LOUISBURG EXPECTING INCREASED SALES

WAREHOUSE PERSONNEL LARGEST ENROLLMENT CHANGES THIS SEASON

All Three Houses to Be Run—New Interest Brought In—All Accounts To Be Present—Much Activity To Make Ready For Big Sales and Big Crowds—Co-operative Invitation Extended All To Attend Opening

Louisburg's tobacco warehouses, Louisburg's tobacco interests, Louisburg's merchants and business men and Louisburg's citizens in general are making big preparations for the opening sales on Louisburg's tobacco market to be held here on Tuesday of next week. Everybody is interested in a big send off to the tobacco growers and to the market and are co-operating to that end.

The newly organized tobacco company is almost ready for participation in the buying game and is expected to be on the market in great style and strength on Tuesday and to remain throughout the season.

The operation of the warehouses in Louisburg have undergone quite a change in personnel this year. In the beginning Mr. S. S. Meadows, the war horse of the Louisburg market, has retired from the warehouse game on account of his health.

The operation of the Southside Warehouse has been taken over this year by Ben Wood and C. W. Lea, Sr., from the Union Warehouse last year, and Ricks Pearce, Pier Williamson and Charlie Ford, of the former Planters Warehouse line up.

The Union Warehouse will be operated this year by Grover C. Harris, formerly with the firm of Meadows & Harris at the Southside, who will have associated with him Numa Freeman, a new man in the warehouse game, although he has been directly or indirectly connected with the tobacco business for some time. Ernest Pruitt, also formerly with the Southside will be with the Union.

James Murphy is the only one who will stick to his same post. He will have associated with him at the Planters Warehouse Arch N. Wilson, one of Franklin County's young business men who was raised in a tobacco field.

The three warehouses have been put in first class shape and are ready for the golden week to be placed upon the floor and the citizens are eager to hear the crying of the auctioneer when he knocks off the tobacco at figures generally understood and expected about three to ten cents a hundred above last year prices. The reports from the markets that are open and from the many farmers in Franklin County indicate that while the tobacco is light in weight, it is of a good color and bringing a very satisfactory price.

As an evidence of co-operation the merchants of Louisburg are preparing many special items and bargains from which those visiting the market this year may make their visit profitable from the buying standpoint while the warehousemen and buyers are making it interesting from a standpoint of selling tobacco, and the entire town and community are co-operating to make the visit of every individual a most enjoyable and pleasant one.

It is confidently expected that with the present united efforts the Louisburg market this year will exceed any year of sales in its history. It is also noted that Franklin County is credited with the best tobacco crop in the State this season and therefore it is natural that all buyers will have instructions to take hearty on the local market.

The TIMES is informed that representatives of all tobacco accounts are expected to be present when the first sale is called and that all of them will be armed with orders for all grades at very satisfactory prices.

Get your tobacco ready and come on to Louisburg next Tuesday and each day thereafter. Come on even though you do not have tobacco ready. Let's meet each other again and enjoy a day. In the meantime those of you who bring tobacco may have double enjoyment in the price you receive for your tobacco.

Louisburg Man Lucky

Wednesday was BANK NIGHT at The Louisburg Theatre, and a big crowd was on hand to see the picture and try their luck at the money given away. S. H. Averitt didn't lose any of the two minutes time allotted to be at the stage after his name was called to win $135.00.

New Ford Agency

The Griffin-Tharrington Motor Co., took over the agency for the Ford automobiles and with it will maintain the usual service station. This company is in charge of Messrs. W. F. Griffin one of the most expert auto mechanics in this section and Leslie O. Tharrington, who has been with the sales department of the Ford agency for a number of years, and is recognized as one of the most successful automobile salesmen in this district. For the present they will conduct their agency at the location of their garage on Main Street, near the bridge, until they can arrange larger and more satisfactory quarters.

Home Coming at Pilot

A big home coming and general get together day sponsored by the Sunday School class and the Baptist church at Pilot, has been arranged for Saturday, September 19th, 1936 in the school and church groves at Pilot. A big barbecue and Brunswick stew dinner will be served at 1 o'clock, the proceeds from which will be used for the Baptist church at Pilot.

A short program has been arranged to be given just before dinner is served. Hon. W. L. Lumpkin will be the principal speaker.

Fire Alarm Saturday

The fire alarm Saturday near one o'clock was sent in from L. W. Parrish's jewelry store under the Opera House building. The fire department and the crowd quickly gathered and upon investigation it was found that possibly some old rubbish had been burned in a stove that entered the back that served Parrish's store and the odor of burning debris had entered the store from that source. A close watch was maintained and nothing further developed.

Quite a large number of the members of the Franklin County Farm Bureau enjoyed a luncheon at Beasley's Cafe on Friday night of last week. Louisburg College Has Approximately Three Hundred Enrolled; Adds New Courses and Enlarges Faculty

(Special to Times)
 With the largest enrollment in its history and with its prospects for the future brighter than they ever have been, Louisburg College formally inaugurated its one hundred and thirty-fourth session on Thursday of the past week. The enrollment of the College is approximately 300 which represents a 15 per cent increase over the 275 enrolled during the past year.

Outstanding among the new features this year are the new courses in industrial arts and vocational agriculture. The industrial arts course is entirely new and will be directed by Prof. Tilman Lockard, who comes from the Eastern Illinois Teachers' College and who recently was president of the Epiloin Pi Tau, national honorary fraternity in industrial arts and vocational education.

Courses in industrial arts are quite new to Southern colleges, especially among the smaller institutions and Louisburg College is a pioneer in this field in this State. These courses come as a response to a long-felt need that the student ought to be taught how to use his hand and his eye as well as his heart, mind and voice.

Both the course in industrial arts and in agriculture are being fully credited by N. C. State College and are being given along the same general lines as at N. C. State. The agriculture courses covers the first two years, and the graduate can enter the third year just the same as if he had taken his first two years at N. C. State.

Inaugurated a few years ago and now on a successful basis, the student self-help plan will be continued this year and on a new and enlarged basis. Virtually all Louisburg College students now have "duty work" to do as a regular part of their curricular studies, the theory behind the system being that if a student has responsibilities to attend to and does the job well and if he learns the meaning of money and work he has had a type of training as valuable as that which he obtains from the regular academic courses.

New Faculty Members

Additions to and changes in the faculty number over half a dozen for the present year. There are new instructors in music, expression, voice, social science, athletics and physical education, home economics and industrial arts.

David C. March, the new head coach and physical education director for men, comes from Purdue University where he has just completed his M. A. degree and where for the past year he was assistant coach in football, basketball and baseball.

The new instructor in industrial arts, Tilman Lockard, has been mentioned above. He was at the head of his class during the past year in industrial arts and was the first man of his class to obtain a position for the present school session.

Two other new faculty members are Prof. and Mrs. I. D. Moon, both of whom are from Asbury College, Kentucky. Prof. Moon is instructor in voice and Mrs. Moon is instructor in home economics. At Asbury College Prof. Moon was teacher in voice and director of the ensemble groups while Mrs. Moon has had extensive experience in teaching home economics in the State of Kansas.

Mrs. Bessie B. Bradshaw will be the new nurse and housekeeper, and comes to Louisburg College with degrees from Quenns-Chicora College and with post graduate work at Winthrop College and the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina.

Miss Mary Finch, of Rustburg, Va., is the new head of the piano department. Miss Finch comes from the Eastman School of Music of the University of Rochester where she was graduated with distinction with the bachelor of music degree.

Miss Martha Auten, of Charlotte, is the new instructor in expression and English. Miss Auten has the A. B. degree from Greensboro College.

Dallas Mallison, until recently connected with Atlantic Christian College in Wilson, is the new instructor in social science and will also act as publicity director. He has the A. B. degree from Atlantic Christian, the M. S. degree from N. C. State, and has had

Cotton Picking Machine in Impressive Tryout

JACKSON, Miss. . . . Deeply concerned with the future of cotton, many cotton men of importance were at Stoneville, Miss., last week to witness the performance of John and Mack Rust's cotton picking machine in operation. . . . In less than an hour the machine picked more cotton than a handpicker could gather in a day. The principal shortcoming of the machine was that it gathered twigs and unripe cotton and also stained some of the cotton. Nor is it as yet adapted to hilly and uneven fields.

two years of work toward his Ph. D. at Cornell University. All of these new men and women of the faculty come well recommended and they have had practical experience in their respective fields. President Wilcox has announced that they were selected with great care from among a large list of applicants and that they were chosen in line with his policy of building up a strong and valuable faculty.

Convocation Exercises
 The College was formally opened last Thursday morning at ten o'clock at the local Methodist Church. Dr. Wilcox presided over the ceremonies, at which representative citizens of Louisburg, members of the Board of Trustees, North Carolina educators and local ministers made short addresses.

The main addresses were made by W. C. Webb, Mayor of Louisburg; W. R. Mills, superintendent of the Franklin County schools; E. H. Malone, secretary of the board of trustees and attorney for the College. Ministers taking part in the exercises were Dr. O. P. Fitzgerald, pastor of the local Methodist church, and the Rt. Rev. F. E. Pulley, rector of the Louisburg Episcopal Church.

The keynote of the opening was struck by President Wilcox who said that "education is adjustment and if you can't adjust to people, situations, and events you aren't educated," and by Malone who said that "the only hope is in a democracy today is education."

"The whole world has taken on a Leftist trend. There seems to be a general tendency to tear things apart," declared Malone, who in this connection further stated that "the purpose of education is to discriminate between the real and the unreal, the true and the false."

He counseled the students to "take on the new but hold fast to that which is good in the old. Remember that happiness comes from within, not from without. Remember, too, that you are building memories every day and that life is as much today as tomorrow."

College To Publish Paper

Louisburg College students will publish a newspaper this year. This action was taken at a meeting of the student body this week at which time it was determined to issue a five column four page paper twice a month during the school year.

Last year a mimeographed sheet was put out usually twice a month. Newby Crowell, of Monroe, was the editor and A. E. Hodges, of Louisburg, was business manager. Clarence Walton, of Monroe, and Billy Daniels, of Wilmington, were assistant editors. The paper was called "The Ill Wind."

The editorial staff this school year will be composed of Daniels as editor-in-chief and Walton as business manager. Daniels is a second year ministerial student and Walton is a second year student working toward his A. B. degree in journalism.

Max Rhyne, a second year A. B. student, of Gastonia, was elected as assistant business manager. Rita Vinson, of Ahsokie, was selected as feature editor. Miss Vinson is also a second year A. B. student.

THANKS

We wish to express our deepest appreciation to the many friends who rendered their service during the recent illness and death of our dear son and friend Bill Spencer. May God bless you for all that has been done.

Mr. J. A. Spencer, family and his Best Friend.

Captain Holmes To Command Battery "E"

Captain R. I. Holmes, formerly attached to Battery "B" of Louisburg, N. C. as Executive has been transferred to Battery "E" of the 113th Field Artillery, stationed at Sanford, N. C. Captain Holmes was transferred to Sanford to take command of Battery "E" after the resignation of Captain Jewell and two Lieutenants.

The Commander of the 113th Field Artillery Regiment expressed great delight in securing Captain Holmes to command Battery "E".

Captain Holmes Military Service dates back to the age of 13, at which age he joined the Wilmington Boys Brigade, Wilmington, N. C. At the outbreak of the World War he was stationed at Camp Jackson, South Carolina as an instructor in the Field Artillery. After the War he became attached to Battery "B" Louisburg, N. C. and served continuously until his transfer to Sanford.

Captain Holmes goes to Sanford as a capable and experienced officer. His record during summer encampments has yet to be surpassed. The officers and personnel of Louisburg Battery feel a great loss in this transfer. Sanford should be proud of the services of such a capable officer.

Auxiliary Meeting

The American Legion Auxiliary held its regular monthly meeting with Mrs. D. T. Smithwick, Mrs. T. W. Smithwick and Miss Helen Smithwick hostesses. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Hugh W. Perry and the usual formalities were gone through with. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and a financial statement of the year was read showing the treasury in splendid condition and showing that the funds of the Auxiliary have been spent where they would do the most good for the needy ex-service man and his dependents, as well as for such things as Associated Charities in Louisburg and for flood relief and Red Cross work.

The election of officers for the year 1936-37 was then in order and the following were elected: President, Mrs. C. R. Sykes; 1st V. President, Mrs. R. W. Smithwick; 2nd V. President, Mrs. A. W. Alston; Secy-Treas., Mrs. J. E. Malone; Historian, Mrs. R. A. Bobbitt; Chaplain, Mrs. D. T. Smithwick; Sergeant-at-Arms, Mrs. C. A. Ragland.

LANDON MAINTAINS LEAD IN NATION-WIDE STRAW VOTE

'Anthony Adverse'

At The Louisburg Theatre Two Days, Thursday and Friday, September 24th - 25th With Only Two Shows Each Day

Fourth Week of Balloting Brings Two Shifts of States, California to Landon and Ohio to Roosevelt; 450,116 Votes From 36 States Give Republican Nominee 59% to 34% For Democratic Candidate

(By John Thomas Wilson)
 New York, Sept. 16.—The voting peak in the nation-wide presidential poll, now being conducted by more than 3,000 weekly newspapers, appears to be nearing as thousands of ballots poured into national straw-vote headquarters here at the end of the 4th week.

Voting during the fourth week developed slight tightening of lines along some fronts, but not of enough importance to bring about startling changes of states for respective candidates. The exceptions were, President Roosevelt regaining a lead over Governor Landon in Ohio, and, in California, where Landon took a slight lead over Roosevelt.

Scattered returns from 7 states, which heretofore have been carried in the nation-wide, state by state tabulations, are not included in the fourth week totals, presented this week. The ballots from those 7 states were so few in number that those in charge of the poll decided not to continue publishing them until representative returns are available. The seven states not included this week are: Arkansas, Delaware, Georgia, Mississippi, Nevada, New Mexico and Vermont.

All Candidates, 36 States
 Returns from 36 states, at the close of the fourth week of balloting, totaled 450,116 votes. They disclose the following standing of the candidates at this time:

Landon	267,725	59.5%
Roosevelt	153,094	34.0%
Lemke	21,326	4.0%
Thomas	3,638	.8%
Colvin	1,531	.3%
Browder	2,802	.6%
	450,116	100%

Governor Landon, Republican Presidential nominee, maintains a lead in 29 of the 36 states. Those states are, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Tennessee, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin. In four states, California, Minnesota, Montana and Nebraska, the Landon leads are small.

The seven states in which President Roosevelt leads are: Alabama, Florida, Idaho, North Carolina, Ohio, Texas, and Utah. The Roosevelt lead in Idaho is based upon sparse returns only.

The Leaders' Standings
 The vote for Congressman Wm. Lemke, Union Party Presidential candidate, maintains approximately the same volume each week but despite certain state strongholds fails to gain on the leaders. Total returns at the close of the 4th week of state by state tabulations, as between Landon, Roosevelt and Lemke, are as follows:

Landon	267,725	60.6%
Roosevelt	153,094	34.6%
Lemke	21,326	4.8%
	442,145	100%

In the new alignment of returns from the 36 states only, as between Landon and Roosevelt, totals at the close of the 4th week show:

Landon	267,725	63.6%
Roosevelt	153,094	36.4%
	420,819	100%

The avalanche of ballots now arriving at straw-vote headquarters here at Publishers Autocaster Services offices, indicate that a truly representative vote of small town and rural America presidential sentiment will be available at the conclusion of this nation-wide country weekly newspaper poll.

The 5th week returns, now being tabulated, should furnish some interesting figures for early speculations on the outcome of the November election.

Still Time To Vote
 If the readers of the FRANKLIN TIMES have not yet voted in this nation-wide presidential poll, we suggest they do so by clipping the ballot which is printed elsewhere of this issue, vote for their favorite candidate, then mail or bring the ballot to our offices. Voters are not required to sign their names on the ballot. Write only the name of the town and the state wherein you expect to vote at the November election. This identification of ballot is to assist in the national state by state tabulations at straw vote headquarters in New York.

We also suggest that readers vote at once because soon now the poll will be brought to a close and if your favorite presidential candidate is not getting necessary votes in this territory, this is your opportunity to help show his strength with voters here.
