Griffin Gets Major- ity Over Cooley

IN FRANKLIN COUNTY PRIMARY SATURDAY

Kearney Defeats Johnson For House and Hobgood Wins Judgeship Over Bulluck; Wood Leads For Register of Deeds With Mrs. Holden Second and The Old Board of Commissioners Re-nominated

Possibly the quietest primary ever held in Franklin County was experienced on Saturday when a rain the day before and slight showers that morning brought a much bigger vote than was expected.

The results ran pretty true to predictions, the big interest being evidenced in the Griffin-Cooley contest for Congress, the Register of Deeds contest and one or two of the Commissioners races.

The result was that Broughton led the field of seven for Governor with Gravelly coming in for second place. Griffin led Cooley with a splendid majority, while Kearney took a safe lead over Johnson for the House. Hobgood got a flattering majority over his opponent E. C. Bulluck, for Judge of Recorder's Court.

In the eight sided race for Register of Deeds, Wood came out ahead of his next opponent, Mrs. Sidney C. Holden with a lead of 233, and Allen came third with 381. Others followed on down the line.

Although there was a contest in four of the five Commissioner districts, with one of them a three sided affair, the old Board was renominated with substantial majorities.

The members of the Board of Education were placed on the primary ballot to complete a recommendation to the Legislature for appointment. There had no opposition and their recommendation was complete.

There were four Constable contests and like one of the Commissioners contests one was a three sided race. In Dunns township Brantley won over Carter, in Harris, Z. C. Wheeler won over Glenn and in Franklinton Odum out ran both of his opponents, while in Louisburg Frazier won over Phelps.

There was no disorder reported from any of the precincts and the best of sportsmanship prevailed all along down the line.

The complete vote for the County can be found in another column.

The following letter of appreciation has been mailed to the Chairman of the Board of Elections:

Mr. Phil R. Inscope, Chairman Board of Elections, Franklin Co., Louisburg, N. C.

My dear Mr. Inscope: Allow me to express to you and through you, to the voters of Franklin County, my gratification that the Primary of May 25th was conducted without any untoward incident or dissatisfaction of any kind.

As long as I have been connected with the Democratic organization in Franklin County it has been my purpose and desire that our Election and Primary machinery should work without prejudice to any candidate and I congratulate you and your associates upon your fine unselfish service.

Sincerely,
E. H. MALONE, Chairman Franklin County Democratic Executive Committee.

RENEW YOUR SUBSCRIPTION!

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS

Owing to war conditions having completely stopped our newsprint supply from Finland and is apt to stop our supply from Canada at any time, these two sources representing a large percentage of the newspaper used in the United States, it becomes necessary that we reduce our consumption of newspaper.

Therefore we will have to stop the FRANKLIN TIMES to those subscribers who have not paid up. We will not do this all at once but will begin with those farthest in arrears. If you haven't paid up, do so at once. Look at your label and if it occurs to you there is anything wrong with it call on us at once and help us get it right. We have been glad to assist you in this time of tight money in carrying you over, but we have gotten to a point now when we will have to stop and maybe increase subscription price to those who are continued. Look after this at once. If you fail to get your paper you will know why.—Editor.

LOCAL STORE WITH PREMIUM DEPT. DO- ING BIG BUSINESS

H. C. Taylor, Hardware, the local premium agent for the Colgate Palmolive Co. report they are doing a tremendous business in redeeming coupons from Octagon Soap Products. Their premium department, they say, has many visitors daily, some of whom come for miles to turn in their coupons and carry home beautiful and useful articles which are given in exchange for the coupons. Many of the visitors say they have been saving Octagon Coupons for years and that they have received many household articles of real value which have cost them nothing except the small effort of saving the coupons and presenting them at the premium station for redemption.

The premiums on display at H. C. Taylor, Hardware, are many and varied and prove quite an attraction, especially to the ladies who seem to be thrilled at the sight of so many ornamental and useful gifts which can be secured by merely saving coupons from any soap or soap product bearing the name Octagon.

Each day she made many recipes and presented them to those present along with other prizes given by food packers and manufacturers and local merchants.

At the end of the series a Philco radio was given as the grand prize by Mr. R. C. Beck, and an electric percolator was given as a second prize by Raynor's Radio Shop. There were ten bags of groceries, the several dishes prepared that day, and many prizes contributed by the merchants given each day.

Among the sponsors were Levy Brothers Co., makers of Spry, a shortening for cooking, Mr. R. C. Beck, The Town of Louisburg, The New Louisburg Theatre and The FRANKLIN TIMES, with the cooperation of H. C. Taylor, furniture and hardware, White Furniture Co., G. W. ## DR. RUSSELL DELIVERS GRADUATING ADDRESS

Hon. Josephus Daniels to Speak

At Franklin County Memorial Association Services Sunday at 2:30 O'clock In Court House

HON. JOSEPHUS DANIELS

The Franklin County Memorial Association is happy to announce to the people of Franklin County that it has been fortunate in getting Hon. Josephus Daniels, American Ambassador to Mexico, and Editor of the Raleigh News-Observer, to deliver the Memorial Address at the annual Memorial Exercises on Sunday afternoon, June 2nd, at 2:30 o'clock in the Court House in Louisburg.

A most interesting program has been arranged, varying from former ones sufficient to create more interest and preparations for the accommodation for a large crowd are underway.

It is hoped every person in this vicinity will be present and bring with you, if you can, a bouquet of pretty flowers to be used in decorating the graves.

Now that Europe is so badly torn with the "second World War" and the possibility of our having to make other great sacrifices so evident it is entirely proper that we should come and pay homage to those who "paid the price" in the great world conflict of 1917-18. Impressing the importance of those in charge doing their bit to the end of a great occasion, Mrs. Hugh W. Perry, Chairman of the Arrangements Committee has dispatched letters as follows to the Chairman of the various committees:

"We have been lucky enough to get Hon. Josephus Daniels, U. S. Ambassador to Mexico, to make our Memorial Address Sunday and I do hope we will be able to greet him with a good big crowd. We have had some hand-bills made and if you are in town before Saturday, won't you come by the office and get some to distribute in your community?"

"If you think any changes or additions are necessary in your committee, won't you please go ahead and make them because you know better than we do "who will work with who" and it will be so much help if you will take this responsibility. Also won't you try to get in touch with as many of your committee as possible and tell them what you expect of them. Another thing, will you suggest to those who assemble the flowers that they make small green wreaths for each grave. They are very effective and last so long and look so pretty with the flowers and flags—they aren't very hard to make if you can't get the hang of it, but if you can't get it done this year, please bear it in mind for next year.

"Hoping to see you and a big crowd from your community Sunday."

Representing the Faculty of Louisburg College, greetings and pledge of loyalty and service were expressed by Professor Thomas C. Amick, Department of Mathematics.

Following Rev. W. A. Cade's charge, Dr. Walter Patten gave inaugural address, stressing that he is still a "freshman" in his work. He recalled that Louisburg College, an historic educational institution, has witnessed the birth of all the colleges in the State save Salem College alone. It has an heritage of devotion, service and care for its daughters

Special words of greetings were brought to President Walter Patten and Louisburg College from the different branches of higher collegiate education by representatives or heads of these colleges.

From the Greater University of North Carolina, Dean Corydon Perry Spruill, Jr., Chapel Hill, brought expressions of best wishes and greetings, remarking that Chapel Hill felt quite close to Dr. Patten and therefore Louisburg College since he had sojourned in their midst for some ten years, serving two pastorates there and having sent two sons and a daughter to attain higher education at the University. Also, he felt that the University and Louisburg College are cohorts in their rich and traditional histories.

Dean Herbert James Herring, Duke University, acting in the absence of President W. F. Few of Duke University, expressed greetings from the Denominational Colleges of the State.

Representing the Teachers' Colleges of the State, East Carolina Teachers' College, Appalachian Teachers' College at Boone, Cullowhee Teachers' College, and Asheville Teachers' College, Leon R. Meadows, President of the East Carolina Teachers' College at Greenville, extended hearty greetings and "God-speed" in the work ahead.

President Leslie Hartwell Campbell, Campbell College, in behalf of the Junior Colleges of the State, honoring the honorable history and endeared landmarks at Louisburg College, voiced sincere best wishes and greetings to Dr. Patten and pledged true cooperation in all endeavors in the future.
