

Heavy Storm Damage

Reports coming in from most sections of Franklin County indicate quite a bit of wind damage to buildings, trees, etc., on Sunday. Many barns were unroofed, houses twisted, trees uprooted and blown down. In Louisburg the plate glass front of Beasley's dining room was blown in and limbs scattered about the Court square. The biggest damage in Franklin seemed to be south of Louisburg, ranging from the western to eastern boundary.

Blasting across the two Carolinas, gales that reached hurricane force at several points Sunday littered the two states with debris and left them quaking before the advance of another severe cold wave.

Driving rain accompanied the wind, falling in depth from one and a half to four and a half inches and again flooding creeks and rivers.

Though damage to property was widespread, only one death was reported as resulting directly from the windstorm. Charles Harris, 18, an inmate of the Caswell Training School, Kinston, picked up a high voltage electric wire which had been snapped by the wind and was electrocuted.

Everywhere, fences and signposts were flattened, trees and telephone poles were snapped, awnings were shredded, chimneys were toppled, roofs were stripped.

Store Flattened
At Pleasant Garden in Guilford County, a two-story store building was razed and two houses were dislodged. The roof was lifted from a store at Fairmont. The end of a freight depot was ripped off at Elm City.

Two tobacco factory smokestacks fell at Oxford and many barns and sheds in the vicinity were uncovered. A CCC Camp garage at Salisbury was demolished. The projecting wall of a building at Fayetteville was swept to the ground.

A huge tree fell across the home of Emmette M. Bishop at 529 Fayetteville Street here. Several other trees were uprooted. A plate glass window was broken in the Remington-Rand office in the Sir Walter Hotel building, Raleigh.

Crippling of electrical service throughout the State left Goldsboro dark last night. Current was cut off in several smaller towns. Immediately following the storm, several sections of Raleigh and other cities were temporarily without service.

"It was the worst storm we have experienced in several years," said an official of the Carolina Power and Light Company, which had all of its repair crews at work throughout the night. Service had been restored to 90 per cent efficiency early last night, one official said. Three persons were needed to answer service complaints after the storm struck here.

Both the Western Union and Postal telegraph companies and the Southern Bell Telephone Company here reported lines down in every direction, but officials of all companies said that service was being restored rapidly. Near Selma, a shed was blown through the Western Union lines.

All shipping at Beaufort was weatherbound by the storm. The Sloop Victor, being towed into Belhaven by a Coast Guard cutter, broke loose during the storm. A steamer was grounded at Wilmington.

At Walnut Cove, an Atlantic and Yadkin Railroad train was stranded by high water. County roads were inundated in the vicinity of Concord, as floods again threatened the State's highway system, which was damaged to the extent of $1,000,000 by snow, rain and floods only a few days ago.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY AGED GREAT-GRANDMOTHER

On Wednesday morning, Jan. 15, 1936 the death angel visited the home of Joe Timberlake and took away his loving wife and companion. But for 95 years she lived to scatter sunshine and happiness into the lives of those who knew her.

For several years she suffered, but after having done all that loving hands could do, she gently closed her eyes in peaceful slumber, to awake in the restful arms of Jesus.

The funeral services were held at the home, and her body was laid to rest in the Flat Rock Baptist Church cemetery. The services were conducted by her pastor Rev. H. O. Baker, assisted by Rev. Chas. B. Howard. The pallbearers were her grand-children. The floral tribute was beautiful showing the love of her many friends.

Those who are left to grieve their loss are, her dear husband, Joe Timberlake, two sons, J. J. S. Timberlake and Tom Timberlake. Eight grand children and nine great-grand children besides a host of friends.

Many are the friends who will miss her familiar face, her pleasant voice and bright smiles, but we must remember that we, too, will have to cross the bar that she has crossed. We must not weep for her, but we must so live that we shall meet her in that far beyond.

Rosa Belle Timberlake.

such garbage to the regular dumping ground used by the Town.

Mr. Barrow asked the Board's advice as to keeping the Ragland Street Machine until the dirt streets could be put in better condition. Motion was made and carried giving Mr. Barrow, Chairman Street Committee, full authority as to this matter.

Discussion of the office work during the absence of Tracy K. Stockard, Clerk, on account of illness, was brought up by the Mayor. Motion was made and carried that, during the absence of T. K. Stockard, Clerk, Louis A. Wheelless be appointed Acting Clerk at a salary of $100. per month, and, upon the return of Mr. Stockard, Louis A. Wheelless is to become Assistant Clerk at a salary of $75.00 per month until May 15, 1936, and that the said Louis A. Wheelless be bonded for $5,000.00.

The Board instructed the Mayor and Mr. W. J. Cooper, Chairman Tax Committee, to issue specific, written orders to E. S. Ford, Tax Collector, concerning immediate collection of all delinquent personal property taxes. There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

Seaboard To Offer Free Pick-Up And Delivery Service

Another forward step in transportation will be taken by the Seaboard Air Line Railway when on February 1st, or as soon thereafter as possible, free pick-up and delivery service for less-than-carload freight will be established over its system and its subsidiary railroads. The effect of this service is that the railroad will furnish drayage service to collect and deliver less-than-carload freight without cost to shipper and consignee. If shipper or consignee prefers to perform his own trucking service to or from Seaboard freight stations, an allowance of five cents per hundred pounds will be made to such shipper or consignee.

This pick-up and delivery service is designed to facilitate the use of rail transportation by enabling the public to deal with only one transportation agency which becomes responsible for a complete railroad service from the consignor's door to the consignee's door.

This service becomes effective in Louisburg along with other places.

HOGS PAY WELL

It always pays to get good pigs to raise good hogs, says a writer to the TIMES, because I tried it. Killed three ranging in the heavy mark, one year old, 1st weighing 43, 2nd weighing 45, and the 3rd weighing 65, totaling 153 pounds. If you need any meat come to see me at once, if you don't it will soon be all gone as I have six in family besides myself.

There are yet people who can raise hogs.

Confidence to put over anything worth while. It will take these qualities to make a successful fight for one of the prizes that will be given by this paper. Those who finish in the big prize winning class will have to overcome a lot of discouragement. But the reward will be worth the effort. From $75 to $100 a week will be the rate of earning of the leading candidates at the close of the race on Feb. 29th.

"A Quitter Never Wins"

Getting ahead in a subscription campaign is the result of the same principles that determine success in any other kind of business. "A quitter never wins and a winner never quits." Candidates will encounter at all stages of the campaign rumors and discouraging reports of all kinds. These are circulated largely for one or two reasons, both of which brand the report as being prejudiced and hence not worthy of belief.

The majority of those who are active have been slow in getting started, and consequently those interested in sharing this generous prize distribution start now without any serious handicap. Indeed, an active worker, beginning now in any part of the territory, could easily duplicate if not surpass anything that has been done by the present leaders in the race.

Real Work Still Ahead

The real work of the campaign is still ahead and the effort that will determine the prize winner is not that of the best starting qualities but that of the best sticking qualities.

Now Is The Time

There is plenty of room for more of those active, ambitious people in this section to enter the campaign and get their share of the wonderful prizes and commissions. The territory has not been scratched as yet and no candidate who has entered has any advantage to speak of. RIGHT NOW—TODAY—is the time to begin if you want that $500 or one of the other large prizes. RIGHT NOW is the time to nominate yourself. Understand, too, that there will be more credits given you NOW for subscriptions than at a later time. This is in fairness to the ones who get out and hustle at the start and prevent someone stepping in at the last moment.

In just a few short weeks THE FRANKLIN TIMES will give to some of the people in this community prizes that represent a small fortune. Ambition, energy and plenty of pep are the only requisites for success.

The first step toward winning one of these handsome prizes, is filling out and sending in the ENTRY COUPON which will start you off with 10,000 credits. Subscriptions Mean More Now. More credits will be issued on subscriptions now and until Feb. 28th than any other time during the contest. Under no circumstances will the credits be changed from the schedule as published in our announcement, Mr. and Mrs. Public, if you contemplate helping a friend and candidate, do it NOW—TODAY while the credits count the most. You will subscribe eventually, why not do it now and help your favorite WIN that $500 in cash.
