

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Monday is April 1st. Monday is April Fool's Day. Look out. The County Commissioners meet Monday. Attend the meeting of the Board of Elections on Monday. Cotton was worth 10 3/4 cents a pound in Louisburg yesterday. The old Shaw residence has been torn down and clearing is being made for the erection of a modern Shell filling and service station. Something should be done to stop loafing and congregating on the sidewalk at the entrance to the rest rooms under the Court House. At this point the walks are very narrow and when people are sitting on or leaning against the railing it is almost impossible to pass. Work was begun Tuesday on clearing up the debris at the Shor's Department Store and Louisburg Production Credit Association's stands preparatory to rebuilding. Miss Columbia Crudup, of New York, was in town getting this work started and says she will have two nice stores when finished.

RICHARDSON - DOWNEY

Easter Service Unites Miriam Frances Downey and Ed Richardson, Jr. Miss Miriam Frances Downey became the bride of Ed Rickmon Richardson, Jr., in an Easter ceremony Monday afternoon at five o'clock in the Louisburg Methodist Church. Rev. J. G. Phillips, Pastor of the church, officiated, using the ring ceremony. The church was decorated with pines, white snapdragons and fern. The choir-loft was banked with pines and the candelabra was entwined with Plumosus fern. Burning Cathedral candles in tall candelabra were placed around the greenery. A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. O. Y. Yarborough, organist, and Miss Maxine Bailey, soloist, who sang "I Love You Truly." The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and the recessional. Maid of honor was Miss Sudie Toone, of Petersburg, Va., who wore a costume of dusty rose with dubonet accessories. Miss Toone wore a shoulder corsage of tallisman roses. Best man was Mr. Charlie Richardson, brother of the bridegroom, and ushers were Carneal Downey, brother of the bride, and Bruce Sykes, of Spring Hope, brother-in-law of the bridegroom. The bride was given in marriage by her father, S. Z. Downey. She wore a suit of blue wool-crepe with Red Fox collar with blue and beige accessories. She wore a shoulder corsage of charm roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Downey, mother of the bride, wore a navy-blue and white costume with a corsage of tallisman roses and Parma violets. Mrs. Richardson, mother of the bridegroom, wore a costume of teal blue with navy accessories, and her shoulder corsage was of pink roses and sweet peas. Mrs. Richardson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Z. Downey, of Louisburg. She received her education at Mills High School of Louisburg, and Louisburg College. Mr. Richardson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Richardson, of Louisburg, and received his education at Louisburg College and N. C. State College. He is now employed at the Seaboard Store Co., of Louisburg. Following the ceremony the couple left for unannounced points. They will be at home at 209 N. Main Street, Louisburg, N. C.

EASIEST TIME TO CURE DRAFTS IS WHEN YOU BUILD!

WATCH THESE THREE PLACES IF YOU WOULD STOP THEM There is just no excuse for drafts in your new home, because drafts are definitely curable if you will watch just three places—and all three places are around your windows. First and foremost offender in the making of drafts in your new home is the window frame. Now you've never bought window frames so you don't know anything about them and that is one reason why so many home builders have drafty windows, because they were careless about the window frame that went into their homes. Now, we aren't going to go into detail about window frames. We just want you to remember that the most important thing about a window frame is how it joins the wall. If it makes a permanent leakproof weather-tight joint with the wall—fine and dandy. If it doesn't, you'll have drafts, no end of drafts. How can you make sure about a weathertight joint? Just specify that the window frames used in your new home have wide blind stop construction. This special construction should be familiar to your contractor. Proper Fitting Necessary Next in importance to window frame is the window sash (the part of the window that moves within the frame). Many home builders buy window frames in one place and sash in another with the result that the sash and frame never fit properly in spite of trimming and cutting on the job. And sash that don't fit properly cause drafts, and more drafts. The modern trend is towards what is known as complete window units that are delivered with frame and sash precision fitted to each other at the factory. Many of these window units are even complete with weatherstrip. In any event be sure that the window sash are fitted properly to the window frame and you'll eliminate another big source of drafts. Glass Cools Air Now here is the third cause of drafts—it's warm air being quickly cooled against a single pane of glass. The cold air then drops to the floor. This flow of air causes drafts. What's the cure? A double pane of glass. Some windows are made so that this double pane of glass fits on the inside of the window, while the most common is the ordinary storm windows which are hung on the outside. Whether your double glass is inside or outside, the result is the same. The glass that is within the heated room is kept warmer by the dead air space between the double panes. Result: Warm air is not cooled so fast; no cool air—no drafts.
