

Peace Plan Afoot

Danzig Question May Be Agreeably Settled; Plans For Discussion Accepted

Rome.—Italians outside the Government said today that Germany and Italy are agreeable to holding a conference with France and Great Britain for settlement of the German claim to Danzig.

The plan was reported to embrace three points, with settlement of Europe's other economic and colonial expansion problems as the ultimate aim, including the Italian claims on France.

The plan on the basis of these reports would provide for:

1. A 30-day truce in which each power would promise to make no move while the conference was arranged among the foreign ministers of France, Britain, Italy and Germany.

2. Britain, as guarantor of Poland's security, would transmit the recommendations of the conference to Warsaw with an inquiry as to whether Poland accepted the solution.

3. On Poland's acceptance of the solution, the truce would be prolonged for consideration of Europe's other pending problems.

Confirmation was lacking in official circles.

Spokesmen said nothing was known yet of the outcome of the Salzburg meeting of the Italian and German Foreign Ministers, Count Galeazzo Ciano and Joachim von Ribbentrop, and their talks with Adolf Hitler.

Say Plan Accepted As Basis For Discussion

Berlin.—A Nazi source with unusually high officialdom said today that Prof. Carl J. Burckhardt, League of Nations Commissioner for Danzig, has a plan for peaceful settlement of the dispute between Germany and Poland over the Free City.

The plan, according to this source, calls for the reunion of Danzig with the Reich and for "a direct and guaranteed connection between East Prussia (including Danzig) and Germany proper."

Reichsfuehrer Hitler, Polish Foreign Minister Joseph Beck and Danzig Nazi Leader Albert Forster were said to be acquainted with the plan and to have accepted it as a possible basis for discussion.

This Nazi source said that Commissioner Burckhardt was making a secret trip to London to present the plan to Lord Halifax, the British Foreign Minister.

It was only today for the first time that authoritative quarters acknowledged Professor Burckhardt was in Berchtesgaden last week to see Hitler.

This disclosure came as officials were weighing the results of the week-end conferences among Hitler and the German and Italian Foreign Ministers in which Germany and Italy were said to have set a joint course of action.

A declaration today on the Danzig issue said that unless it was settled speedily "the European powder barrel may explode."

DIES FOLLOWING FALL INTO WATER

James M. Davis, 18-year-old colored boy, died Saturday night of last week, following a fall into a creek where he almost drowned before he was discovered and rescued. He was working on the farm of Messrs. N. M. and H. H. Perry about three miles from town and was going from the tobacco barns to the lot which course took him across a branch. He was subject, it is said, to epileptic attacks, and was taken with an attack while crossing the walkway over the creek and fell in, the water being only a few inches deep. When found a little later he had almost succumbed. First aid was given him and he was taken to his home nearby where he died during the night.

Wants Dispute With Mexico Settled

Washington.—Sumner Welles, acting Secretary of State, formally demanded today a settlement of the Mexican oil controversy lest it result in "a material barrier" between Mexico and the United States.

Welles, after conferences with Mexican Ambassador Castillo Noleja and Donald R. Richbery, attorney for the American oil companies, disclosed at his press conference that the State Department was the author of recent compromise proposals for a board of directors to operate expropriated American oil properties in Mexico. He said the department was disappointed that these had been turned down by both sides without adequate discussion.

Najero had said earlier he believed a way to settlement was "still open."

Mud Bank Halts Towing of Sub

Flooded Hatches Not To Be Opened Until Squalus Is Hauled Ashore

Portsmouth, N. H.—The submarine Squalus with its cargo of 26 dead was held fast tonight by an uncharted mud dump it struck while being towed shoreward after the U. S. Navy had raised the vessel 80 feet from a 240-foot depth in an epic engineering feat.

"Squalus cannot be moved appreciably from position of first grounding," Rear Admiral Cyrus W. Cole, in charge of the operations, radioed from the salvage ship Falcon.

He added, however, that pontoons attached to the submarine would be reset for the second of three scheduled liftings.

Short of Destination

Naval officers ashore said the mud pinnacle had halted the shoreward journey from 300 to 500 yards short of the first haul's destination. They expressed informal opinions that the unexpected grounding would simply change the scene of the second lift without materially interfering with the task of returning the Squalus to the Portsmouth navy yard.

Ten pontoons were used in moving the Squalus from the place at which it sank during diving tests 82 days ago.

Hatches of the vessel will not be opened until it is returned to the navy yard.

Navy officers kept watch on a freshening sea in apprehension lest the weather delay another lifting and towing operation—probably early this week—that would carry the Squalus into the

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!
Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer sagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out. Frequent, scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed by the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.
