MEN'S BIBLE CLASS, LOUISBURG METHODIST CHURCH

One of the finest Bible classes in the County is that in this picture. Rev. E. H. Davis, Teacher, will give the historical sketch of the Methodist Church in Louisburg at a special celebration next Sunday morning. This picture was taken by Mr. Asher F. Johnson, Editor of the FRANKLIN TIMES, who has been a member of the church since 1896 when Rev. G. F. Smith was serving as the popular Pastor. Any men not attending a Bible Class are cordially invited to enroll in this class, especially the "new-comers" who need this inspiration and companionship.

FORMER LOUISBURG GIRL MARRIES IN ATLANTA

The following from an Atlanta paper of Sunday will be of interest in Goldsboro as the bride spent several years of her girlhood here with her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. McKinne.

Interest of a large number of friends in eastern North Carolina and Atlanta is elicited by the announcement of the marriage of Miss Lillian Wyche Howell to John P. Campbell on Saturday, October 19, at 2:30 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Emmerth, and took place in Sacred Heart Rectory.

The bride wore a costume suit of olive green wool, with black fur trim and matching black accessories. The bride's corsage was composed of orchids and lilies of the valley.

The bride was educated at Louisburg College, Louisburg, N. C., and at Duke University, where she received her bachelor of arts degree. She formerly taught in the North Carolina public school system and for the past several years has been engaged in social welfare work.

The bridegroom is the only child of Mary Lyons Campbell and the late John Campbell, well-known figure in hotel circles of Atlanta. The bridegroom's paternal grandparents were Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell of County Donegal, Ireland.

Mrs. Campbell resided in Louisburg several years before moving to Goldsboro, and has many friends here who extend felicitations.
