METHODIST Y. P. A.

MEETS AT LOUISBURG COLLEGE

Around Three Hundred in Attendance—Rev. Towner Delivers Keynote—Dr. A. D. Wilcox Extends Greetings—Rev. O. P. Fitzgerald Deliver Address For Church

With an enrollment of around three hundred the Methodist Young People's Assembly convened in Louisburg College Monday under the supervision of Mrs. Earl Brian, director.

The keynote of the conference was sounded by the Rev. Walter Towner, D.D., of Nashville, Tenn., who addressed the assembly at the First Methodist Church Monday evening. He developed the theme, "In My Name—Build." He interpreted this subject as building intelligently and with love.

Greetings to visiting delegates were extended by Dr. Armour D. Wilcox, president of Louisburg College, and Dr. O. P. Fitzgerald, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Louisburg. The response was made by Linwood Blackburn, of Fayetteville, the vice-president of the conference. The presiding officer at the opening session and Miss Nellie Cooke Robertson, president of the assembly, who introduced the officers, visiting speakers, and faculty of the conference. The music was under the direction of Walter Vassar, director of music at Greensboro College.

A reception was given at Louisburg College immediately following the opening session at the church. On Tuesday morning a business session was held at 10 o'clock at the Methodist Church, and regular class periods were observed during the day. The faculty consists of thirty-one members.

The officers of the assembly are: President, Miss Nellie Cooke Robertson; vice president, Linwood Blackburn; secretary, Miss Sarah Spruill, of Goldsboro; treasurer, Miss Hilda Lee Heatwole, of Burlington; and publicity superintendent, Miss Eva Gantt, of Durham.

Lightning Strikes Building

J. H. Wood, of near Hickory Rock-White Level School lost his pack house Wednesday night by fire caused from lightning. Destroyed along with the building was about fifty barrels of corn, $50 worth of fertilizer, forty frying size chickens, a lot of household furnishings belonging to his son, and a bale of cotton, bring the total loss around $1,000 to $1,200 with no insurance. Except for the timely aid of his neighbors Mr. Wood probably would have lost his home located nearby.

Boys To Camp

Battery B, 113th Field Artillery, Louisburg's military company left for camp at Fort Bragg on Wednesday morning, with a personnel of sixty members. The Battery is in command of Capt. Edward F. Griffin, with Lieutenants R. I. Holmes, F. W. Wheelers, Jr., J. Albert Wheelers, First Sergeant Fred Frazier, and Staff Sergeant Garland Moseley.

Storm

A heavy wind, electrical and rain storm visited Warrenton on Sunday afternoon and blew down a large number of the beautiful trees on Main Street and in other parts of the town, tore down several buildings, including a big warehouse and did other damage, all of which is estimated to reach around $75,000.

Program At The Louisburg Theatre

The following is the program at the Louisburg Theatre beginning Saturday, July 4th:
Saturday—Big Double Feature—Gene Autry in "Singing Vagabond," and John Howard in "Border Flight." Last chapter "Mystery Mountain."
Sunday—Frances Lederer and Ida Lupino, Hugh Herbert, Roland Young in "One Rainy Afternoon."
Monday—Robert Young and Betty Furness in "Three Wise Guys."
Tuesday—The One and Only Charlie Chaplin in "Modern Times."
Wednesday—Bank Night—Gloria Stewart and Robert Kent in "The Crime of Dr. Forbes."
Thursday-Friday—Jessie Matthews and Robert Young in "It's Love Again."

Roosevelt and Garner

Nominated By Acclamation At Philadelphia As Democratic Standard Bearers

Franklin Field, Philadelphia, June 27.—President Franklin D. Roosevelt accepted renomination tonight with a declaration of war against "economic tyranny."

Addressing a giant outdoor mass meeting from a dias raised above the grass of this big amphitheatre, the Chief Executive touched upon the Constitution and hit at "monopoly" and "the economic royalists" who "complain that we seek to overthrow the institutions of America."

His words, perhaps sounding a keynote in his 1936 campaign, climaxed a 24-hour period unprecedented in American political history.

The President, declaring America was fighting "for the survival of democracy" and for economic freedom as well, concluded with these words:

Accepts Commission
"I accept the commission you have tendered me. I join with you. I am enlisted for the duration of the war."

Mr. Roosevelt's acceptance speech was carried not only to those thousands immediately before him, but also to more than 5,000 roasts staged by the party from coast to coast, charging all entrants $1.

As had been expected, the President accepted "heartily" the "brave and clear platform" adopted by the convention just closed. Time and again tonight, Mr. Roosevelt pounded against "monopoly," "economic dictatorship," and "economic tyranny."

Speaking of the economic "dynamics" carved out in this country as modern civilization was attained, he said:
"The hours men and women worked, the wages they received, the conditions of their labor—these had passed beyond the control of the people, and were imposed by this new industrial dictatorship. The savings of the average family, the capital of the small business man, the investments set aside for old age—other people's money—these were the tools which the new economic royalty used to dig itself in."

Recorder's Court

An exceedingly important legal question was decided in Franklin Recorders Court Tuesday when it held the State could not demand the return of driver's license upon a conviction when an appeal was taken and perfected until after the appeal had been withdrawn or the final hearing had been disposed of. The docket was disposed of as follows:
J. E. Bailey, operating automobile intoxicated, jury demanded and continued.
C. C. Hudson found not guilty violating automobile law.

A bill of particulars was demanded in the case of Chick Murray for possession of liquor for sale, and continued.
Joe Byrd was found guilty of larceny and given 6 months on roads.

Louis Arrington was found guilty of possession of liquor for sale and given 60 days on roads, suspended upon payment of $25 fine and costs.

PRIVILEGE LICENSES

Chief of Police C. E. Pace is calling attention to the fact that privilege license taxes are due July 1st, and is urging all to attend to this important matter at once.

And in giving his answer, the President made his one and only reference to the Constitution. In the platform which he "accepted" tonight, there stood a clear declaration for amendment. In his reference to the Constitution he said:

"In vain they seek to hide behind the Flag and the Constitution. In their blindness they forget what the Flag and the Constitution stand for. Now, as always, the Flag and the Constitution stand for democracy, not tyranny; for freedom, not subjection; and against a dictatorship by mob rule and the overprivileged elite."

Notified By Robinson
The President was "notified" of his renomination by Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the permanent chairman of the Democratic convention, who heaped new praise upon the New Deal chief, predicted "overwhelming victory in November" and hit at his enemies.

Convention Hall, Philadelphia, June 27.—(Saturday)—Franklin Delano Roosevelt was renominated by a shouting Democratic National Convention at 12:42 a. m., Eastern Daylight Time, today for another four years in the White House.

By acclamation—forgetting the formality of a record vote for the first time since Wilson was so named in 1916—the convention weeded in the heat of a final post-urgent demonstration in the first half of the Roosevelt-Garner ticket of 1936.

The convention adjourned at 12:55 a. m., Eastern Daylight Time, this morning, until 10 a. m., Eastern Daylight Time.

Garner Today
John Nance Garner, arriving here last night to be on the scene of victory, will be renominated at another session today for the Vice Presidency.

Tonight, the two will open wide their campaigns for reelection in speeches accepting renomination at a mass meeting on Franklin Field.

Trip Through County

The Farmers Club of Franklin County has arranged for a most interesting and profitable trip for its members and friends to learn more about and become more familiar with Franklin County and their friends and neighbors for Friday, July 19th. Read the advertisement of E. J. Morgan, County Agent, setting forth the full facts about this splendid trip and outing.

COTTON BLOOMS

Lucy Alston, colored, tenant on the farm of N. H. Griffin near Centerville, sent in white cotton blooms on Wednesday.
J. N. Cone, of Sandy Creek, brought in a red bloom on Thursday.

O. W. Neal, colored, of Cedar Rock township, near Stallings saw mill, brought in a white bloom Thursday.
Tom Medlin, who lives on Q. S. Leonard's farm near Mapleville, sent in a white bloom yesterday.

Trouble with plant diseases and fertilizers is reported by commercial bulb growers of New Hanover County who have asked for control.

BUS WRECKS FIVE KILLED

Wreck Occurs Near Famous Natural Bridge About Midnight Wednesday.

Natural Bridge, Va., July 1.—A passenger bus, careening out of control atop Virginia's famous Natural Bridge, crashed into a bank last night, killing five and injuring 20.

The bus was driven into the bank by the driver to save the skidding vehicle from plunging over the brink of the 200-foot gorge. The bus rolled over and stopped within only a few feet of the edge.

When the bus got out of control, J. J. Olderson, of Roanoke, the driver, threw his weight on the wheel and turned it abruptly into the bank. The front end was crushed and he and others in the forward seats were killed.

The dead:
J. J. Olderson, formerly of Birmingham, Ala., resident Roanoke for the past three months.
J. P. Hamilton, Birmingham, a bus driver.

An unidentified white woman of about 38.
Another unidentified white woman.

A man tentatively identified as John Keese, Tazewell County, Va. (Letters in his pockets were addressed to John Generak, General Delivery, Tazewell, Va., and carrying the return address, 1495 Newton St., N. W., Washington.)

Tar Heels
The injured were at Jackson Hospital, Lexington, and at Natural Bridge Hotel here. These being cared for here included Virginia Nixon, High Point, N. C., and her companion, Katherine Stimler, of Durham, N. C., Salvation Army lieutenant, who was en route to see her parents near Cumberland, Md.

The bus was approaching the span of rock which carries the highway across the 215-foot gorge in a heavy rainstorm.

Observers at the wreck scene said the driver appeared to have headed the bus into the bank to miss the precipice. The bus rolled over several times, smashing in the top upon those in front seats, and came to a rest against a large signboard.

C. F. Worrell and Clyde Carter, both of Birmingham, Ala., and like Hamilton, drivers for the Southeastern Greyhound lines, were unhurt. The three men were en route to Philadelphia to return new equipment to the Southern city.

Worrell was the only person in the front seats who escaped alive. The top of the bus was smashed down in the roll and many passengers pinned in their seats.

Hudgins, who was one of the least injured, crawled out and ran through the storm to summon help.

Crashed Near Midnight
The bus left Roanoke at 10:20 o'clock last night on its run toward the North through the Valley of Virginia. As near as witnesses could estimate, the crash took place at 11:30 p. m.

Wreckers from Roanoke, 34 miles to the South, righted the wrecked bus at 3:30 a. m. and the bodies of the dead were removed.

C. M. T. C. NOTES

Headquarters, Fort Bragg announces that a Louisville Slugger Baseball Bat autographed by a member of the Giants Baseball Club of New York will be awarded this year under the same conditions as in previous years. This bat, as well as those awarded in other camps, are given by Mr. J. A. Hillerich of the Hillerich and Bradbury Company of Louisville, Kentucky.

Sgt. Frazier McDewitt, Battery C, 113th F. A., county chairman of Beaufort county, has submitted an application, which takes the long distance record for this area. It is that of Mr. Winfield S. Boyd and comes from Beruit, Syria, where Mr. Boyd was stationed at the time on business.

The recent announcement of the scholarships to be awarded at camp has occasioned considerable interest and several applicants under "what caused you to apply" have noted, "interest in scholarships."

Prompt action by those who have not yet applied will be necessary to gain acceptance for the camp this year because of the large number of applications received at headquarters. Only a few days of the procurement campaign are left.

THANKS

I wish to express publicly my deepest thanks and appreciations to all those who so liberally assisted in saving my home from burning Wednesday night, when my pack house was struck by lightning and burned.
J. H. WOOD.

When we really want to do something, we don't have much trouble in finding a satisfactory excuse for doing it.

And Now the Shooting Begins

WASHINGTON... Here are the political field generals who now swing into action, ordering advances on all fronts to win the 1936 Presidential election. On the left is John D. M. Hamilton, chairman of the Republican National Committee and right, James J. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee. Their preliminary skirmishes, following Hamilton's assuming control for Landon and Knox, were followed closely and with interest by political observers.

Louisburg Intermediate Assembly Meets

Under the leadership of Rev. R. C. Brown, Dean, and Mrs. Earl W. Brian the 1936 session of the Louisburg Assembly got under way the past week. The officers elected by the sixty registered delegates and six faculty members are as follows:

Joseph Newsom, Littleton, president; Mary Earle Wilson, Norlina, vice-president; Nancy Read, Zebulon, secretary; Ann Hillman, Durham, asst. secretary; Tommy Hobbs Wilson, Wilson, publicity supt.; Louis Peele, Selman; Rebecca Andrews, Durham, chairman of committee on missions; Shirley Starnes, Raleigh, chairman of committee on evangelism and church relations; Muriel Pipkin, Fremont, chairman of committee on worship.

The picture's song hits, already first favorites on the radio, include "I Nearly Let Love Go Slipping Through My Fingers," "Got to Dance My Way to Heaven," "Tony's in Town" and "It's Love Again."

Cyril Wells gets his first big chance as Miss Matthews' dancing partner in "It's Love Again." Extra star value is offered by the presence of Robert Young as the romantic lead, while comedy is given over to Sonnie Hale, who has appeared in the previous pictures to popularize Miss Matthews.

The story characterizes Jessie as a chorus girl who has no job but plenty of nerve. Enough nerve in fact, to impersonate a purely imaginary young woman created by a not-too-conscientious columnist. Once begun, the impersonation continues until Jessie is called upon to indulge in many oriental eccentricities, including camel-riding, tiger-shooting and affairs-du-coeur with assorted Maharajahs.

How her reward is secured in the shape of stardom in a revue, international fame and a handsome husband is told with a sprightly sense of comedy and story values.

Drowned

The fifteen year old son of Mr. Vance Frazier was drowned while swimming at Clifton's pond Wednesday evening, according to information reaching Louisburg. Deepest sympathy is extended the bereaved family.

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS

The Editor of The Franklin Times has just completed arrangements with the Postoffice Department whereby the FRANKLIN TIMES addressed to Henderson, Kittrell, Franklinton, Youngsville and Wake Forest will be dispatched from Louisburg on Thursday evenings arriving at Henderson in time to be dispatched to the several offices that night or early Friday morning, in time for delivery by the Rural Carriers on Friday morning. If any of our subscribers on any of the rural routes from the above offices fail to receive their papers on Fridays, kindly advise the FRANKLIN TIMES.

We are also working on similar arrangements for Castalia, Spring Hope and Zebulon. We hope to announce quicker delivery at these offices in a few days.

Methodists Gather At Green Hill

Wednesday, July 1, was a great day for Methodism at Green Hill, one mile south of Louisburg. More than 150 years ago the men on horseback came to Green Hill's home for conference. Wednesday, Methodists of every class and clan assembled on these grounds for fresh inspiration, new outlook and fine fellowship—recalling the past and facing the future.

Methodist Protestants and Methodist Episcopal were one as they sang together, ate together and, with the young people, face the future together. Preachers, laymen and lay women—women with well filled baskets were there and joined in the festivities of the day at this Methodist shrine. This was one of the greatest days Green Hill has ever known. With a white stone, the record of this historic spot, was marked again.

Rev. E. H. Davis did all that was possible to give welcome for the day. Announcements were made to the people of that section who came with their baskets well filled. That was fine, but not enough. People from all the central and eastern sections of the state came prepared to make the day a glorious success. What was a 100 miles or more in this day of the automobile! Especially for a gathering of Methodists of every name and order.

The more than 300 of the Young People's Conference in session at Louisburg College had charge of the afternoon program. Rev. R. W. Bradshaw and Mrs. Brian saw it that this went over big. To these young people gathered from far and wide, Dr. Straughn brought greetings.

Such a program was appealing. Singing the old hymns together, eating together, holding fellowship together, with Methodist young and old people, too, did much to send us all out to conquests bigger and better than those won by the men who rode with Francis Asbury—and shall forever ride.

The program was as follows:
11:00-11:15. Song service (old time Methodist hymns).
11:15-12:00. Address, Rev. J. H. Straughn, D.D., President of the General Conference, Methodist Protestant Church.
12:00. Song.
12:00-12:15. Greetings, Dr. W. P. Few, Duke University.
12:15-12:45. Address, Rev. J. H. Barnhardt, D.D., presiding elder Raleigh district, Methodist Episcopal Church, South.
12:45-2:00. Dinner and fellowship.
2:00-3:00. In charge Young People's Assembly. Songs, addresses and greetings from Dr. Straughn.
3:00-3:30. Address, "In My Name Build," Mr. Henry Powell, Henderson, N. C.
Adjournment.

TO REMODEL COURT HOUSE

The Board of County Commissioners met on Saturday afternoon and passed the final and necessary resolutions to begin the remodeling of the Court House, the work to begin right away. Trees were removed, timber placed and carpenters, engineers and labor have been put in motion for the beginning of the work.

Cotton Adjustment Payments

Franklin County Cotton Growers are lagging behind in their applications for the Cotton Price Adjustment Payments. There are 2689 people who signed Bankhead Applications, eligible to apply for these payments, and of this number only 1500 or 55.7 have made application.

The closing date for making application is August 15, but all sales certificates for cotton sold prior to July 31st, must be turned in to the County Agent's Office by August 1st.

Take Half Holiday

By agreement of the Bar Association all law offices in Louisburg will be closed at 1 o'clock on Saturday afternoons, beginning Saturday afternoon, June 29th, through September 5th, 1936.
