

FRANKLIN COUNTY AND WELFARE WORK

(Contributed) Franklin County has received many benefits from the State and Federal Government in the past six months. We believe it will be of keen interest to everyone in the county to know how the three units of government, federal, state, and local have co-operatively shared the responsibilities of meeting welfare and relief needs during these six months.

Since January 15th the State Dept. of Welfare has paid for the full time services of a certifying case worker. It has been her responsibility to co-ordinate the federal program with the local needs—in other words, approve those eligible for W. P. A., C. C. C. Camp, and surplus commodities and refer applicants to the Rural Resettlement. At the same time the certifying case worker has serviced families of the Welfare Dept. when that was necessary. Since March 1st, the County has had a part time negro case worker who has served in a similar capacity. The State Dept. also made provisions for a stenographic assistant as the increased work in the field also increased the work to be done in the office.

Spelling Champion

STUART, Ia. . . . Jean Trowbridge (above), is the happiest girl in Iowa. She just returned from Washington where she won the national spelling championship in the 12th annual national bee.

Eight demonstrations in treating cotton seed with Ceresan before planting, in Cumberland County, showed considerable advantage by using the material. Few of the plants died—where the seed had been treated.

Many a Friend Recommends BLACK-DRAUGHT

People who have taken Black-Draught naturally are enthusiastic about it because of the refreshing relief it has brought them. No wonder they urge others to try it! . . . Mrs. Joe G. Roberts, of Portersville, Ala., writes: "A friend recommended Black-Draught to me a long time ago, and it has proved its worth to me. Black-Draught is good for constipation. I find that taking Black-Draught prevents the bilious headaches which I used to have." . . . A purely vegetable medicine for relief of CONSTIPATION, BILIOUSNESS

ROAD INFORMATION

If motorists and pedestrians know the rules of the road and stick to them, the number and severity of accidents will be greatly reduced, traffic experts have found.

The more important rules of the road as suggested by Ford dealers to the general public, are as follows:

Speed—Keep the pace of other cars when in traffic. On the open road it should be governed by state law or road conditions.

Right of way.—Don't contest right of way. It often ends in the hospital.

Weaving in traffic — Always keep in one lane of traffic. Before changing lanes always use rear view mirror to see what is behind you, then signal with arm.

Left turns—Keep in center lane when preparing to turn left at an intersection, unless local ordinance prohibits.

Right turns—Get in close to the curb when you wish to make a right turn. Through traffic can follow the outer lane, and the middle lane if there are three.

Leaving curb — Always look back and see if any car is approaching, then signal your intention before pulling away from curb.

Stop and go—Always watch for stop signs. It is as dangerous for you as for the other driver to run through a red light.

Road signs—Always read them; their shape in most states tells you the kind of information they contain. Under uniform traffic code there are four important shapes you should remember.

Octagonal sign indicates a stop. You can distinguish its shape long before you can read it. Circular sign always indicates a railway. Have your car under control when you see a circular sign. Double bars on it indicate two crossings close together. Diamond signs are always used as a warning of a curve or other change in the road. They must be read. Never pass one without reading it. Square signs are for instruction—such as "School"—or to indicate road directions, intersections, etc.

Never pass on turns. It is not only very hazardous but illegal in many states.

Never pass on a hill. This is another common cause of accidents as you are liable to meet someone coming over the top.

Always signal when you start to pass a car. Always hold your pace when being passed, or give way to let a passing car get in the clear. It's for your protection as well as his.

FRANKLIN COUNTY FARM ITEMS

By W. C. Boyce, Assistant County Agent

Terracing Summary The Franklin County Terracing Unit operated by the Franklin County Soil Erosion Club started work on January 5, 1935. In April 1936 this organization was incorporated as Franklin County Mutual Soil Conservation Association.

Our annual report prepared as of May 30, 1936 shows that the organization has collected, for services rendered, $3879.42. The following disposition was made of the money: Paid on equipment $1260.40; Repairs $241.39; Labor $1528.50; Oil and Grease $163.20; Fuel Oil $207.31; Miscellaneous expenses $75.37; Charges not collected $403.25. The uncollected charges are for work done during the month of May which will not be collected before June.

The organization has purchased equipment costing $4362.50, on which there is a balance due of $3102.12. The inventory of our equipment, allowing 30% depreciation on tractor and grader, is $3521.53. This leaves the organization after a year and a half of operation $419.41 clear above operating expenses.

Actual records have been kept on acres terraced and cost since September 9, 1935. These records show that 472 terraces were built, 369,917 feet in length, draining 978 acres, and costing the farm owners $1859.00. The average acre cost was $1.90 or an average cost per 1000 feet of $5.00. The terracing unit also worked on several "fill in" jobs and constructed driveways.

The terracing outfit was stored with Mr. M. H. Hunt on May 28, as land was too dry to work and was unavailable for terracing in large enough quantities to justify operation.

JERSEY COWS are common enough—but Simply Sybil's Pallas is a breeder's dream come true. Near perfect in every respect—wonderful body, level top carrying out well both ways, deep veins, marvelous udder in texture and attachment—fully worthy of her proud title, National Champion. She is the Cow of Cows.

This magnificent Jersey Champion is Nature at her peak—a creature gifted with the vital spark that only Nature can supply, a natural balance of all the elements required in the making of a champion. This natural balance of vital elements is the principal difference between Simply Sybil's Pallas and a common cow—the difference between the best and the rest in almost everything.

And here's another example of the natural balance that makes true quality—Natural Chilean Nitrate. Into this nitrate nitrogen, Nature blended her own secret balance of vital impurities, many minor elements over and above its nitrogen. And Nature herself, aged, cured and mellowed this product through countless centuries in the ground. That is why Natural Chilean stands out a quality fertilizer by every test, in the scientist's laboratory or the practical test in the farmer's fields. It is the safe, sure, balanced food for your crops.

Natural Chilean contains almost two score of major and minor elements such as boron, magnesium, manganese, iodine, calcium, potassium, etc.—each a vital element in growth and healthy development of plants.
