

Library Service Projects

In the operation of Library Service Projects, the governing objective shall be that of stimulating local reception of a more complete and permanent library service as a regular public function.

Books, other than textbooks, may be maintained in serviceable condition by repair operations not involving the removal of the covers.

At the present time Franklin County has eleven school library units and two public reading rooms operating in various parts of the county.

Franklin County was very fortunate in having the use of a WPA owned bookmobile for three months during the past year.

The following letter is very appreciative:

Louisburg, N. C., May 22, 1940.

During the past two school years or more the WPA organization has rendered very valuable service to the schools through library, cafeteria and matron workers.

In addition to the services rendered above, the WPA and NYA have helped us construct four buildings in the past eighteen months, and we are getting ready to begin another within a few days.

Also, the NYA has furnished valuable help in the office of the Board of Education and in the offices of the principals of the several schools.

The Sewing room project has furnished work for a number of workers and they have made a great many garments for underprivileged children.

I heartily commend these projects to the consideration of the public, and hope that during this week as many of our people as can will visit one or more of these projects.

W. R. MILLS, Supt., Franklin County Schools.

Two other letters, one from Bunn and one from Louisburg Schools, were received, but not published because of the similarity to the one above.

MRS. STURGESS ENTERTAINS

Mrs. Conrad Sturges elaborately entertained her Friday afternoon contract club at the home of her mother, Mrs. F. H. Allen.

The number of farms served by electric light and power companies in the United States increased 98 per cent during the 1932-38 period, or from 710,000 to more than 1,400,000 farms.

Mother: "Jimmy, I wish you'd learn better table manners. You're a regular little pig at the table."

After a deep silence on Jimmy's part, his father, wishing to further impress him, said: "Do you know what a pig is, Jimmy?"

"Yes, sir," Jimmy replied, "it's a hog's little boy."

It is far more profitable to criticize ourselves than others.

MISS HARRIS FETED

Beautiful in every detail was the compliment paid Miss Edith Harris, bride-elect of July, when on last Thursday evening Misses Athlea and Hazel Boone entertained at eight tables of content.

Mrs. F. W. Wheelless, Jr., was successful in retaining the traveling prize, Old Spice bath crystals. Miss Harris was recipient of a set of Sterling salt and peppers and Sterling salt spoons.

The hostesses, assisted by Mrs. J. R. Earle and Mrs. L. E. Scoggin, Jr., served ice cream, two kinds of home-made cake and assorted nuts to the following: Miss Harris, the honoree, Miss Marie Ingram, Miss Peg Ford, Miss Jean Fleming, Miss Jane Fuller, Miss Mamie Davis Beam, Miss Rose Malone, Miss Ann Barnhill, Mrs. H. H. Hobgood, Mrs. W. C. Boyce, Mrs. W. E. Collier, Jr., Mrs. J. A. Tucker, Mrs. J. E. Fulghum, Mrs. William Wilson, Mrs. Herbert West, Mrs. J. R. Earle, Mrs. Louis A. Wheelless, Mrs. J. R. Allen, Mrs. F. W. Wheelless, Jr., Mrs. W. B. Tucker, Mrs. R. F. Yarborough II, Mrs. E. S. Ford, Jr., Mrs. W. H. Allen, Jr., Mrs. C. E. Ford, Mrs. Jerry Horton, Mrs. H. C. Taylor, Jr., Mrs. E. F. Thomas, Mrs. K. K. Allen, Mrs. E. F. Griffin, Mrs. L. E. Scoggin, Jr., Mrs. Douglas Perry and Miss Marguerite Harris, of North Wilkesboro and Louisburg.

Dr. S. H. Crocker of Statonsburg has 35 acres of crimson clover from which he plans to save seed with a combine he recently purchased, reports J. A. Marsh, assistant farm agent of Wilson County.

But It's True

Because she has gained 130 pounds since 1899, Miss Winston reports that she probably couldn't duplicate the feat today.

Leaf Producers Will Hear Hoey

Raleigh, June 19.—Governor Hoey will be the principal speaker at the annual Tobacco Test Farm field day at Oxford, July 2.

Approximately 8,000 farmers and their friends are expected for the event which will be held as a part of the Granville County Centennial Celebration.

Dr. T. B. Hutcheson, Chief of the Agronomy Department at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, Va., and J. B. Hutson, of Washington, D. C., Chief of the Southeastern division, marketing section of the AAA will also be among the speakers.

Frank W. Hancock, former member of Congress and now member of the Federal Housing Administration Board, will be chairman for the day. He will be introduced by Fred E. Miller, director of the test farms division of the State Department of Agriculture.

Governor Hoey will be presented by Commissioner Scott.

A 4-H Club pageant — "King and Queen of Health" — will be given by club members of Granville, Caswell, Durham, Franklin, Person and Wake counties.

Miss Virginia Wilson, Granville County Home Demonstration Agent, will be in charge of the women's program in the afternoon, with Miss Anamerle Arant, Northwestern District Agent of the State College Extension Service as guest speaker.

E. G. Moss, assistant director in charge of the Test Farm, will supervise the tours over the farm and visits to the experimental plots.

He will be assisted by Dr. T. E. Smith, U. S. D. A. plant pathologist; K. J. Shaw, McCullers Tobacco Disease Station; A. B. Dean, Test Farm foreman; E. Y. Floyd, State College Tobacco Specialist and Dr. Luther Shaw, State College pathologist.

1st SPECIAL DAY AT "THE LOST COLONY" HELD BY NYA, JULY 5th

Manteo, N. C.—The first Special Day during Paul Green's "The Lost Colony," which opens its fourth summer season here June 29th, will be held by the state-wide membership of the National Youth Administration as North Carolina Youth Day, Friday, July 5th, according to L. P. Davis, chairman of arrangement.

Approximately half of the 10,000 NYA boys and girls in the state will take advantage of this opportunity to visit the Nation's

GOV. CLYDE R. HOEY

Birthplace and to see Paul Green's historical drama of the first pioneers on this historic site, Mr. Davis said, in commenting on plans for the event.

An exhibition of NYA handicraft, produced in the various shops throughout the state, will be on display and prizes will be awarded to the most artistic objects.

Registration will take place Friday morning at the Community Center, and activities for the day include short addresses by Harold D. Cooley, Congressman from the fourth district, and John A. Lang, State Director NYA; a fish-fry at Fort Raleigh at 5 o'clock; a swimming party at Roanoke Sound; and probably a dance at the Nags Head Beach Club.

Others assisting Mr. Davis in making arrangements for the event include Helen Daniels, Dare County NYA supervisor; Melvin R. Daniels, president of the Southern Albemarle Association; and State Senator B. Bradford Fearling, president of the Roanoke Island Historical Association, which sponsors "The Lost Colony" as a non-commercial educational attraction.

Approximately 450 low-income farm families of Union County have made application for mattresses under the Federal-State cotton surplus removal program, say Assistant Farm Agent T. M. Mayfield.

Restful A man at the front received a nagging letter from his wife, and wrote in reply: "Please don't write me any more letters. Let me enjoy this war in peace."

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!
