From Ingleside

Henry Dickerson and Virgil Ayscue were snow bound during a recent visit to Richmond. They were forced to remain in the city several days longer than intended which seemed immaterial with them as it only added to the pleasure of the trip.
 Miss Estelle Nunnally, of Richmond, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Z. O. Edwards.
 R. P. Knox, of Huntersville, who was in business here most of last year, is visiting his sister, Mrs. J. Y. Beasley. His friends were glad to see him again.
 Z. O. Edwards is recovering from a severe case of influenza. Mr. Edwards' baby was also quite ill at the same time but is convalescent.
 Geo. M. Manning's store was robbed again Sunday night a week ago, making the fourth time. Manning thinks the loot was lighter than on either of the former occasions, as there was less to rob, he states, but the thieves made a clean sweep of nearly all salable articles. Entrance was made through a window in rear of the store, which was smashed. Evidence showed that sacks were used to handle the goods. Among so many thieves running at large it is difficult to apprehend the guilty crowd. Thievery is still a very serious problem.
 In keeping with the former record of repeated changes in Ingleside service stations, last week marked another transfer, when Edwards and Pace disposed of their stock and equipment to Leon Perry. Raymond Strickland, youngman of Spring Hope, local attendant, is dispatching business with the usual promptness and courtesy required to please the public.

 Mrs. I. M. Inscow and little daughter, Betty Lou, have returned from a visit to relatives in Rocky Mount and Brinkleyville.
