CAN WE KEEP OUT OF WAR?

It is to be hoped that all of the prophets and soothsayers who are so certain that the world is going to precipitate into another Great War before long, are wrong in their forecasts. But if the catastrophe which they are so confidently predicting should come to pass, it is a serious question whether the United States can avoid being involved. All our history points the other way.

We hear a great deal of talk to the effect that we were dragged into the last Great War by international bankers, or that we were the victims of British and French propaganda. Those are the opinions of either the very young or the very ill-informed.

We went into the World War because the overwhelming sympathies of the American people were with the Allies and against the autocratic state socialism of the Kaiser's government, which we, like the other democracies of the world, feared Germany would attempt to impose upon the rest of us if victorious.

We went into the War, also, because of our resentment of the ruthless submarine war conducted by Germany on unarmed merchant vessels, and the arrogant attempt of the German government to set a limit to the freedom of our commerce on the seas.

There have been just two general European wars since the United States became a nation and this country has been involved in both of them. The first was the conflagration started by the French Revolution, which resulted in the Napoleonic wars. Every schoolboy knows that we took part in that war, on the side of France and against England, in 1812, but few remember that while George Washington was still President, in 1798, we were also participants on the other side in that great struggle, actually at war with France.

The United States is not alone among nations in desiring to keep out of war. Our people are probably no more peace-loving than those of any other country. But the most peaceful-minded people may easily find themselves forced by circumstances to go to war. And all the best resolutions will not keep us out of the next war, if and when that touches our national interests adversely.

From Ingleside

O. B. Hicks, who lives on the Shearin farm near here, lost a valuable milk cow killed by a car a few days ago while the cow with two others was being led on the road. Another of the animals was also struck and injured in the same accident.

Yarborough Fuller, well known young man living near here, was operated on for appendicitis in a Henderson hospital Friday night. He was reported to-day by a brother as doing well.

Mild weather of the past few weeks caused a second growth to cotton plants, of green leaves and squares, noticed in many fields along roadsides.

Miss Lucille Foster, of Richmond, spent Thanksgiving with Miss Laura Macon. Her pleasure was marred Saturday morning in the loss, either at or a few miles north of Ingleside, of a small brown purse (with snap) containing a considerable sum of money. There was nothing in the purse by which the finder could identify the loser.

Their many friends here, where they have lived the past four years, regret the necessity of Q. H. Tutor, road superintendent, having to move with his family to Mapleville. Good citizens, kind and helpful neighbors, they are held in the highest esteem by all in the entire community. Friends are glad to know that they also regret to leave us.

A news item from Kokomo, Ind., states that a mother canary at the Roscoe Rowe home hatched twin birds from the same egg, which event is due to catch the attention of the ornithology world. "The twin birds, hatched from the same egg emerged from the shell, each independent of the other and perfectly formed. A day later three other eggs, which the little bird had been keeping warm for several weeks, hatched.

Ornithologists report that twin canaries from the same egg are rare, and that in most instances the birds are dead, or are deformed."

Gertie Solomon, colored woman living on the old Macon farm, has twin roosters hatched from a large double yolk egg, and says she can prove it. The cockerels are about the size of an ordinary hen, bear a striking resemblance, and are very pretty.

FORD BUILDS MILLION CARS IN TEN MONTHS

Henry Ford has made good his promise of a year ago to build a million Ford cars in 1935.

That was the biggest news at the San Francisco Auto Show and Ford dealers were happy over the achievement of the Ford Motor Company because it evidenced the nationwide popularity of this Ford automobile which led all competitors in sales by a wide margin in the year just coming to a close.

In fact, according to local Ford dealers, Ford has done better than he prophesied. He has built a million cars in ten months time. Total production for the full year will probably run to 1,180,000 cars.

The millionth Ford rolled off the assembly line at the factory Thursday afternoon, October 31st. While Henry Ford and Edsel B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor Company looked on, a black Ford sedan came down the assembly line. It looked like all other cars of its model but under its hood was engine number 2,336,770. It was the millionth Ford unit made in the United States since January 1st, this year. It left the production line at 2:44 o'clock and was taken at once for shipment to the company's show-rooms in New York.

Canadian production for the first ten months added 68,000 more to the million. World production of Ford units from June, 1933, when the company started business, to September 1st, this year, totaled 23,308,684.

According to eastern press advices smiles and handshakes showed how pleased were the Fords,

Christmas Card Fashions for 1935

NEW YORK... It's the newest thing to be old-fashioned in your Christmas card selection this year. The 1935 cards being shown revert to time-honored motifs and variations on the heart-warming theme of "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men." Religious cards gain distinction through the use of pastel colors. Of course there is the usual wide selection but whatever the style all join in the "Xmas Greetings" chorus of the sentimental, old-fashioned variety.
