Roosevelt Highlights

Charlotte, Sept. 10.—Highlights of President Roosevelt's address before the "Seven States Green Pastures" Democratic rally here today:

"If history gives a name to the age in which we are living, I hope it will call this the 'Era of Rebuilding'."

"In respect to cotton I had a definite objective: . . . to get 10 cent cotton our first year in office and to get 12 cent cotton or more for the next three years. . . I ask you in simple fairness have we attained that goal?"

"I don't believe that the great tobacco growing states of the nation wish to go back to the days of 'every man for himself and let the devil take the hindmost'."

"We have enabled the public, through a practical prosperity, to begin to pay their debts, to paint their houses, to buy farm tools and automobiles, to send more boys and girls through school and college, to put some money in the bank and, incidentally, to know for the first time that the money in the bank is safe."

"A family that tries to subsist on a total wage income of $400 a year is just as much a drag on the prosperity of America as the farm family that seeks to subsist on a yearly cash income of $100."

"The National Recovery Act, during its short term of life, accomplished as much for the restoration of prosperity through the establishment of the minimum wage, the shortening of hours and the elimination of child labor as any law put on the statute books of the Federal government in the past century."

"Any common sense, logical governmental policy and to begin with the building up of farm and other property values, and crop values, and the increase of workers wages if that now historic corner was ever to be turned."

"History records that a few years ago farmers . . . workers in factories . . . the small business man . . . and the corporation were not making both ends meet."

"History will also record that by the year 1936 a very much larger number of individuals are back in the black; so are most of our small business men; so are most of our corporations and so den, "hot spots," states where early voting was heavy, on the G. O. P. side.

EDITOR'S NOTE: If you have not voted in this nation-wide President poll then reach now for pen or pencil, clip the ballot on page 6, vote your choice, then mail or bring your ballot to the FRANKLIN TIMES office.

You do not have to sign your name on the ballot, nor do you commit yourself in any manner. You are asked to write in the name of town and the state from which you expect to vote in November. This identification of the ballot makes possible a more accurate tabulation of the national vote.

FARM BUREAU HOLDS MEETING

tributed to every community in the County, taking with it increased and more economical production; that the 4-H Club members averaged on their corn project approximately 35 bushels of corn per acre during 1935 crop year as compared with approximately 16 bushels per acre for all farmers in the County.

Mr. G. L. Winchester of the Soil Conservation Service stated that the greatest asset God gave man was fertile soil on which to grow crops and make a living, but that man was wasteful and untrained in his habits and methods of cultivation and as a result the greatest asset of this country, its topsoil, is travelling at a rapid rate of speed down Tar River. He stated that the Soil Conservation Service, located in Franklinton, were increasing its efforts to have more farmers of the County cooperating with their program, but as they could touch only a small percentage of the farmers in the county, it was essential that farmers put into practice crop stripping, crop rotation and soil trossion control.

Mr. W. H. M. Jenkins, President of the Farmers Club, which merged with the Farm Bureau at the last meeting, stated that he was glad to be able to attend this meeting and see the old faces that were so dear to him; that he was willing to cooperate with this group to accomplish the great needs of the farmers of Franklin County.

Mr. W. C. Eagles stated that tobacco was the greatest asset of Franklin County and that it was essential that our farmers work with the Farm Bureau to establish the economic security of the tobacco farms.

Mr. E. Y. Floyd, Tobacco Specialist of the Extension Service, for the State of North Carolina, was then presented. In his short but very interesting and inspiring talk he stated that the income of the tobacco farmers, of North Carolina had increased from the sum of $36,000,000 in 1922 to the sum of $117,000,000 in 1935.

He further stated that he did not believe any policies could maintain tobacco prices at an average above twenty-six cents, but stated that farmers would have to use better practices and better methods of production, thereby producing a better grade of tobacco in order to expect an average between eighteen and twenty-four cents as foreign countries with a poor climatic condition and less adaptable to tobacco soil, could and are producing this lower grade of tobacco.

He stated that this year due to the reasons of uncertainties as to the control program that would be in effect next year—that he had been informed by independent companies buying tobacco that they would be able to pay as high a price for low grade tobacco this year as they paid last year if they could be assured that production would be controlled in 1937. He stated that tobacco selling for above eleven cents a pound was selling slightly higher than last year, but that tobacco selling below eleven cents a pound is selling lower than the same quality

He stated that it was essential that tobacco farmers begin thinking in terms of good crop rotation for tobacco. He said that some of our farmers have produced tobacco on same piece of land for the past twenty-five years without any serious trouble, but that for every one who had not had any trouble, he could name one hundred who had been unsuccessful in their efforts.

Mr. Floyd operates a tobacco farm within eighteen miles of Louisburg in Granville County and stated that he used the following rotations with extremely good results: First year, tobacco followed by wheat; Second year, Wheat harvested and followed by either Herds Grass or Red Top or Lespedeza which stands for two years. This is followed by either cotton or corn the fourth year, and the next year is again planted to tobacco. He further stated that seed to go into the rotation is expensive, and the best way he knew of was to grow them on the farm.

As a last statement he said that every one could be bettered by crop rotations of some type, and that the rotation should be adapted to the conditions of his farm and himself. Even though tobacco is grown on land continuously for twenty years, there is a crop rotation if rye grows over winter on this land.

Mr. Lamm then called on members for suggestions as to how the Farm Bureau could be improved. Mr. E. J. Morgan suggested that a committee be appointed to work out a sound Farm Bureau Program for next year.

Mr. N. H. Ayscue requested the Farm Bureau to give his community their support in securing assistance from the State Highway Department in constructing a road to Whitakers Mill. Motion was made by W. C. Boyce that a rural road committee be appointed to investigate the roads approved by the Franklin County Board of Commissioners and recommended to the Highway Department, and put the power of the organization behind the application to secure necessary action. Motion was seconded and passed. Motion was made by G. L. Winchester that Chairman be permitted to appoint the committee at later date in order to get representatives from each rural road.

Motion was made and passed that there being no further business the meeting be adjourned.
