FRANKLINTON SCHOOL OPENS

The following letter has been sent out by Supt. G. B. Harris: "This is to notify you that the Franklinton School will open Monday, September 11 at 8:45. Chapel exercises will be held at 10 o'clock and school will close on the first day at 1 o'clock. A regular school day will be observed thereafter."

The State of North Carolina furnishes free the basal books in grades 1-7. This includes such books as Reading, Arithmetic, etc. In addition there are available on a rental basis Supplementary readers which are necessary in order that your child get full benefit of all that the state offers. The rental fees for these are: Grades 1-2 $1.00; Grades 3-4-5 $1.20; Grades 6-7 $1.50. In high school all books are rented, fee being $2.40 per pupil, this entitles the high pupil to all high school textbooks. These rental fees are established by state authorities, not local authorities. I would advise that in order that your child get the fullest benefit from the school program that these books be rented as soon as school opens.

We try to use every precaution for the safety and health of every child who attends the Franklinton school. However, we need your cooperation in this. I will appreciate it very much if you will advise me of any evidence of carelessness on the part of a bus driver, or of children who take undue chances crossing streets or highways.

"This will be an unusual year with war conditions just ahead of us. Such conditions make schools the more important in that they do their part in training for the future America. There is more at stake in this matter than most of us realize. Your cooperation is necessary in order that we may be prepared to meet emergencies."

"It is the desire of the faculty that parents cooperate with them as they work together with you for the benefit of your child. I would personally appreciate any constructive criticism or help that you may be able to give that would promote the efficiency and success of the school. Membership and attendance at P. T. A. meetings is a very fine medium for a fuller cooperation and understanding by the parents and teachers alike of school problems."

"Please feel free to discuss with me at any time any matter of school interest as it relates itself to your child and the school, or the school as a whole."

"Your cooperation in the past has been very fine and much appreciated. We are working and hoping for a better school year than ever before."

The following is a list of the Franklinton School faculty for the year 1940-41:

High School—Miss Frances Winston, Miss Frances Smith, Miss Mary Leigh Scates, Mr. W. R. Byrd, Mr. Fred Blount. Elementary—Miss Annie Wester, Miss Rosamond Van Dyke, Mr. John Jenkins, Mrs. Mable McGhee, Miss Bertha Putrelle, Miss Leslie Chandler, Miss Claire Kearney, Mrs. Dorothy Shearon, Miss Nelle Joyner, Miss Edna Davenport, Miss Annie T. Moore, Mrs. Thelma Green, Miss Helen Stoneham, Miss Katherine Fuller.

REGISTERS ONE

Assistant Postmaster J. A. Wheeler informed the TIMES reporter this week that up to Wednesday evening one alien had registered at the postoffice here under the new government registration law. He was George Shaheen, of Franklinton, a Syrian, from Mt. Lebanon, Syria, and that he came to the United States in 1912. As the postoffice has not received all the papers Shaheen was allowed to make application for registration which will protect him.

RECORD BOND SALE

County Attorney Chas. P. Green furnished the TIMES information showing that he made a record bond sale for Franklin County on Tuesday when bids were received on the $16,000 School bond issue and the $10,000 Refunding issue for the county. The school bonds were sold $14,000 for 2 1-4 per cent and $2,000 for 2 per cent at a premium of $32.00 and the Refunding issue was sold $7,000 for 2 1-4 per cent and $3,000 for 2 per cent at a premium of $20.00. This sale, we understand, represents a complete sale at 2 per cent which represents about the lowest on record. In fact Attorney Green stated Franklin County bonds sold for less than State bonds.

This is quite complimentary for the financial condition and system of the County and for the Commissioners, and other officers responsible for them.

Rains have helped the Wake County corn crop, but drought had already damaged the crop by at least 30 per cent, reports John C. Anderson, farm agent of the N. C. State College Extension Service.

Battery B Returns

The members of Battery "B" 113th F. A., which left Louisburg for a twenty-one days encampment in Louisiana, on August 5th arrived in Louisburg Sunday morning about 11:30 o'clock. Although the members had undergone regular army hardships and had fought the Mississippi mosquitoes manfully, they arrived in good trim and good spirits.

They report no trouble with men or machines of any consequence. Some of the men, because of a change in water diet and rest, developed slight stomach trouble which was soon relieved and some of the trucks began to lag behind with some grease, or other trouble, but all came in on time, and all were glad to get home and all at home were glad to welcome them back.

E. Fulghum, with a broken jaw and a broken arm and two automobiles sent to garages.

It seems both cars were going North on Main Street and Johnson says he looked at the controls on the Switchboard of his car to see if they were working properly, looking up in time to see this car immediately in front of him. Hull Again Raps Policy of Force

And Says No Nation Can Hope for Peace Without Self-Defense Preparation

Washington, Aug. 28.—Secretary of State Cordell Hull tonight on the 12th anniversary of the signing of the Kellogg-Briand pact to outlaw war, denounced aggression anew and warned that no nation can hope to remain at peace except by vigorous preparation for self-defense.

"It was to spare the human race the untold suffering and indescribable tragedy of the kind we are witnessing today that the Kellogg-Briand pact was signed," Hull said.

His statement was distributed by the State Department press section in a response to a request, made earlier during the secretary's daily press conference, for comment on the anniversary of the signing of the pact.

"Today no country and no individual is secure against the destructive effects of the existing armed conflicts," he said. "No human being anywhere can be sure that he or she will be allowed for long to live in peace."

"Only by vigorous and adequate preparation for self-defense can any country, including our own, hope to remain at peace." He recalled that the United States and 60 other nations "gave their unqualified adherence" to the pact. In Article 1 of that treaty, he said, "the high contracting parties renounced war as an instrument of national policy in their relations with one another."

Big Celebration Proposed For Dedication of Armory Building At Louisburg

The Franklin County Armory and Community building has been completed and Battery "B", 113th F. A., moved into its new quarters last Sunday, August 24th, upon its return from recent maneuvers in Mississippi.

The Jambes Post of the American Legion requested the Board of Town Commissioners to dedicate the new Armory and Community Building to the veterans of all wars in which America has engaged throughout our history. This request was granted and the building will be so dedicated.

The Franklin County Armory building is among the very finest in this or any Southern State, and has received high praise from the commanding officers of all military units in this territory. It represents a very liberal contribution to our National Defense system by the people of Franklin County. We have a rightful pride in the possession of this fine modern building.

Whereas no definite plans for a big celebration for the dedication of our new Armory and Community Building, have been made, it is being talked everywhere. The Louisburg Chamber of Commerce will call a representative meeting of all civic and patriotic clubs in our County to discuss and make definite plans for a proper celebration. Our citizens should welcome an opportunity to meet and mingle with each other and friends throughout our State in a big celebration of a big event. Suggestions for this celebration from any of our citizens will be gratefully accepted by the FRANKLIN TIMES, and passed along to the proper Committee when plans are completed for a BIG celebration.

EUROPEAN WAR NEWS

Berlin, Thursday, Aug. 29.—British planes attacked Berlin for nearly two hours early today, apparently flying over the center of the city, while anti-aircraft guns blazed and booming explosions like bursting bombs rolled in from the outskirts.

The air raid alarm, Berlin's seventh of the war and third in a week, lasted from 12:25 until 3:18 a. m.

Unlike the three-hour attack of British bombers early Monday, however, the anti-aircraft batteries in the center of the city protecting Adolf Hitler's Chancellory and the government buildings on the Wilhelmstrasse remained silent today.

Planes were heard distinctly over central Berlin, above the government buildings in the Wilhelmstrasse and Unter Den Linden, but there was no fire from the anti-aircraft batteries atop the ministry buildings an hour and a quarter after the attack began.

Rolling, booming explosions like bursting bombs were heard in the distance.

The city's air raid warnings sounded at 12:25 a. m., and a short while later flames were seen in the sky to the northwest from which the raiders appeared to be approaching.

Distant anti-aircraft fire sent flashes across the night sky.

The red flashes of anti-aircraft beams spread from the northwest to the west of Berlin when the attack had been under way about 15 minutes.

At that time the anti-aircraft fire was heard only faintly, indicating that the raiders were attempting to break through beyond the Berlin suburbs.

There was continuous anti-aircraft fire to the west and north-west and the sky was lighted by stabbing beams of searchlights playing on the sky from all directions.

Throughout Wednesday, the official German news agency said, German bombers pressed home their siege of the British Isles, leaving a Thames estuary air-drome below London "a mass of ruins" and smashing airplane factories and naval yards.

The German planes, taking advantage of almost perfect weather, raced across the channel and concentrated on the Thames air-drome and other coastal objectives.

London, Thursday, Aug. 29.—German raiders early today sent incendiary bombs crashing upon London, starting fires that lighted the sky with angry patches of red, after finally breaking through the city's wall of anti-aircraft fire in the war's longest air attack.

It was a sleepless night of huddling in shelters for many of the 8,000,000 men, women and children of the metropolis as the raiders swept back and forth over the heart of London hour after hour.

The "insomnia attack," as Londoners are beginning to call these nightly raids, began at 9 o'clock last night and still was under way six and a half hours later, thereby out-distancing Monday night's prolonged siege.

It was London's sixth consecutive night of attack and 20th air raid alarm of the war.

Break Through The German bombers broke through the "outer ring" of defenses encircling London, with anti-aircraft shells bursting all around them, after being hurled back yesterday in repeated daytime attempts to reach the city with assaults of massed bombers and fighters.

From rooftops in the heart of the city, so brilliantly lighted now and then by swinging searchlights that a newspaper could be read on street corners, incendiary bombs could be seen crashing, followed by great splashes of red fire.

The flames, most of which died down quickly as fire-fighting units clanged through almost deserted streets to bring them under control, silhouetted large buildings of central London against a weird, flickering light.

At 3 a. m., the raiders appeared to be ducking out and starting for home across the English Channel with British anti-aircraft gunners giving them a fierce farewell salute to the east of London along the Thames.

Bucharest, Aug. 28.—Hungarian warplanes today allegedly bombed the Rumanian city of Arad, machine-gunned and bombed an air-drome and swept to within 80 miles of Bucharest, while fears rose of an invasion by Russian troops massing along the new northern frontier of Rumania.

An official communique accused the Hungarians of the bombing attack, on the eve of a conference hurriedly summoned in Vienna by Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini in an "urgent effort" to bring about a Hungarian-Rumanian alliance.
