

Fair Special

Shrieking Highway Patrol sirens, the blaring of horns on three large motor buses and the music of the State College band will herald the arrival of the State Fair Special, loaded down with 50 Raleigh business men, in Louisburg on September 26 at 3:15 p. m. o'clock.

On a whirlwind tour of 51 eastern North Carolina towns, in the interest of the State Fair, the boosters will stop here for a brief program. Besides a short talk by one of the boosters, there will be music by the band—a whole busload of musicians—and souvenirs for the crowd.

Planning to make an overnight stop Wednesday, September 25, in Wilmington, the boosters will present a special program there.

Mayors, school superintendents and other officials in the towns and cities along the Fair Special route have been notified of boosters' intended visit. Throughout Eastern North Carolina, the State Fair Special has been known for 13 years.

Arrangements have been made with the Rotary and Civitan clubs at Wadesboro to furnish lunch for the party on the first day of the tour and in Wilson for lunch on the second day. Supper will be served the boosters at Creedmoor Thursday night, September 26.

Towns on the route of the State Fair Special are: First Day, Wednesday, Sept. 25th, Cary, Apex, Pittsboro, Siler City, Asheboro, Troy, Wadesboro, Rockingham, Hamlet, Laurinburg, Maxton, Lumberton, Chadbourne, Whiteville, Wilmington.

Those in charge of the tour are Clarence E. Mitchell, General Chairman and R. S. Busbee, Chairman of Entertainment and Program.

Get 13 Cents For Cotton

Raleigh, Sept. 10.—Many farmers of this section should be able to realize 13 cents a pound or more for their cotton this year through the Government's loan plan. L. Bruce Gunter, a director of the State Cotton Association, said following a regular meeting of the Cooperative Directors.

Mr. Gunter said the loan plan in all its aspects was discussed at the meeting of the directors and he pointed out that this year for the first time since 1929 a farmer who takes advantage of the Government's loan will be in position to obtain the full grade and staple premiums on his cotton provided he handles it in the right way.

"And every farmer who handles his cotton through the Association is now getting on inch and better cotton, plus the Government's equalization payment, it is possible for a farmer to obtain more than 13 cents a pound for his cotton."

Mr. Gunter also reported that the cotton cooperative board of directors approved the "Re-purchase Pool" plan of the Association. Under this plan a farmer can place his cotton with the Association, have it graded under the supervision of a Government Licensed Classifier, and then when he receives his advice of weights and grades can go to his local cotton buyer or mill and if either of these offer him more than the Association can get him for his cotton, he can re-purchase it and sell it to the one offering him the most money.

This plan is attracting the interest of a number of the State's larger farmers and Mr. Gunter said the outlook is very favorable for good deliveries to the Cotton Association this year.

At the meeting directors were present from various sections of the State and all reported that unless the wet weather ceases considerable damage will result to the cotton crop.

sanitary and dangerous to the flock from a health standpoint. The litter in the poultry houses, as a general rule, is not changed as often as necessary and thus becomes soiled with the droppings. As this mixture of litter and droppings increase the danger from many poultry diseases also increase. Worm eggs and other internal parasites are picked up with the scratch feed together with disease germs and the result is an unhealthy and low producing flock.

Question: How should I feed a cow that is going dry?

Answer: Only enough concentrates should be fed the dry cow to keep her in good flesh. During the winter months no better ration can be had than legume hay and corn silage together with three to five pounds of a ration containing around sixteen percent protein. A formula for figuring the protein content of all dairy feeds together with recommendations for feeding mixtures is contained in Extension Circular 193, and copies may be secured free upon application to the Agricultural Editor, State College.

Question: Should I fertilize winter crops planted for hay?

Answer: In many sections the custom is to sow fall crops after corn, tobacco or cotton without fertilization on the supposition that there is enough fertilizer left from the spring application to grow another crop. It is true that some of the fertilizer is still in the soil but except on very fertile soil, some fertilizer should be applied for the fall crops. In the Piedmont and Mountain sections an application of 400 pounds of a 10-4-4 mixture is recommended. For Coastal Plain soils 400 pounds of an 8-4-4 mixture should be applied. These may be supplemented with a top dressing of from 50 to 100 pounds of nitrate of soda or sulphate of ammonia next March 1.
