POPULAR BABY CONTEST NOW IN BIG SECOND PERIOD

Next Count Saturday, Feb. 25th --- Extension Credits May Change Leaders---Leaders All Close

The FRANKLIN TIMES "Dollars to You" Popular Baby Contest, now in its second period, is swinging along with ever increasing interest and activity on the part of the parents, relatives and friends of the contestants as the end of the second highest period of credits looms, Wednesday, March 1st.

Of course right now, too, the efforts of all those workers in the contest who are competing for the hundreds in cash are stimulated by the vision of an exciting finish to the contest just 9 days hence.

The opening of the ballot box last Saturday night at the end of the high credit period disclosed the greatest returns in merchants coupons and subscriptions yet made by the contestants.

The result of the counting of the votes and subscription credit was posted on headquarters window on Saturday evening. Billy Lancaster, Emily Nell Dean, Frances Timberlake and Joyce Spencer finished the first period in that order, but the total number of votes to the credit of each was so close that the position on the Honor Roll was in doubt until every vote had been counted.

The first count of the second period on Wednesday found every contestant on their toes after the lead and all realizing that the lead was within reach of any contestant during this extension period of subscription credits.

The only question to be answered is this, "Is some real work right now for a couple of weeks worth $150.00 in cash?" Each contestant will have to answer that for himself or herself, yet, you readers can do something extraordinary for the baby you admire by asking for merchant's coupons and subscribing to the FRANKLIN TIMES to the credit of that youngster.

The next opening of the ballot box and counting of votes will take place on Saturday evening. Get votes while the getting is good. Save merchant's "Baby Coupons!" Subscribe to the FRANKLIN TIMES.

A light count Wednesday evening showed little change in the standing of the contestants, Emily Nell Dean going into first place. With the race so close and the time so short this Saturday's count, with the extra awards, as an added incentive, changes galore should take place. The contestant who rallies his or her backer now is the one who will cross the line a winner on the fourth of March. Only six more days remain of the second period and then the sealed ballot box for the last three days. Whatever is to be done to win, must be done now.

Church Survey To Be Made

The Baptist, Episcopal and Methodist Churches are cooperating in a religious survey which will touch all homes in Louisburg. There will be a joint committee of workers, representing the three churches. Workers will go, two-by-two into the homes to secure information concerning the church affiliations, and church school activities of persons in the homes.

The information will be tabulated by families and each church is to be given a copy of each family card so that the complete facts will be at hand for each church. This survey should be a great assistance to the work of the churches in trying to see that every individual in Louisburg receives the personal attentions and benefits the church is able to offer.

This work will be initiated in a union evening preaching service at the Baptist Church on next Sunday night. All workers on the joint-committee should be present to receive explanation of the procedure in carrying out this useful inter-church activity.

BOARD TO SUPPLEMENT $5,000

To Hold a Primary Election And Regular Election For Town Officers; To Investigate Removing of Parkway On West Nash Street

The Board of Town Commissioners met in semi-monthly meeting at 7:30 P. M., Feb. 21, 1939. The Board passed the following resolution:

"It appearing to the Board of Town Commissioners of the Town of Louisburg, N. C., that Tracy Kilgo Stockard, Town Clerk, has made full settlement with the Town of Louisburg, N. C., for the tax rolls of 1937, and the tax rolls for all years prior thereto:

"Now Therefore Be It Resolved that settlement of said Town Clerk be accepted and in all respects approved, and that he be relieved of further responsibility in so far as the Bond No. 85466 executed by him on April 15th, 1938, with the National Surety Corporation as surety is concerned, and for the further collection of and delinquent taxes.

"Duly adopted at a meeting of the Commissioners of the Town of Louisburg, N. C., held in the office of said Board at 7:30 P. M., on the 21st day of Feb., 1939."

A motion prevailed to continue the practice of holding a Primary Election and a Regular Election, instead of holding one Town Election.

The Street Committee was instructed to investigate the cost and advisability of removing the parkway in the center of West Nash Street, so that this space can be utilized for the parking of vehicles.

Capt. E. F. Griffin, acting as spokesman for a delegation of citizens, informed the Board that the funds allocated for the construction of the Armory Building were not sufficient, and that there is an estimated deficit of $5,000.00.

Commissioner P. W. Elam made the following motion: "That the Board of Town Commissioners proceed with the sale of the Armory Building Bonds in amount of $18,000.00, and that the Board agree to supplement this amount up to a limit of $5,000.00 if necessary." C. R. Sykes seconded this motion and it was carried.

Rev. Walter Patten, representing Louisburg College offered approximately 3 1/2 acres of land situated at the rear of the Louisburg College property in full settlement of all Pavement Assessments and interest owed to the Town of Louisburg, N. C., by Louisburg College. The Board referred Dr. Patten's proposal to the Tax Committee for its consideration.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

LOUISBURG BAPTIST CHURCH

In the absence of the pastor on Sunday, Rev. E. H. Davis preached at the morning hour. He used as his text: "Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things we have heard." Two facts emerge. First, the ever accumulating amount of evidence to the words of the gospel. It has been confirmed unto us by those who have heard ever since. Second, lest we let them slip. Among the things we must be careful not to let slip are: the very fact of God, the Sabbath observance, respect of men for opposite sex, and reverence and respect for government.

Dr. D. E. Earnhardt preached at the evening service. He set before those who heard the need for religious homes. He pointed out that the kind of homes we have determine the kind of teachers, doctors, lawyers, merchants, customers and citizens we have. There are three essentials, that will produce the right kind of teachers, individuals, if they are instilled in the lives and hearts of the individuals while they are in the home. Those essentials: reverence, chastity and honesty.

Morning worship at 11:00 A. M. Dr. A. Paul Bagby, pastor, will preach on "Poor Rachel." Evening worship at 7:30 P. M. Sermon topic: "The Prodigal's Losses." Sunday School at 9:45 A. M. Historic Mecklenburg Host To Its First Legislature

Governor Voices Assurance Of Balanced Budget Without Major Tax Changes

Charlotte, Feb. 22.—Holding its first meeting in history west of Hillsboro here today, the General Assembly heard Governor Hoey declare that there is a general feeling that current conditions warrant no major changes in tax policies, but that a balanced budget would be attained.

"When this General Assembly adjourns," the Governor emphasized, "we will have a balanced budget provided for the next biennium."

Governor Hoey and Governor Burnet R. Maybank exchanged greetings at the Senate and House of Representatives concluded brief business sessions to turn to an afternoon of entertainment and sight-seeing arranged by the Mecklenburg delegation and the people of Charlotte.

"For the next four years, during which I will be governor, you may depend on my wholehearted support and cooperation in any undertaking in which we may join," Governor Maybank said in a brief address praising the State administration. He thanked the North Carolina Legislature for pointing South Carolina to good roads and paid special tribute to North Carolina as a "pioneer in advertising." He expressed the hope that South Carolina would establish an advertising bureau to promote industry and attract tourist trade to the Palmetto State.

Governor Maybank said the sister states claimed many firsts of their own, the first declaration of independence in Charlotte, the first white colony at Roanoke and the first defeat of the British navy off Sullivan's Island on the South Carolina coast; and that about the only disagreement was over the birthplace of Andrew Jackson, claimed by both states.

Expenditures Justified. Addressing the joint session, Governor Hoey told the crowd that growing State needs justified the rapid increase in appropriations during the past eight years and that demands of state-wide school and road systems cannot be met without general increase in taxes.

The State's efforts to attract industry, develop resources, rehabilitate agriculture, reemploy labor and cultivate tourist trade should increase the State's income sufficiently in a few years to provide for "expanding needs of education, the necessary improvement of our road system and the enlarged service to our charitable institutions, including increased assistance to the old and indigent and to the dependent or underprivileged children."

Prefacing his talk with a reference to independence and Washington's birthday, the Governor said: "I still believe in the early philosophy of Thomas Jefferson that the best government finds expression in the maintenance of the conditions of liberty and the leaving of the citizen free within reasonable bonds and limitations to work out his destiny and achieve his goal. This does not mean that government should not step in and do the people many things which they are unable to do for themselves, but it does indicate that the true philosophy should find expression in regulation rather than control, and in assistance and co-operation rather than in assumption of operation and dominance."

The two governors were escorted to the joint session by Senator Joseph Lee Blythe of Mecklenburg, Representatives J. B. Vogler, J. Wilson Alexander and Marvin L. Ritch of Mecklenburg, Senator Seark of Gaston, Mayor Ben E. Douglas of Charlotte and Chairman H. W. Harkey of the Mecklenburg board of county commissioners.

Sympathy For Bertie. Governor Hoey offered a word of sympathy for the suffering people in tornado-stricken Bertie County and termed the tragedy "a rare occurrence in our favored realm." He said he was sure that "out of the heart of North Carolina, goes sympathy and understanding to those who suffer."

Theft Ring Is Believed Smashed By Officers

Tobacco and Meat Thefts In Three Counties Laid To Gang Held Here In Jail For Investigation; Thefts Extended Over Wide Area

Widespread thefts of tobacco and meats in Vance, Franklin and Warren counties have been laid to Roger Fautkner and Bennie Faulkner, brothers, and James Daniel, all of Franklin Co., Bennie Nicholson, Ernest Richardson and Penn Clements, the latter three Negroes, and said to be of Franklin County also, by Sheriff L. L. Swanson, who with his deputies and with cooperation of officers in adjoining counties, has been instrumental in bringing the six into custody.

All are being held in Vance County jail pending further investigation. Ernest Richardson and Penn Clements have admitted their part in the crimes and have implicated the others.

The Faulkner brothers, Bennie Nicholson and Ernest Richardson are charged with stealing 1,800 pounds of tobacco from Frank Ellington in this county, on October 30, 1938.

The same group is charged with stealing 700 pounds of tobacco on December 2, 1938 from J. T. Munn in Franklin County.

The gang is also charged with theft on Feb. 2, 1939 from the smoke house of R. J. Stewart, in Warren County, of five hams, two shoulders and two sides of meat.

The Faulkner brothers, Nicholson and Richardson are already under arrest for thefts in Clinton, Sampson County, and were being held in jail there before Sheriff Swanson brought them to the city for investigation of thefts in this section.

City police set off the investigation when Police Sergeants C. C. Harris, H. T. Hamm and J. D. Peck saw Faulkner and Daniel on the streets of Henderson in the early morning hours with a load of groceries and attempted to halt them. Faulkner and Daniel fled the city, being captured near Kittrell and brought back here under arrest. The two men were using a light pick-up truck and had it heavily loaded at the time of their arrest with merchandise said to have been stolen in Sampson County.—Henderson Dispatch.

Scores In Need After Storm Destroys Many Houses In Grenn's Cross Section

WINDSOR AGENCIES GIVING AID TO 96 LEFT HOMELESS

Appeals For Aid in Rehabilitation Sent Out; Damage Set at Above $50,000

Windsor, Feb. 21.—A tornado swept through the Green's Cross section of Bertie County early tonight, demolishing an undetermined number of houses, tore down trees and communication lines, and left scores of persons in need of assistance.

Windsor, Feb. 22.—Windsor citizens today began the extensive task of rehabilitation in the nearby Green's Cross section, which last night was swept by a tornado that caused three deaths, sent nearly a score of persons to the Windsor Hospital, and left 96 persons homeless.

Local civic organizations, the Bertie County Welfare Department, the Red Cross, Boy Scouts, and other groups combined efforts to provide shelter, food, and clothing for the afflicted. Contributions from various sections of the State began coming in this morning following an appeal broadcast from the hospital.

Property damage in the storm, which swept a three-mile path through the thickly populated farming section, was estimated at between $50,000 and $60,000. Mayor J. A. Pritchett of Windsor, who is directing relief work, sent an appeal to Senator Robert R. Reynolds in Washington asking him to seek Works Progress Administration aid in rehabilitation. Associates of the Senator said he will communicate with WPA officials tomorrow.
