August is almost gone. The New Armory is "almost" completed. Next Wednesday is the last of the Wednesday half holidays. Mr. M. C. Murphy has completed remodeling his residence on Cedar Street. Franklin County sales of tobacco on the border markets have proved very satisfactory in most cases. Quite a lot of tobacco has passed through Louisburg the past week en route to the border markets. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hall have purchased the Mrs. P. W. Pinner lot on North Spring Street back of the Methodist parsonage, and will repair and remodel the residence and move therein. The Highway department resurfaced the road from Duke Memorial Church to Harris Store this week, according to reports. It is supposed to begin surfacing the road from Mapleville to Duke Memorial Church next Monday. Louisburg has accommodated the sports side, now lets see if we can institute. Investigate or originate some kind of a big day for the benefit of the merchants and at the same time give pecuniary benefits to the visitors. J. S. Howell informs the TIMES that he has leased his store room next to Beasley's Cafe to the Baker Shoe Co., of Henderson, who expects to open a full and complete stock of shoes therein about the first of September. The recent heavy rains did not cause Tar River to reach its high mark here, but did undermine the buttment of a bridge on Halifax road three miles out from Louisburg. Very little highway damage in Franklin County has been reported.

A tramp applied at the back door of a Franklin County farm house and asked for help. Tramp—Madam, would you help a poor man out of his troubles? Farmer's Wife—Certainly! Would you rather be shot or hit with an ax?

HOME DEMONSTRATION DEPARTMENT
Lillie Mae Braxton, Home Demonstration Agent
Franklin County Club Members Broadcast
Mrs. T. C. Gill, Mrs. Donald Mitchell and Mrs. B. L. Rowland, members of the Epsom Home Demonstration Club gave a radio broadcast over WRAL Thursday on the Carolina Farm Feature program. They gave an informal discussion on filling the canning budget for the family. The Cotton Mattress project is progressing nicely in Planters Warehouse with NYA girls helping the families that come in to make mattresses. As rural people come into Louisburg they are invited to visit the groups at work and see the quality of material and work that goes into these mattresses. If there are people in the county who are eligible for a mattress and do not have an application they are urged to get application in before Aug. 31st. The 4-H Club girls of Franklin County will have a dress contest at the Agriculture Building Saturday afternoon, Sept. 7th at 2:30 o'clock. There will be two contests; one for junior girls, that is under 15 years of age and one for girls who are over 15 years of age. The winner in each group receives a 4-H Club pin and the winner in the group above 15 also represents the county in the state Dress Revue in Raleigh in October. Each girl makes her dress and slip and selects accessories to go with the dress for the contest. The dress may be a wash dress, wool dress or suit, best dress or an informal party dress.

AT PEACH TREE BAPTIST CHURCH
