

Shirley Temple In New Picture

Talented Temple Miss Surpasses All Previous Triumphs with "The Poor Little Rich Girl" Which Will be Shown at Louisburg Theatre, Thursday and Friday, Aug. 13-14

It's always an event when Shirley Temple comes to town, but according to advance reports, when "The Poor Little Rich Girl," the tiny star's new Fox hit, opens Thursday at the Louisburg Theatre, it will be something in a way of a celebration, an epoch, a new milestone in entertainment.

For, definitely, the talented Temple miss is said to give the performance of her life in this new film and, to top it off, she's surrounded by a veritable gallery of Hollywood's brightest stars including Alice Faye, Gloria Stuart, Jack Haley and Michael Whalen.

Add to the star and the cast a modern, stirring, romantic story and five bubbling song hits by those ace composers, Mack Gordon and Harry Revel, and you have a few of the reasons why "The Poor Little Rich Girl" is being hailed so highly.

Shirley is said to perform astonishing dances that top everything she has ever done before and she sings five new songs including "When I'm With You," "But Definitely," "You Gotta Eat Your Spinach, Baby," "Oh, My Goodness" and "Military Man."

ANNUAL CONVENTION JUNIOR ORDER

More than 400 men, officers and representatives, will attend the annual convention of the State Council, Junior Order United American Mechanics which will be held in Asheville, August 18-19. Plans for the session are rapidly being worked out and Monroe Adams, Statesville, head of the State Council, predicts that it will be one of the biggest and best conventions held by the organization in several years.

Battery Park Hotel will be convention headquarters and reservations have already been made by many of the delegates for the duration of the convention.

With the meeting Mr. Adams will bring his successful administration to a close and E. L. Gavin, Sanford Attorney, is slated to succeed him. Mr. Gavin was elected state vice-councilor at last year's meeting.

Ernest H. Miller, Asheville, is chairman of the committee on arrangements for the convention.

Practically every county in North Carolina has a council of the Junior Order and during the year now ending the state councilor has visited every section of the state in presenting his constructive program.

Election of officers and selection of the 1937 convention city will be important features of the business sessions. A number of men have announced themselves as candidates for state vice-councilor. Durham has announced its decision to seek the convention for next year.

Since the subject has been mentioned, we wish to put it in the record that we prefer "go-getters" to "go-givers" but we try to avoid both.

STATE TOBACCO CROP SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Statistician Reports Better Situation and is Hopeful Higher Prices Will Offset Reduction

Raleigh, Aug. 4.—Frank Parker, statistician for the federal-state crop reporting service, said today he had observed "a very noticeable improvement in the tobacco crop of North Carolina during July" and was hopeful higher prices would offset the expected loss of poundage in 1936.

Last year's average price for tobacco was 20.34 cents a pound. Last year's crop was 680,000,000 pounds, compared to 662,000,000 forecast for this year, as of July 1st.

W. H. Rhodes and W. R. Rand, statisticians, returned here after a tour last week of Robeson, Bladen, Columbus and Brunswick counties, Parker said, and reported the crop was of a good color and in fairly good condition, although spotted.

EARLY START PROLONGS LIFE OF FALL GARDENS

The earlier the fall garden is started, the longer will it supply a good variety of vegetables.

L. P. Watson, extension horticulturist at State College, passes along the following tips for fall gardeners in Eastern North Carolina.

Planted during the latter part of July, or even during the first few days of August, Golden Cross Bantam corn will produce roasting ears before frost.

Beets, carrots, peas, snap beans, and cabbage can be planted in August. The seed will germinate more rapidly if soaked in water overnight and planted before they dry out.

If available, tomato plants can be set out at this time. If the young plants are unavailable, it is possible to get cuttings from the stems of old plants. Root them in sand in a shady place.

Sow lettuce seed for plants. Big Boston and White Boston are good varieties for fall planting. Lettuce should have a fertile soil and plenty of moisture.

For fall Irish potatoes, either Cobblers or Bliss should be used. If old seed is not available, early spring seed can be used if "greened" before planting. This is done by exposing them in open shade for two or three weeks prior to planting. Use small seed and plant the whole potato.

Manure is unequalled as a general garden fertilizer, but any good trucking fertilizer is suitable. If fertilizer is applied in the furrows, use about 1,000 pounds per acre. After the crops have started growing, side dressings of readily available nitrogen are helpful, often necessary.

CORN ACREAGE IS NEARLY HALF LOST

Washington, July 30.—The Department of Agriculture reported today that about half the total corn acreage in the states of Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and South Dakota was damaged beyond recovery for grain production as of July 28.

The department's Bureau of Agricultural Economics said prospects were better in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, but "even in most of these states there are sizeable areas where very little corn will make grain".

The stork seems to prefer visiting home where there is poverty. Quite often that proves to be the best place to rear real men and women.

FARM BUREAU MAP PLANS

Meeting at Greenville Thursday To Outline Compacts To Be Sought

Greenville, N. C., Aug. 4.—The executive committee of the North Carolina Farm Bureau Federation will meet here Thursday to launch an active campaign for State legislation designed to aid tobacco growers to get a good price for their product.

"The committee at its first meeting since the permanent organization was perfected in Raleigh last week, will prepare to put its shoulder to the wheel in the interest of tobacco compact legislation," E. F. Arnold, executive secretary, said.

"But the federation will not devote all of its attention to the tobacco growers, as it also lays plans for general State participation in 1937 in the Federal soil improvement and conservation program."

The federation now plans, Arnold said, to secure the services of one or more outstanding lawyers in drafting proposed compact legislation with the counsel probably conferring with members of the State delegation in Congress.

At Chattanooga, Tenn., on August 24, Arnold said, Southern Farm Bureau Federation association will confer and representatives from tobacco states not having federations will attend.

"We hope to have fairly definite proposed legislation on tobacco ready for consideration then," Arnold said.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

On August 2, a surprise birthday dinner was given in honor of Mr. J. A. Cash of Louisburg, on his 61st birthday. All his children and grandchildren were present, with the exception of his daughter, Mrs. Onnie Horton of Mount Olive. Lunch was served in picnic style.

OUTLOOK IS STRONG FOR '36 COTTON

Washington, July 30.—A strong market position for cotton was indicated today by the Agriculture Department report on world cotton prospects.

Rising prices during June and early July were attributed to the high level of world consumption of American cotton, compared with last year, the small supply in private hands, reduction in stocks of government financed cotton, and a belief that the coming crop would show only a moderate increase over last year's.

The Bureau of Agriculture Economics said the highest, daily price for cotton this season was 13.42 cents July 10, with an average of 13.8 for the week ending

July 18. The condition of the domestic cotton textile industry was reported improved during the last two months with mill consumption at 556,000 bales compared to 384,000 bales in June last year.

That new parasite laboratory at Washington won't be complete unless it furnishes opportunity for study of the peculiar species which arrives uninvited at a summer cottage to spend a week-end or longer.

Mrs. Hubert Boney of Teachey's, Duplin County, was honored with a Master Farm Homemakers Certificate awarded by the Home Demonstration Department of State College and is the first North Carolina woman to be so honored.
