Achieve Sensational "Artificial Heart"

NEW YORK... The development of an "artificial heart" and a man-made "blood stream" which enables science to keep vital organs of man alive and functioning outside the body, is hailed as the most sensational in the annals of medicine. The two men who achieved this triumph are Col. Charles L. Lindebergh, America's ace airman, above left, who invented the pump and Dr. Alexis Carrel, above right, Nobel Prize Winner, the medical expert.

MILLS ELECTED SUPT.

To Succeed Edward L. Best Who Goes To Mecklenburg County

W. R. Mills, who for the past thirty-three years has been at the head of the Louisburg Graded Schools, and who has so endeared himself to the people of the Louisburg school district that the school has been named for him, bearing the name of Mills High School, was unanimously elected Superintendent of Franklin County Schools to succeed Mr. Edward L. Best, who resigned to accept a like position with Mecklenburg County, at a meeting of the Board of Education held in its offices yesterday morning.

Mr. Mills being informed of the action, went before the Board and in a most gracious manner accepted the election with the assurance of carrying on the great work so well underway in the County.

In the election of Supt. Mills the Board of Education made a wise selection. He has been with Franklin County thirty-three years during which time he has fully demonstrated his interest in Franklin County, its schools and other interests, and has proven his ability as a school head. Under his Supervision, we feel sure, the school system of the County will move on steadily in its march to a fuller and more progressive benefit to the children of the County.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our many thanks and appreciation to those who rendered such kind hands and sympathy during the recently illness and death of our dear mother, Mrs. Maggie T. Layton. Richard, Zelma and Oza.

Most persons who indulge in second-thought don't do much thinking when the subject is presented for first-thought.

VANCE AND BEAUFORT VOTE FOR CONTROL

Two more North Carolina counties joined the Wet parade Saturday when by substantial majorities Vance and Beaufort counties voted to legalize the sale of liquor in county-operated stores.

As the two counties voted, the first legal shipment of liquor made into North Carolina since the World War reached Wilson for sale in a Wilson County Store authorized by a 10 to 1 majority piled up by Wets in one of two elections held last Saturday.

A second carload of whiskey of mixed brands is expected in Wilson today or tomorrow, to be shipped by truck to Edgecombe County, the other county voting last Saturday.

Large Wet Majorities
In neither of the counties voting yesterday did the Wet majority approach the landslide proportions piled up in Wilson and Edgecombe, but incomplete returns showed a heavy wet margin.

In Beaufort, unofficial figures for 23 out of 27 precincts showed a vote of 2,761 for liquor control and 842 against. The missing precincts are small ones which

BEST RESIGNS

Superintendency Franklin Schools To Become Head Of Mecklenburg County Schools

Supt. E. L. Best, who has been at the head of Franklin County Schools for the past twenty years tendered his resignation to the Board of Education at a special meeting held on Monday afternoon. In discussing the question Mr. Best was anxious that the Board know that he fully realized and appreciated the fact that he was under contract with Franklin County for the ensuing bi-ennium, and would not consider making a change if the Board did not willingly release him. He said he had been elected to the Superintendency of the Mecklenburg County schools at a great advance in salary above what Franklin could pay and that the Mecklenburg position would be a distinct promotion as it was considered the biggest school job in the state, outside the State Superintendency.

The resignation came as a shock to the Board who expressed in touching words their appreciation of his splendid work and cooperation in building up the school system in the county to its present high standing, and recognizing the advantages in the proposed change agreed to release Mr. Best from his contract and accept his resignation. The resignation becomes effective between August 10th and 15th, when Mr. Best will leave for his new field.

His many friends throughout the county will learn of this move with much regret, as it will be a distinct loss to the county, but will wish for him and his excellent family the greatest measure of success and happiness in their new field.

Lightning Kills One, Hurts Others

Vanceboro, July 2.—Heber Bland, 21, of the Epworth section near here, was killed yesterday afternoon by a bolt of lightning that rendered his sister and cousin unconscious and hurled another brother from a barn loft.

The group had taken refuge from a heavy rain in the loft when the bolt struck.

A doctor was hastily summoned to restore Ruby and Glasgow Bland to consciousness. They are expected to recover. Shade Bland, Jr., who was flung to the ground, escaped serious injury.

Matt Bland, father of Heber, hearing the detonation, rushed to the scene to find the dress of Ruby in flames which he quickly extinguished, her body being only slightly burned.

Kiwanis

Louisburg Kiwanis Club held its usual luncheon at Franklin Hotel on Friday night. No formal program was presented and a most interesting across the table discussion was enjoyed by those present. Among the things discussed was co-operation with the committees for the rural electrification.

WILSON OPENS LIQUOR STORE

Wilson, July 2.—Legal liquor—legal, at least, until the Supreme Court decides between conflicting opinions from the Superior Court bench—came quietly back to North Carolina today.

R. L. Perry, of Raleigh, who was the first customer of the first Wilson County liquor store when it started business at 11:05 o'clock this morning, was also the first man in North Carolina to make a legal, over-the-counter purchase of whiskey since January 1, 1909.

Wiley Bunn of Wilson, customer No. 2, took the honors as to gin.

The opening of the store, where a limited stock of less expensive brands was available for purchases of from a pint to all the customer could pay for, created little more attention than the opening of another grocery.

No Opening Rush
Business was good—675 customers paying $1,003.79 for 825 bottles during the first business day—but at no time was there a rush necessitating the formation of long lines which some had predicted. Frequently the customers' side of the single-counter was crowded, causing the poorly ventilated store to steam like a laundry, but the majority of those inside were looking over the posted list of prices or looking for excitement which was not there to be found.

There was not an arrest for drunkenness by either police or sheriff's men during the day. No crowds, no disorder, no whoopee. Wilsonians greeted legal liquor with little if any more comment than they did the sales tax.

CONTRACT BRIDGE PARTY

Wednesday evening Miss Mary Johnson entertained at a contract bridge party honoring Mr. and Mrs. John B. Litchfield who will leave soon for Wake Forest, where Mr. Litchfield will teach vocational agriculture in Wake Forest High School.

At the conclusion of the game the guests of honor received a lovely gift. Ladies high score prize was awarded Mrs. R. E. Miller and mens high score to Mr. Elmo Dean. Miss Martha Grey Dean assisted the hostess in serving canteleopala mode the color scheme of yellow and green was used.

Those enjoying the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. John B. Litchfield, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Dean, Mrs. P. E. Dean, Miss Lucile Insoce, Miss Martha Grey Dean, and Mr. Bruce Perry.

Domestic peace is expensive but worth all its costs.

We wish to express our appreciation for the kindness and sympathy of our friends shown in the recent illness and death of our son.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stallings.

TWO MORE COUNTIES VOTE FOR CONTROL

Two more Eastern North Carolina counties, Craven and New Hanover, went wet by sweeping majorities Tuesday. New Hanover, however, cannot open up liquor stores as the authorities were enjoined by Judge J. Paul Frizzelle. They have appealed to the Supreme Court.

The vote in Craven, with one small precinct missing, was 2,297 for liquor stores, 533 against—a better than four to one victory for the wets. Only two precincts in the entire county went dry.

The vote in New Hanover was 5,408 for liquor, 758 gainst. However, the New Hanover wets were "voting against" a registration of 7,192, necessitating 3,596 to win.

So far every county which has voted on liquor since the Legislature made it possible for 19 counties to get legal liquor has gone wet.

The counties that have voted are Edgecombe, Wilson, Beaufort, Vance, New Hanover and Craven. In Franklin the election was enjoined as well as the opening of stores.

Nine additional counties, Pasquotank, Martin, Halifax, Carteret, Onslow, Pitt, Lenoir, Warren and Nash, are scheduled to vote on the question Saturday.

Couple Held For Probes

Franklinton, July 1.—Winston-Salem officers came here today to take back to the Twin City Mr. and Mrs. C. Roy Hubbard, who Chief of Police J. A. Dennis of Franklinton believes, are connected with a series of jewelry robberies of homes in Winston-Salem.

Hubbard, 50 years old and operator until about a month ago of the Community Theatre here, has for the past month, police say, been engaged in buying and selling jewelry. Chief Dennis did not know on what charge the Hubbards were being held.

Chief Dennis, together with Sheriff F. N. Spivey and Constables J. P. Moore and J. E. Hight, arrested the Hubbards late last night a few hours after Hubbard had reputedly returned from Richmond, Va.

Winston-Salem officers told Chief Dennis that the description of Hubbard tallied with that given by servants, who were held up by a masked man on the night of May 23 in the robbery of the J. E. Walker home in Winston-Salem.

Officers arrived here shortly after Hubbard had been arrested and obtained a warrant to search the Hubbard home. The search revealed jewelry valued at about $1,500, including a ring said to be valued at $1,000. It was said that Hubbard or Mrs. Hubbard (the officers declined to say which one did it) threw a pearl necklace in the well. The well was being drained off to make a further search for jewelry thought to be at its bottom.

Chief Dennis said that since Hubbard quit operating the theatre here some weeks ago he had paid up a number of bad checks for which warrants on him had been issued and that he had since that time bought a new car.

Hubbard is said to have married a Mrs. W. I. Holding of Wake Forest, a widow with six children, last December. Officers did not know where he came from when he located here. Hubbard had been gone a week when he returned and was arrested shortly after he got back.

Miss Alna Kees, A. B. Meredith College. Teacher of Art.

It is interesting to note in connection with the new plan for student labor in Louisburg College that C. M. McIntosh, Head of the Federal Student Aid Department of the FERA in North Carolina says "Table 3 (pp. 11-14) shows that the percentage of federal-aid students who passed the work carried is as high as that of the institutional group and actually higher than that of the group having no organized self-help work."

The pine seed broadcasted in Lee and Moore counties in early March did not come up to a full stand though there is a fair stand of the loblolly seedlings. The long leaf seed did not germinate so well.

COLONEL FRED A. OLDS DEAD

Colonel Fred A. Olds died Tuesday afternoon.

Death came quietly with the dusk, as Colonel Olds slept, to still forever the heart that endeared him to four generations and made him the best known personality in all of North Carolina.

Sentiment—the infirmities of advanced age—claimed the old man of 81 who was the idol of youth throughout the State for half a century.

For six months he had lain in a stupor on his bed in the infirmary of the State Hospital, oftentimes vainly trying to rouse into remembrance the agile memory that once gave him a most comprehensive grasp of the history of the State he loved and served.

The end came at 8:20 p. m. while a hospital attendant stay by Colonel Olds' bed. He would have been 82 years old had he lived until next October 12.

Founded Hall of History
Colonel Olds founded the State Hall of History, without compensation, in 1887, and since that date he escorted 300,000 visitors on rounds of sightseeing in the Capital City. Practically all of his charges were children, and it was among the younger element of the State's population that Colonel Olds loved best and was best loved.

Funeral services for Col. Olds were conducted from Christ Church Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock by Rev. Harvey A. Cox, assistant rector, and interment were in Oakwood cemetery. Col. Olds' nearest relative, a grandson, Fred C. Olds of Ahalene, Tex., as unable to attend the services.

William G. Hill Lodge met at 4:30 o'clock in the Masonic Temple to attend the rites in a body, and were in charge of the ritual at the grave.

Although feeble in his last years, Colonel Olds availed himself of every opportunity to show "my children," as he called the visiting pupils, around the city and particularly to favor them with absorbing stories about relics in the Hall of History, which will be an everlasting memorial to him.—News-Observer.
