

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Miss Irma Griffin, of Louisburg, has returned from a visit to Wood. Cotton was worth 10 cents a pound in Louisburg yesterday. Heavy rains visited this section Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of this week. Fox is putting a new coat of paint on the front of his store. Work is progressing nicely on the New Theatre, the New Armory, Harvey's Garage and W. N. Fuller, Jr.'s residence. Next Monday is not the first Monday. The first Monday in August will be the 7th. The new parking plan is very convenient to the traveling public. Reports indicate work is progressing nicely on the construction of the New Prison Camp near Bunn. Lets everybody in Louisburg either park our cars at home or on a back street, and thereby help solve the parking problem.

LOUISBURG BAPTIST CHURCH

Last Sunday morning Rev. C. E. Ruffin spoke to the people at the Baptist Church on the subject: "The Marks of the Christian," his theme centered around the 17th verse of the sixth chapter of Galatians. Rev. J. G. Phillips at the evening union service which was held at the Baptist Church, using as his subject: "Gamaliel Stood Up," in which he sent a challenge to every Christian to stand up and show his colors. Dr. Bagby will occupy his own pulpit next Sunday at 11:00 o'clock, and will preach at the evening service at 8:00. This union service will be held at the Methodist Church. Dr. Bagby sends interesting reports from the "World Alliance" which he is attending this week in Atlanta. Sunday School will be held at the usual time, 9:45.

LOUISBURG METHODIST CHURCH

There will be morning and evening worship services at the Methodist Church, Rev. J. G. Phillips will have charge at 11:00 o'clock. The evening service is at 8:00 and Dr. A. Paul Bagby will preach. This is the last of the union evening services for this summer. Sunday School is at 9:45. There will be no Epworth League service.

HOME-COMING DAY

Rev. John Edwards, pastor, announces "Home-Coming Day" will be observed at Maple Springs Church, Sunday, July 30, with services beginning at 10:00 o'clock. Lunch will be served on the grounds in picnic style. Rev. E. H. Davis will be the speaker for the morning service and he will talk on "Maple Springs of the Past." Time will be given to all former pastors who are present. Rev. L. B. Reavis will be speaker for the afternoon services. All members of the church and friends are invited to attend and enjoy a day of friendly worship.

TOBACCO NEWS LETTER

Henderson, July 25.—Reports received from reliable sources in Georgia and Florida sum up the situation in brief. Offerings are of medium quality, considerably off from last year. Price average about 14 cents. Prices on common grades are three to five dollars cheaper than last year and tobacco selling for over eighteen dollars is seven to ten dollars cheaper than last year. Growers, although displeased with prices are more or less resigned to lower prices due to increased production and inferior quality. Prices in Border and South Carolina should increase slightly with better grades being offered, leading up to higher prices being paid in the Middle Belt. Considerable rain of the past week has not, as yet, affected the local crop to any degree and first and second primings are showing up fine quality, good orange color, good weight leaves. Eighty per cent of tobacco in the immediate Henderson territory has been primed at least once. Your next report will be sent out next Friday, August 4th, and will contain accurate items of interest from the South Carolina and Border Belt markets obtained directly from the floors of these markets.—Fred M. Allen, Jr., Supervisor of Sales Henderson Tobacco Market. The demure young bride, a trifle pale, her lips set in a tremulous smile, slowly stepped down the long church aisle clinging to the arm of her father. As she reached the low platform before the altar, her slippered foot brushed a potted flower, upsetting it. She looked at the spilled dirt gravely, and then raised her child-like eyes to the sedate face of the old minister. "That's a hell of a place to put a lily," she said.

Why be a Ham in Carving One? Expert Shows Easy, Modern Way

If they snicker when you start to carve, you'll be comforted by these kind words from Max O. Cullen, carving authority. "It's easy to learn the right way, and the right way is the easy way," says Cullen, who is shown at the right explaining to Pete Smith, producer of motion picture shorts bearing his name, and Ann Morris, M-G-M. player, the fundamentals of carving a ham, during the recent filming of "Culinary Carving," an educational short in which Cullen was featured. Proper tools and a sharp knife are of first importance, says the expert. Then you can proceed with confidence, if you will follow his simple directions as shown by the diagrams and instructions below. 1. Place ham with fat side up, shank end to carver's right. Cut two or three slices parallel to the length of the ham from the smaller meaty section. 2. Turn the ham so that it rests on the cut surface. Holding firmly with the fork, cut a small wedge shaped piece from the shank end. Then proceed to cut thin slices down to the leg bone until the sitch bone is reached. 3. With the fork still in place, release the slices by running the knife along the bone and at right angles to the slices. For additional servings, turn and carve other side of ham. 4. If more servings are required, the ham is turned back in its original position on the platter with the fat side up and the slices are carved at right angles to the bone. These slices are not so large as those from the cushion section, but they make attractive servings for second helpings.
