

The Family DOCTOR

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

Every progressive family newspaper has its health article written by some intelligent medical man. Such "studies" are of great value to the public—or should be. Here you find the unselfish, the broad view, calculated to carry the greatest good to the greatest number. Our editor deserves profound thanks for his endeavor to present clean, educational values to his subscribers.

I read every health article that comes my way, even my own. I see many errors in the latter, after it has left my typewriter, and had its second reading. The busy physician is usually not an expert in grammatical construction. He busies himself with trying to put his stuff over in a manner that the reader will understand.

Here is no place for the slogan "every man his own doctor." We may, each of us, be every man his own plumber, chauffeur, gardener, painter, or tailor, but his own doctor, never. Even the best physicians employ a fellow-physician if they become ill and incapable of treating themselves. If doctors were not a trustworthy set, no physician would employ one of his kind to treat him in a critical emergency.

So we are not trying to make you your own physician. We do try earnestly to give you a broader and more accurate estimation of yourself and your complaints.

Many medical articles that I read are keenly technical. Too many, it seems to me, are hard to understand by the farmer, the grocer, the policeman and the busy layman. Hence the plain language found in my own humble efforts. It is the plain people, I take it, that need instructions, not the learned. What do you want to know about neurc-tomies, syndromes, vitamins, calories, and a thousand other nebulae? To be able to cure a sore toe will pay fifty times better.

MODERN WOMEN

By CHARL ORMOND WILLIAMS, President of National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc.

Mary E. Hamilton, the first woman member of the police force of the City of New York, recently issued practical instructions to mothers to protect their children from kidnapers. —Never leave your child unprotected. —Be certain that you can identify your baby if it should be stolen by preserving a photograph of his footprint. —Good advice to all mothers from Policewoman Hamilton.

When Congress assembles in January there will be six women in the House of Representatives: Mrs. Isabella Greenway, Arizona; Mrs. Florence P. Kahn, California; Mrs. Virginia E. Jenckes, Indiana; Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers, Massachusetts; Mrs. Mary T. Norton, New Jersey, and Mrs. Caroline O'Day, New York. After fifteen years of federal woman suffrage, there are only six women in the Congress, a real challenge to

JOHN OLLIE MAY

J. O. May an honored and highly esteemed citizen of this County died Saturday night at Mary Elizabeth Hospital after a brief illness.

Funeral services were held at Cedar Rock Baptist Church Monday at 2:30 o'clock Rev. L. B. Reavis, pastor of the deceased officiating.

Ollie May was a life long resident of this county, the son of the late John and Betty May of Cedar Rock. He was widely acquainted throughout this and other counties having been a prominent merchant for over twenty years. He was an active churchman and one of the most faithful servants the community ever had. We know him as conscientious and considerate of others. We sorrow deeply because of his going; however, we know our loss is his gain.

He is survived by his wife, a son, Burt, a daughter, Ruby and two step daughters, Mrs. Herman C. Kemp of Louisburg, and Mrs. John W. Daniels of Cedar Rock; two sisters, Mrs. Ida Valentine and Geneva Collins both of Cedar Rock and two brothers, Robert H. May of Rocky Mount and Thomas H. May of Pittsburgh, Penn.

Active pallbearers were Garvis and Garland Collins, Bob Smith May, nephews, Floyd Denton, William Stallings, Rossie B. Gordon, Charlie Stallings and Willis Collier.

OSCAR HERBERT HOGWOOD JR.

At 4 o'clock Saturday morning, Dec. 21st, 1935 the death angel entered Park View hospital and took little Oscar Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hagwood of Louisburg Route one from his earthly home to his heavenly home.

All that parents, friends, doctors and nurses could do was done, but God saw fit in his infinite wisdom to transplant the pure little flower from this earthly garden to his heavenly garden.

We cannot understand why this dear little life should be snatched away. He was so young and so sweet, but thus we do know that "God doeth all things well." We bow humbly to His will and we know that some day we will understand.

Oscar Jr. would have been eleven years old on the 23rd of Dec. 1935.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Charles Howard, who paid beautiful tribute to the sweet young life of Oscar Jr.

His young cousins and pals were floral bearers.

He was laid to rest Sunday afternoon, Dec. 22nd in the Hagwood cemetery under a beautiful floral offering as the pure white snow flakes were covering the ground with a beautiful blanket of white.

He leaves to mourn his loss a loving mother, father, sister, brother, school mates and pals.

Weep not dear friends, he is not dead but is safe in the arms of Jesus, safe on His gentle breast.

He can not come to you, but you can go to him. He is beckoning you to come up to that heavenly home, eternal in the heavens.

One who knew and loved him.
