bunn lost by a score of 38-15. Both teams are planning to get in a lot of practice before the tournament.

MAY REMODEL BARN INTO EFFICIENT UNITS

The average dairy barn in North Carolina is about 25 years old, is dark, improperly arranged and very inefficient.

For that reason, F. R. Farnham dairy extension specialist at State College, suggests that time may be spent profitably now in re-arranging barns when much of the labor may be done by the owners themselves at little cost.

The barns should be remodelled to provide the dairy animals with ample lounging room thus allowing for the conservation of all manure and establishing a home-made fertilizer factory on the home farm," says Mr. Farnham. "Lounging rooms are badly needed for the efficient handling of the cows. Then, too, feeding racks need to be constructed in these rooms so that roughage may be fed to best advantage and without loss. It is a good idea to eliminate the drive-way in small barns and use this space for the cows. In many barns, the numerous dark stalls should be removed leaving only a few for maternity cases and the young calves. A few, home-made milking stations should be added, say three to six, for use in milking the cows and in feeding them the grain and ensilage."

Mr. Farnham has received reports from dairy farmers showing that when their barns were remodelled in accordance with the plan suggested much less time was needed in feeding and milking. In addition there was a considerable saving in the manure needed for the fields.

He states that plans for remodeling old barns may be secured from him or from the county farm agents in each county.
