WAR IN EUROPE

London, Nov. 8.—Winston Churchill thundered "we shall break their hearts" in a confident recital tonight of Britain's gains at sea against a background of new peace overtures received without optimism. The First Lord of the Admiralty reported loss by accidental explosion of the British submarine Oxley but said the Navy had whipped the German submarine and pocket battleship Menace. Publication of the loss during the first week of the war of the Oxley, which normally carried 54 officers and men, was forbidden at that time. Churchill said "every loss inflicted by the enemy has at once been announced" but explained that the Oxley explosion was "in circumstances which made its publication inadvisable at the time." He did not disclose where or exactly when the Oxley was sunk or if any loss of life was suffered. He told Commons, in his weekly report on "sea warfare," that German submarines have been sunk at the rate of between two and four a week, "a fairly sound, conservative estimate." Two Per Week However, he added, Germany was capable of turning out two new ones a week—and he expected Britain "must face 100 U-boats in January, less whatever sinkings have occurred." He announced also that the number of lives lost by Britain's Navy alone was greater so far than all French and British services combined. Berlin, Nov. 8.—Germany tonight took the position that the efforts of King Leopold and Queen Wilhelmina to halt the European war had been killed by British action "almost before the ink was dry" on their offer of mediation. While Adolf Hitler and his trusted leaders were in Munich celebrating the anniversary of the abortive 1923 "beer cellar" Putsch officials and the press were busy throwing on Britain the onus of rejecting the offer. Officials said British opinion "solidly supports" last night's speech of Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax and today's speech by Labor Leader Clement R. Attlee. (Advance copies of Halifax's speech in which he said the Allies were fighting for "a new world in which the nations will not permit insane armed rivalry to deny their hopes of a fuller life," were distributed to the press in London hours before the monarchs' peace offer was announced in the Hague. (Attlee listed six "principles for peace.") German officials said both speeches meant the "cynical rejection of the sovereigns' offer and thus 'prolongation of the war.'"

EPSOM P. T. A.

The Epsom P. T. A. held its regular monthly meeting Thursday night, Oct. 26. The topic for the program was "The Correlation of the Home and the School." The program was opened with the song "Home Sweet Home," after which Mrs. S. F. Journagan gave an inspirational talk on "How the School can Help the Home." Doris Weldon read "Home" by Edgar A. Guest which was followed by several musical selections by Mrs. J. G. Phillips. Miss Myra Wagg gave a very helpful talk on "How the Home can Help the School." The program was closed with a humorous reading by Dorothy Edwards, "Friday Afternoon in a County School." A short business session was held followed by a delightful social hour of games and refreshments. The next meeting will be held Thursday night, Nov. 16, at 7:30 in the school auditorium. All parents are urged to attend.

Have you heard about the little Louisburg girl who was asked her age by the street car conductor? She replied by saying: "I'd rather pay full fare, and keep my age to myself."

Wife—I almost cry when I think I might have married Mr. Richleigh. Hubby—And I almost cry, too, when I think about it.

SENIOR CLASS VISITS WASHINGTON

The Senior class of Youngsville High School visited Washington, D. C., Nov. 2 to 4 on a sightseeing trip. The seniors saw many interesting and educational things. Among some of the places visited were Mount Vernon, U. S. Capitol, the home of General Lee, Arlington Cemetery and a large number of other places of interest. The trip was enjoyed greatly by each member.

OYSTER SUPPER AT YOUNGVILLE

The Youngsville Parent-Teacher Association is sponsoring an oyster supper on Wednesday night, November 15th, at the Community House, for the purpose of raising funds with which to buy a sound system for the school auditorium. The public is cordially invited and urged to attend. There will be oysters, fried and stewed, with all the fixin's. Yields of 250 to 400 bushels to the acre are being reported by many sweet potato growers of Martin County, as harvesting operations are started on this year's crop.

Burley growers of North Carolina and the Nation will vote in a referendum on November 21 to decide if they want quotas placed on their next year's production.

Hubby—I had my life insured today for two thousand dollars in your favor. Wife—Well, I'll be glad to get the money, but I think you over-estimated your value.

Wife—Dear, I've got something I want to talk to you about. Husband—Good! Usually you want to talk to me about something you haven't got.
