SAVING MONEY With Cotton Bags

Very small children love their soft, cuddly animal toys. They can grasp them and hang onto them much easier than the sturdier and heavier toys. Laundered cotton flour, sugar, salt, feed or meal bags furnish an ideal material out of which you can make these toys at no cost. They can be stuffed with cotton batting or the cotton bag material can be cut into bits for the stuffing. The features of the animals should be embroidered in colored thread. These little animals can be kept clean and fresh as they will stand many tubbings. Extra-cotton bags can be obtained from your nearest baker or department store.

Other Cotton Bag Sewing ideas are illustrated in a free booklet. Send to National Cotton Council, Box 18, Memphis, or Textile Bags, 100 N. LaSalle St., Chicago.

Farm News
about the AAA and other EXTENSION WORK
From the County Agent

Mr. J. E. Thigpen, Chief, Marketing Quota Section of East Central Division, will speak at a Farmers Rally in the Court House at Henderson Saturday, July 13, at 2:00 o'clock. This farm rally is being sponsored by Mr. J. W. Sanders, County Agent in Vance County, and it is planned to serve the farmers of Vance County, Franklin County and other adjoining counties with up-to-date information on the tobacco quota provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act. Farmers with or without an Adjustment Program are facing a serious situation and I am sure it is essential that every farmer study the tobacco situation and the marketing quota provisions prior to voting in the Referendum Saturday, July 20. For this reason I wish to urge every tobacco farmer in Franklin County to attend this meeting and study the situation under the instruction of Mr. Thigpen who is thoroughly familiar with the issues involved and the tobacco situation.

Reports reaching us from many counties indicate that farmers are showing very little interest in the Referendum that has been called on tobacco quotas for Saturday, July 20. However, Franklin County farmers and businessmen are showing a great interest in the issues involved and attendance at meetings held last week was unusually good for the time of year. All farmers in Franklin County are being mailed from this office a copy of Mr. J. B. Hutson's letter giving an outline of the program to be followed in case quotas are in effect. This outline is very brief and every farmer is being urged to study carefully the changes in the program as made by recent amendments. The issue involved in tobacco referendum is one of the biggest issues that has ever faced tobacco farmers in Franklin County and it is hoped that every farmer will study the issues prior to July 20 and vote his conviction that an accurate expression of the farmers in Franklin County may be indicated by results of the ballot. Any farmer who will share in proceeds of 1940 tobacco crop will be eligible to vote if registered. Those not registered will be eligible to vote a challenged ballot. However, we hope every farmer will avail himself of the opportunity offered to register prior to July 16. Most farmers will be automatically registered from their compliance reports. Regular polling places for Franklin County will be used during the referendum.

Historical Markers

Raleigh, July 11.—A total of 294 historical markers, covering every section of the State and every period of its history, are listed in a new GUIDE TO NORTH CAROLINA HISTORICAL HIGHWAY MARKERS, published jointly by the Historical Commission and the Department of Conservation and Development.

This guide not only lists the markers and their locations but also gives their full inscriptions. The historical marker program was begun in North Carolina in 1935, and is conducted jointly by the Historical Commission, Department of Conservation and Development, and the Highway and Public Works Commission. An appropriation of $5,000 annually is available from the Highway Fund to meet the expense of casting and erecting the markers.

Under the law, all inscriptions for these markers are written by a group of the State's leading historians, as follows: F. M. Clonts and G. W. Paschal, Wake Forest College; F. W. Johnston, Davidson College; D. A. Lockmiller and L. W. Barnhardt, N. C. State College; R. H. Woody and J. C. Robert, Duke University; A. R. Newsome, H. T. Lefler, and Cecil Johnson, University of North Carolina; C. C. Crittenden, Secretary, State Historical Commission. This group meets every few weeks to pass upon inscriptions, a public service for which the volunteer group receives no compensation. The necessary research and travel are done by Miss Marybelle Delamar, of the staff of the Historical Commission.

Each marker has the State seal in a scroll at the top center, is double-faced, has black lettering on an aluminum-colored background, and is mounted on an iron pipe imbedded in a concrete base. Each is placed on a numbered, hard-surfaced highway. The inscriptions have been made brief in order to facilitate reading from passing automobiles.

The program has been highly praised by persons from other states, who have commented on the attractive appearance of the markers and on the accuracy and appropriateness of the inscriptions.

It is expected that the work will continue for several years and that several hundred additional tional markers will be erected before the program is completed. A copy of the guide can be secured by addressing one of the departments above.
