

B. T. U. SOCIAL

The Senior B. T. Union of Corinth Baptist Church held its quarterly social Saturday evening, October 14, at 7:30 o'clock, at the home of Miss Daphne Jeans.

The members present were: Misses Caroline, Alice Mae, Irene and Mary Emma Lancaster, Hattie Boyd Faulkner, Dorothy Edwards, Daphne Jeans, Fannie Mae and Claude Roberson.

Everyone left declaring they had had a very nice time.

The shortage of hay in some states is causing dairy farmers, their leaders, and college specialists to urge the disposal of low-producing cows and cows in poor health or suffering from disease.

American housewives have been assured by the U. S. Department of Agriculture that the supply of dry beans—one of the nation's chief staples—is "more than ample" to meet all demands.

What happened to the old-fashioned couple who thought that the only thing to do on Sunday afternoon was take a walk?

Sulphur applied to peanuts in tests conducted with five Edgecombe County farmers seems to give good results in controlling leaf spot, says Farm Agent J. C. Powell.

Johnston County farmers are realizing that good pastures are essential in a successful livestock program, says M. A. Morgan, farm agent of the State College Extension Service.

There may be no new sins in this modern world, but lots of folks are having a blamed good time with the old ones.
