TRYING PAT-TERSON CASE

JUROR JAILED FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT

Franklin Criminal Court Convened Monday; Judge N. A. Sinclair Presiding; Many Cases Disposed Of; One Week Term

The regular February term of Franklin Criminal Court convened Monday morning with Hon. N. A. Sinclair, Judge presiding and Solicitor W. Y. Bickett, ably representing the State, Judge Sinclair delivered quite a plain, strong and interesting charge to the grand jury, stating that the grand jury is the most powerful branch of our Judicial System and that the present set-up was much better than the old one as it provided some old members on each jury who could guide the transactions, saving much time. He explained that it was a grand inquest and separate from the court and was more powerful than the court. He used this explanation to impress the importance it played in the work of the courts and the welfare of the County. He explained to them that while they were required to pass upon all bills they were not expected to try the cases, their only duty being to find if there was sufficient evidence to take up the time of the court. He also stated that while we can't abolish crime, we can do a great deal to lessen it. Like diseases, he said, we can abolish the breeding places. He told them of their duty to investigate jails, County home, prison camps, school buses, and surroundings and impressed upon them the importance of their action.

A very unusual happening occurred in the court room Tuesday when it was noticed one of the jurors was absent when the jury trying the case of William Whitfield, was called back in the box and it was learned that he had been locked up on a drunkenness charge at the noon hour of court. The juror was Joe Bobbitt, who was given a ten day jail sentence for Contempt of Court Wednesday morning. Another juror was called in that afternoon and the case retried.

The grand jury was composed of W. R. Dean, Foreman; W. N. Mullen, B. F. Wilder, J. T. Burham, C. C. Bowden, W. S. Gay, T. M. Huff, H. F. Mitchell, W. C. Collins, old members, and W. P. Wilson, W. F. Baker, S. W. Foster, C. C. Benton, B. C. Champion, H. G. Lindsey, D. N. Murphy, H. B. Winn, D. L. Ayscue, the new members. G. C. Parrish was made officer to Grand Jury. The Grand Jury used the Commissioners room for their deliberations.

The docket was taken up and disposed of as follows:

Clark Roberts was found guilty of operating an automobile intoxicated.

William Whitfield was found not guilty of housebreaking and larceny.

A nolle proes was entered in the case of entering and larceny against William Whitfield.

Sam High pleaded guilty to housebreaking and larceny and was given two years on roads.

John Chappel, charged with assault with deadly weapon with intent to kill, was remanded to Recorder's Court.

Sylvester Rose, charged with assault with deadly weapon with intent to kill, was remanded to Recorder's Court.

Wiley Horton and Alvin Moore, charged with highway robbery, was remanded to Recorder's Court.

Mary Carr Steed pleaded guilty to assault with deadly weapon, prayer for judgment was continued upon payment of costs.

Lelar Joyner, assault with deadly weapon, continued under former order.

John Chappell, operating automobile intoxicated, not guilty.

Upon the completion of the Chappel case above at noon Wednesday the case of Jerry Patterson, charged with rape, was taken up. The jury was completed Wednesday afternoon and is composed of the following: Arthur Strickland, J. R. White, R. A. Perry, H. H. Wheeler, Lee Bunn, J. R. Cheaves, C. H. Richardson, W. C. Green, W. K. Shearon, Robert Frazier, H. T. Newton, G. W. Aycock, D. L. Wells.

Taking of evidence was begun yesterday morning and was in progress as we went to press.

Exports Increase

Exports from the United States to Chile during the first eight months of last year increased 44 per cent as compared with the similar period in 1936, according to a report made public today by the Chilean Consul General in New York.

The value of American merchandise and raw materials sold to Chile from January to August, 1937, amounted to $15,116,517 as compared with $10,551,881 last year. These exports consisted chiefly of cotton goods, woolen goods, fuel oil, rolled iron or steel, and machinery. Almost every branch of American industry was in some way, either directly or indirectly, affected by these Chilean purchases.

Approximately 25 per cent of Chile's annual foreign purchases during the last ten years have been from the United States, amounting to more than $241,000,000 for that period. Through the use of these American products, especially machinery and raw materials, Chile has been able substantially to modernize her industries, improve her standard of living and consequently increase her purchasing power.

LIEUT. GOVERNOR SPEAKS

Shows The Many Uses Of The Cotton Seed With Moving Pictures

A double treat was given members of Louisburg Kiwanis and guests at the usual weekly luncheon Tuesday night at the Agricultural building, when Lieut. Governor Ned Dameron, of Burlington, was present and addressed the meeting. He complimented the club for the progress it had made the past year and told them the big desire of Kiwanis this year was to increase the membership. He told of the coming convention to be held at San Francisco, and urged the club to send at least two delegates, and gave a nice side-light on the Charlotte Convention the past fall.

The second treat was the "Dixie Shopping Tour" presented in moving talking pictures by Mr. Shep Oliver, of Rocky Mount, secured by Grover Harris, who had charge of the night's program. This picture presented the cotton seed and the many uses to which its parts are put. The meeting was presided over by Paul Elam, President. Minutes were read by Secretary James Johnson, and music furnished by Mrs. J. E. Malone. Sponsor, Prayer was offered by Rev. Jimmie Phillips.

The attendance was splendid and all enjoyed the delightful lunch and the splendid program.

CLOSE METEOR

A blazing meteor swept across the northern sky, exploded within hearing distance and burned itself out, leaving a trail of smoke in the dusk early Monday night. Excited telephone calls testified that the astrophysical display had numerous witnesses.

Weatherman Sherwood Jones of the U. S. Weather Bureau estimated the duration of visibility almost a minute. The meteor blazed an arc across the sky from northeast to southwest. From the ground, he said, it appeared the size of a man's head, bursting into gaseous flame and fading away to a red coal. Smoke was visible for five minutes afterward.

The meteor was larger and came closer to the earth than meteoric particles ordinarily flashing into the earth's atmosphere from the outer spaces. Fred Jones, Jr., of the Hayes Barton section, declared he heard a "rumbling noise like that of a train" and heard an explosion.

Telephone calls gave varied reports. One caller, with an excited voice, declared the light cast shadow during the twilight. Another insisted that he heard its impact as it struck the earth.—News-Observer.

METEOR?

Wilson, Feb. 7.—What observers believed to be a large meteor fell near here early tonight.

Between 6:30 and 6:45 o'clock, several persons, including Dr. J. G. Turner, witnessed the fall of a blazing heavenly body, much larger and much closer to earth than the common falling star, in the northern sky.

The body, traveling rapidly, was visible for more than three minutes, Dr. Turner said, and as it neared the earth exploded and disappeared, apparently only a comparatively few feet above the ground.

Dr. Turner said he thought the meteor was very close to Wilson and came close to earth because he measured it along the line of a one-story building, over which he was looking at an angle.

Quite a number of Franklin County people observed the same meteor, some, not knowing what it was, described it as a warning given the people stating it rose from a little to the southwest and when almost straight above it changed its course to almost north, and with its smoke or tail wrote a message, three letters L. W. Y. being very plain but the rest unintelligible.

Mesdames George Selby, M. C. Mullen, R. H. Strickland, and Misses Elsie Hudson and Elizabeth Timberlake attended the North Carolina Sunday School Officers Convention in High Point Thursday and Friday of last week.
