PRESIDENT SNYDER GIVES ADDRESS

on the college which he has attended. In conclusion, Dr. Earnhardt assured these boys and girls that if their attitude toward church is all right that he would have no uneasiness about their future.

At the beginning of this program, just after the processional played by Mr. James Byerly at the organ, and the hymn "He Leadeth Me," invocation was asked by Dr. Walter Patten.

Two piano selections by Chopin, Nocturne, E-flat Major and Valse, C sharp minor, were played by Miss Edith Dixon, a member of the graduating class.

Assisted by Dean Peele, Mrs. V. R. Kilby presented the following students to Dr. Earnhardt who awarded diplomas and certificates in their respective fields of accomplishments:

Associate of Arts: Colton Calvin Allen, Richard Daniel Auger, Robert Lee Bame, Betty Bunn Teal, Alma Lee Becton, Mary Eleanor Bethea, Bonnie Louise Bulard, James Claude Chaffin, Edith Thomas Dixon, Evelyn Frances Earnhardt, Allen C. Edens, Jr., Robert Dixon Edwards, Jane Rowland Fuller, Ida Maria George, Grover C. Hollowell, Annie Odum Huggins, John Malcolm Lewis, Edna Montgomery, Thomas Adolph Stubbs, Jr., Laura Virginia Stutts, Lottie Faye West, Charles Ernest Williamson.

Diploma in Secretarial Course: Nancy Katherine Davis, Lois Hope Lane, Mildred Hoke Murray, Edna Evelyn Patterson, Marie Willis Sawyer, Alice Elizabeth Southerland.

Diploma in Accounting: William King Bryan, Aldon Glenn Summerlin, John Edward Wiloughby.

Certificates were presented after the exercises to those securing them in Secretarial Course and in Accounting: Hazel Maxine Bailey, Ruth Emerson Boone, Frances Lucille Brower, Alice Marie Cahill, Melba Chappell, Mary Edith Clay, Ethel Rose Curran, Ella Old Davenport, Frances Wollong Edens, Nellie Scott Featherstone, Allie Louise Harris, Vera Louise Hill, Martha Edith Holden, Ethel Frances Holton, Mildred Elizabeth Livermon, Ruth Magalene Lytle, Flora Deane Neville, Millicent Elizabeth Newby, Frances Page, Edna Parker, Julia Gilbert Phillips, Frances Virginia Pergerson, Elizabeth Person, Reba Clell Riggs, Mary Ethel Rountree, Nellie Wilder Southall, Rosalie Stainback, Margaret Olivia Strickland, Grace Stroud, Margaret Carolyn Waters, Eva Stapleton Wilder, Martha Vale Windley, Hazel Catherine Winstead.

Certificate in Accounting: Nellie Wilder Southall.

Miss Virginia Peyatt in behalf of the Louisburg College Players, an honorary division of the Dramatic Department presented awards to: Samuel Arrington, Frances Brown, Alice Cahill, Vivian Cayton, Harold Davis, Peggy Ford, Emmitt Harrison, Lester Stallings, Clyde Stallings, and Margaret Trigg.

Coach Cameron was recognized and presented the athletic award which is based upon athletic achievement, scholarship and general attitude to Harold Troutman.

Mrs. Margaret B. Kilby, head of the Commercial Science Department and sponsor of the Louisburg College Chapter of Alpha, Pi Epsilon Society, a National honorary organization, presented membership certificates into this organization to those eligible. The possession of high scholarship, good character, and personality, determined the eligibility for this certificate. The following students received them: Edith Criddle, Woodsdale; Catherine Davis Winston-Salem; Ruth Grey Harris, North Harlowe; Nellie Scott Featherstone, Roxboro; Ethel Holton, New Bern; Lois Lane, Tyner; Mildred Livermon, Columbia; Frances Page, Richlands; Willard Perry, Louisburg; Marie Sawyer, Swan Quarter; Martha Windley, Bridgeton.

Edna Montgomery, Valectorian, and Colton Calvin Allen, Salutatorian, were recognized and presented blue ribbons with the words designating the honor each had obtained printed upon them. Benediction was pronounced by Dr. J. H. Barnhardt, Presiding Elder of the Raleigh District.

Marshals for commencement were: Chief—Julian Joliff; Frances McDonald, Margaret Simmons, Richard Norvell, Howell Perry, and Irene Perry.

Commencement Sermon

Dr. H. E. Spence, of Duke University, delivered the commencement sermon in the Louisburg Methodist Church, Sunday morning, May 21, at 11 o'clock.

His text was, "Who Knows But What Thou Art Come to the Kingdom for Such a Time as This." The minister said in heart, "We are in the midst of times that call for extraordinary leadership and personal integrity. There has never been a time in the history of the world when young people were called on to face such severe temptations. And there has never been a time when there was such opportunity to yield to these temptations. We would not be surprised on any morning to find things happening, the like of which the world never witnessed before.

"The remedy for the situation that prevails is in forming by somebody. You will be called on to be that somebody. The men of the past who have led in world movements did not start under any more favorable circumstances than you have. The leaders in the world today with the possible exception of the President of the United States has a lowly origin and limited advantages. It is for you so to use the advantages you have as to make our communities and cities better. It is a matter of wanting to."

Invocation was said by Rev. E. H. Davis, and scripture was read by Rev. J. G. Phillips.

Hymns of praise were sung by the congregation, and anthems, "The Heavens Resound" and "Jesus Word of God Incarnate" were sung by the Louisburg Acapella Choir.

Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. Sermon
Y.M. and Y.W.C.A. sermon was preached by Dr. Walter Patten in the Louisburg Baptist Church, Sunday evening, May 21, at 8 P. M.

He took as his theme the incident of James and John requesting of Jesus that they sit the one upon the right hand and the other upon the left hand of the Master when he came in his glory.

The idea was presented that these disciples proved to be bargain hunters for rewards and glory without having paid the real cost for such rewards.

In the law of as ye sow so shall ye reap there is written the fruits of our labor. These fruits come not by change, or luck, but as a result of labor and responses to opportunities. Special favors are won not given because of our asking.

Science has given to us the knowledge of laws of growth and development. These laws must be observed and we labor in the light of their truth.

There is also the faith of the Father's abiding presence and in that presence we may live with the assurance of its guiding force.

Prayer was offered by Warren Petteway and scripture was read by Faye West.

The anthem "Crossing The Bar" written by Barrett, was sung by the Acapella Choir.

Alumni Banquet

Unique and different was the plan of the program for the Louisburg College Alumni Banquet which was held in the dining hall of the college on Saturday night, May 20th, at 7 o'clock. Mrs. James Malone, President, presiding.

The program was based on Louisburg College of Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow, and included the following numbers: "Welcome," Mrs. James Malone; Toast of Yesterday, Mr. Edwin Malone; Louisburg College of Yesterday, Mrs. Ivey Allen, Past President of Louisburg College; Song of Yesterday, Mrs. Mack Stamps; Toast of Today, Eby Roberts, President of Senior Class; Louisburg College of Today, Dr. Earnhardt; Song of Today, Eunice Collins; Toast of Tomorrow, Nancy Carlisle Griffin; Song of Tomorrow, (piano solo) by Jane Moon; Louisburg College of Tomorrow, Dr. Walter Patten.

Very singular was the welcome extended by Mrs. Malone as she used a copy of a welcome written in verse and used thirty-five years ago at the Louisburg College Alumnae Banquet by the late Mrs. Annie Fuller Malone, one of Louisburg's best beloved and respected citizens and one of the early graduates of the college.

Interesting indeed were the talks given by Mr. Malone and Mrs. Allen, recalling days of the past when kerosene lamps and oddly worded rules and practices reigned supreme.

None could better tell of Louisburg College of Today than Dr. Earnhardt, who as its leader and guide has shared its joys and sorrows, its fortunes and misfortunes during the past several years of its existence. To Dr. Earnhardt fell the difficult task of carrying on what Dr. Wilcox so courageously had fought for, then continued existence, growth, and success of this, probably the oldest Junior College in the nation. The Alumni feel deeply grateful for the great success of the college under his leadership.

In his toast, Eby Roberts spoke the heartfelt regret of those in his class at having to part from this their Alma Mater.

Dr. Walter Patten, whom we now welcome as he comes to assume the presidency of Louisburg College, spoke briefly of plans for the future growth of the institution. Dr. Patten, as field representative for the college, has already rendered it an invaluable service and now as its leader we are sure will continue to put forth every effort to assure its continued growth.

Nancy Carlisle Griffin and Jane Moon appeared on the program as future students of the college. The songs that were rendered were representative of the three periods—yesterday—today—tomorrow.

The officers elected for 1939-40 were Mrs. Harold Crowder, Henderson, President; Mrs. E. F. Griffin, Vice-President; and Dr. Sadie C. Johnson, Secretary and Treasurer.

A delicious three-course dinner was served.

The tables were decorated with lovely flower arrangements of colorful spring flowers, the only light being that furnished by tall, tapering candles.

At the close of the program "Alma Mater" was sung by the group.

Music was furnished by the Louisburg College Orchestra, under the direction of Prof. J. E. Byerly, Director.

Graduate Recital

Just after the Alumni Banquet on Saturday night, May 20th, the Louisburg College Music Department presented Edith Dixon, pianist, pupil of Miss Mary Finch, in a graduate recital, assisted by Miss Eunice Collins, soprano. Miss Dixon rendered her selections especially well with a finesse of touch. Miss Collins' voice was soft in its interpretation of several interesting vocal selections. She was accompanied at the piano by Mr. James Byerly.

Selections played by Miss Dixon were: The "Cat-Fugue" by Carlati; Nocturne, E-flat Major, and Valse C-sharp, minor by Chopin; and Concerto, C Major by Beethoven. Miss Dixon was assisted in rendering this last piece by Miss Finch at a second piano. The selection sung by Miss Collins were: Bois Epeis (Sombre Woods); None But the Lonely Heart, Dream Cottage, and My Lover is a Fisherman.

Dramatic Recital

The Department of Speech and Dramatic Art under the direction of Miss Virginia Peyatt presented the following students in their Commencement Recital on Monday, May 22, at 8:15 P. M. in the college auditorium: Vee Vee Allen, Margaret Barcliff, Margaret Trigg, Wilmington, N. C.; Ada Lillian Blanchard, Woodland; Vivian Cayton, Kinston; Margaret Cox, Cary; Mildred Livermon, Columbia; and Lottie Faye West, Dover.

The selections presented on this interesting and entertaining program were: Main Street, recited by Miss Blanchard; Sounds, by Miss West; Patterns, by Miss Allen; Apple Blossoms, by Miss Barcliff; The Easter Hope, by Miss Trigg, with musical accompaniment by Miss Louise Harris, of Kittrell; Phooey, by Miss Cayton; and Scene from Senior Recital, by Miss Cox.

The marshals for this occasion were: Jeanette Amick, Mebane; Frances Brown, Gatesville; Louise Carter, Woodland; Huldah Gentry, Roxboro; and Ethel Holton, New Bern.

Class Day

Class Day exercises were held on Monday afternoon, May 22, at 5 o'clock in the auditorium located on the main floor of the administration building.

Just after the processional, "Welcome" was extended the visitors by Colton Calvin Allen, salutatorian of the graduating class. The history of the class was read by Claude Chaffin. Evelyn Earnhardt gave a poem which described in rhyme something of the feeling that this class bears to its "Alma Mater" in whose honor the class then sang the college song bearing that title.

Katherine Davis, as statistician, read the names of three of the girls in the class who had been voted on as most attractive girls in school, most original, and most popular. These were Mildred Murray, Evelyn Earnhardt, and Odum Huggins, respectively. These appeared on the stage as their names were read.

Lottie Faye West's prophecy of what each senior would be doing in future years brought forth many laughs and was of especial interest to the graduates themselves.

The Last Will and Testament of the class presented by Edna Montgomery, bestowed upon lower classmen the innumerable valuable characteristics and possessions of these departing seniors.

Miss Montgomery, having the honor of being Valectorian of her class, also bid farewell in behalf of the entire class to the college friends and others.

The seniors, dressed in caps and gowns, left the auditorium as the College orchestra played.

Music Recital

On Friday night, May 19, the pupils enrolled in the Music Department of Louisburg College were presented in recital.

An enjoyable program of varied and delightful pieces was rendered under the direction of Prof. I. D. Moon and Miss Mary Finch.

ORDER LIMESTONE

Four cars of ground limestone have been ordered, as a grant-of-aid under the Agricultural Conservation program, by six Edgecombe County farmers.

LOW MORTALITY

By following approved practices, R. R. Brown, of Todd, has raised 980 chicks out of an original purchase of 1040 to a weight of 1 1/2 pounds each.

principally by coast guardsmen attached to an island station and the crew of a lighthouse at the group's southwesterly end. There are a few fishermen's shacks along the shore of the islands and a handful of Summer cottages.

The several narrow, shallow channels between the islands are used frequently by fishermen seeking shelter from easterly storms.

Other Sub Accidents

The mishap to the Squalus was latest of several affecting submarines off the New England coast.

In 1925, the Submarine S-51 plunged to the ocean bottom off Block Island, off the Rhode Island coast after collision with the coastwise steamer City of Rome, with the loss of 33 of its crew of 36.

Two years later, the submarine S-4 sank off Provincetown, Mass., after collision with the Coast Guard Destroyer Paulding. Its entire crew of 40 was lost.
