PANHANDLERS DE LUXE

Judging from the expression on the faces of Zoe Dell Lantis, pretty pirate girl of the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition, and Sam Johnston, president of the Angels Camp Calif., Boosters' Club, who is seen here as a miner, there's plenty of pay dirt in the pan. Miss Lantis uncorks the smile while Johnston reveals plans for a "Forty-niner Mining Camp" at the Exposition.

The North Carolina strain No. 1 of Porto Rico sweet potatoes developed by the Experiment Station produced 169.6 bushels per acre of marketable potatoes while a local strain produced only 113.1 bushels per acre, reports W. E. Becton of Kinston, Route 1.

HIGHER
Household operation costs were higher in small southeastern cities than in similar cities in other parts of the United States, a survey just completed by the U. S. Bureau of Home Economics reveals. Gastonia was the North Carolina city studied.
