

MANY ATTEND RALLY

CONGRESSMAN HOBBS WONDERFUL SPEAKER

Harold Cooley, Happy Favorite, in the 4th District, Makes Big Speech; Whitfield Presides; Malone Has Charge Program; Big Dance Follows

With Congressman Sam Hobbs, of Alabama, guest speaker and Congressman Harold D. Cooley present Friday night the big Democratic rally held in the Court House went over with a bang for united Democracy, and giving evidence of the wide interest the Young Democratic Club of Franklin County had built up in its few weeks of campaign activity.

"We are living in an hour of great anxiety," said Congressman Cooley, who continued "this is no hour for mere expressions of peace, but an hour for action. Our great task is the problem of National defense. This was not started a few months ago but when President Roosevelt was inaugurated.

"It was realized that the American citizen must have something to fight for, so we began to build up citizenship. Out of this thought came the National farm program—conservation and soil erosion program." He told how the administration had brought a God given blessing to the rural homes through Rural Electrification program. He told his hearers that farmers have in the White House and both branches of the Congress a friendly government.

Answering the third term argument he stated, "I rather have a first class man for a third term, than a third class man for a first term." And declared that one term was too much for a man like Hoover. He compared Wilkie with the farmers bird dog as an up-setter and a disappoiter.

He classed President Roosevelt as the greatest command in the Nation and told his hearers that they could not fill their full duty by voting, but should be free to discuss the government and its needs. "Thank God we live in a Nation that is free and is controlled by public opinion."

At this point Congressman Cooley introduced Congressman Sam Hobbs, of Alabama, who responded with one of those well informed conversational tone every day language addresses that not only took his audience by overwhelming approval and delight, but drove home some deep thoughts that will bring votes to the Democratic party. In the beginning he paid nice tributes to the North Carolina representatives in Washington, but placed an extra and eloquent tribute to Hon. Harold D. Cooley, and the good judgment of the people of his district in sending such a man to Washington. He not only said Cooley was the only first term man to get on the Agricultural Committee that he knew of but was the motive power behind the agricultural program. He wanted all to think, "when we do" he said "we become Democrats."

He said the Republicans had a right to nominate any one they wished but they couldn't and one had to come to our party and get a Democrat. He said the only difference between the Republican and Democrat is we have religion and they haven't. He said not in the history of the Nation has any Democratic government been guilty of National scandal, and there has been no National scandal. He said the protective tariff began a 2 per cent tax and now is a 52 per cent tax and every cent of it comes out of the farmer. He said Cooley met the problem with farm parity. He thought full parity the only way to prosperity, and National security. He said by putting more money in the farmers pocket, he could buy more and tax collections would increase without additional taxes. He said the world is sick, if it were not there would be no dictators. Our problem is whether Democracy can survive. He said there was no war sentiment in Washington. He said the Republican party has not had a progressive idea since the Declaration of Independence. He bade farewell by saying, "we are on our way and are going to do the job completely under the leadership of Franklin Delano Roosevelt."

Senator W. L. Lumpkin introduced Miss May Oliver and Mrs. Pollard, and Mr. R. J. Reynolds, Jr., of the State Democratic headquarters of Raleigh. The meeting, which was composed of the Court House full of citizens and visitors, was presided over by President R. C. Whitfield, of the Young Democratic Club, of Franklin County, and

Questionnaires To Be Mailed

Draftees Need Not Worry; Instructions For Every Move Will Be Issued

THE FRANKLIN TIMES reporter in an interview with Chairman J. E. Malone, of the local draft board, ascertained that the Franklin County Local Draft Board was among the first in the state to complete its preliminary work of numbering registration cards and posting lists of registrants. The Board is now waiting official Master Lists from Washington before assigning order numbers and mailing questionnaires. The mailing of questionnaires will probably begin the first of next week. Registrants are to fill out these questionnaires and return to the Local Board within five days, the five days beginning on the day after mailing such questionnaires. An Advisory Board is being formed in the County to render assistance to registrants who are unable to prepare questionnaires.

It is not necessary, at this time, for any registrant to know his serial number as his questionnaire will be mailed him in due order. The only thing necessary for the registrant to do between now and the receipt of his questionnaire is, in the event he has changed his address, to notify the Local Board of this change.

Mr. Joseph T. Inscow, has been appointed a member of the Board to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Dickens. Mr. Inscow is one of Franklin County's most prominent and popular citizens, who enjoys the confidence of the entire County, and we feel sure he will add confidence to the Board.

Judge Hamilton Hobgood has been recommended as Chairman of the Franklin County Advisory Board. It is understood he will select the other members of his board whose duty will be to assist the registrants in executing their questionnaires and rendering such other assistance as may become necessary.

The selection is a splendid one. Judge Hobgood is fully qualified to render this valuable service.

At the eleven o'clock worship hour Sunday morning Dr. Bagby will preach the last sermon in this series on "The Results of Worship".

At the 7:30 o'clock evening worship hour the pastor will speak on "Patriotism".

DRAFT LOTTERY HELD TUESDAY

Wesley Williams Holds First Number

Six Missing Numbers Added To Complete List; Dykstra Defends Drawing

Washington, Oct. 30.—Facing a possible legal test because the great draft lottery ended with six missing numbers, Selective Service officials pressed forward today with plans for getting the first contingent of conscripts into camp.

It is to consist of some 30,000 young men drawn from regions where camp facilities already are available. Officials intimated that voluntary enlistments might cover that entire number, but beyond that point, plans were to have 400,000 in uniform by February 28, and 800,000 by June 15. Estimates were that this would involve an average of about 130 men from each draft area and about one out of each 20 registrants.

When, after 17 hours and 31 minutes, the drawing of the now familiar blue capsules from the long-famous goldfish bowl was completed early today, it was discovered that six capsules and their numbers had been lost. The last draw was the 8,994th. It should have been the 9,000th.

Eight at First
Rejecting the theory that souvenir seekers among the many whose hands were thrust into the bowl during the drawing might have made away with the tiny cylinder, officials began an immediate recheck of their records to determine just which numbers were missing. The records indicated that not six, but eight were absent. They were: Numbers 6,542, 7,192, 7,635, 1,033, 5,108, 6,771, 1,835 and 7,839.

A "Little Lottery" was organized immediately. The numbers were inserted in capsules, drawn and given order numbers running from 8,995 to 9,002 inclusive. Then another discovery was made. Two of the numbers in the supplemental lottery—1,033 and 6,771—actually had been drawn earlier, it was ascertained. So they were cancelled out of the little lottery and reverted to their previous places in the draw.

Quite a bit of interest was shown among the possible draftees and their friends in Louisburg and Franklin County. The first number drawn 158 was held in Franklin County by Mr. Wesley Williams, who is employed in H. C. Taylor's Hardware Store in Louisburg, the second was 192 was held by Mr. G. H. Mitchell, an employee on the highway force living on Main Street in Louisburg and the third 105 was held by Richard Braxton Gill, Jr., of Franklinton Route 2.

The list of the first 75 of Franklin County registrants as given out was as follows. This list is subject to such changes as will be effected by registration cards being sent in from other sections since the list released last week was made:

TO WILSON

The J. L. Smith family moved Tuesday to Wilson, where Mr. Smith will work for Joyner's Funeral Home, with whom he was connected before coming to Louisburg more than a year ago to accept position with Pittman-Lancaster Funeral Home. This family will be greatly missed, as Mrs. Smith was most active in local church and civic work. Mr. Smith's activities were necessarily confined to his business position.

GRANTED LEAVE

The board of directors of the Louisburg Chamber of Commerce has granted an indefinite leave of absence to Mrs. Mildred Malone, who has served as secretary of the organization since its formation. Mrs. Malone is expected to resume her position as soon as other responsibilities permit. During Mrs. Malone's absence Mrs. Tracy K. Stockard will be acting secretary of the local chamber.

Red Cross Make Plans For Campaign

Roll Call For Franklin County Will Be Held Nov. 11th to 30th

The annual Red Cross roll call will begin in Franklin County November 11 and will continue through November 30, it has been announced by T. Mortimer Harris, roll call chairman. Dr. A. Paul Bagby is chairman of the Louisburg chapter.

During the past year experienced Red Cross workers in disaster and relief gave food, clothing, shelter, medical attention and rehabilitation assistance at the scene of 102 domestic disasters, bringing assistance to more than 100,000 persons. Disaster relief operations resulted in expenditures of $655,757.67 by the National Organization. It was a typical year of disaster fighting, taking the Red Cross disaster force into all but 14 states. Disaster relief was but a small part of the Red Cross work as aid was being rushed across seas to aid the innocent victims of war.

Mr. Harris and Dr. Bagby in forwarding plans for the greatest Red Cross membership drive in Franklin County's recent history are pointing out the various agencies of aid that the membership drive supports. Among these are: The military and naval welfare service that last year assisted 52,365 active service men and aided 58,595 cases of ex-service men and their families. The volunteer service caused the production of 9,158,201 surgical dressings and 18,834 Christmas bags for soldiers. This service also produced and collected two million garments. The volunteer service gave great aid to the blind by producing 482,857 pages of Braille. Canteen service workers made and served meals to 80,599 persons.

Under first aid, life saving and accident prevention the Red Cross trained last year 379,860 persons in first aid bringing the total number of adequately trained first aiders to 2,460,376. Life saving instructors certified 94,246 persons to aid and rescue the drowning. Since 1935 5,922 highway first aid stations have been established. To combat the inroads of accidental deaths in the home and on farms the Red Cross distributed 9,000,000 "check lists" tabulating farm and home hazards to encourage periodic check-ups for their removal.

The Red Cross nursing service now has 43,000 registered nurses to aid and instruct when needed. Civilian relief is also an important part of the varied Red Cross services. Under the medical and health services the "Blood Banks" were begun and services for the collection of medical facts and histories were carried out. The Junior Red Cross is the largest youth organization in the world with a membership of 8,588,398 school-aged youngsters. This division teaches those attributes that make useful citizens and allows the youngsters to do their own small part in aiding those who are less fortunate.

The great help that has been given in European war relief is widely publicized and needs no boosting here but the need there is also great. Dr. Bagby says that inasmuch as Louisburg is almost at the bottom in percentage of population enrolled in the Red Cross that every effort will be made by Mr. Harris and the various parts of the local chapter to put this unit near or at the top.

Last years North Carolina enrollment record was held by Cabarrus County which enrolled 16.69 per cent of the county's population in the great Red Cross movement, while Louisburg enrolled only .56 per cent.

Methodist Orphans To Sing

At the Louisburg Methodist Church next Sunday morning there will be a group of visitors from the Methodist Orphanage in Raleigh. This group will give a program of songs and readings at the eleven o'clock service. This is not the regular singing class, as it is not on the road now due to the illness of the director, Mrs. Rives. It will be a very interesting group, mostly of the younger children. The two children being clothed by the circles of the Woman's Society will be present. The women will want to see the girls they have helped so much.

This program will fill about 15 or 20 minutes and the rest of the hour will be devoted to the more usual features of the Sunday morning program. Church School and Epworth League are at the usual time, and the evening worship hour is 7:30.

Annual Conference Meets

The North Carolina Annual Conference meets on next Thursday, Nov. 7, and will continue through the following Sunday evening. The meeting is at the Fifth Avenue Church in Wilmington. The appointments will be read at the Sunday night service and will likely be heard over the radio if the usual custom of recent years is followed.

Rev. J. G. Phillips, the Louisburg minister, who is completing a pastorate of four years in Louisburg, will have to go to Wilmington on Wednesday morning for the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Conference Board of Education. Mr. Phillips is Secretary of the Board of Education, and Secretary-Treasurer of the Wesley Foundation Commission, which supports and supervises the church work for students being done in State colleges and universities in North Carolina. Through these two connections he reports the work and submits the recommendations for all educational work being done in the Conference.

The Board of Stewards is making an earnest effort to complete all financial reports by this coming Sunday, so that attention can be turned to a good start in the work of the next Conference year.

TOWN OF LOUISBURG EFFECTS BIG SAVINGS

For the purpose of calling Bonds of the Town of Louisburg in the aggregate amount of $74,000 maturing 1955 and bearing interest rates of 6%, 5½% and 5% Refunding Bonds were sold by the Town on Tuesday, Oct. 29th. $2,000 being available in the Sinking Fund it was necessary to sell only $72,000 of such Refunding Bonds. These bonds were sold at a 3½% interest rate plus a premium of $158.40. This will result in a saving to the Town for the first year of $1,310.40, being an interest saving of $158.40 and thereafter an annual saving of $1,152.00 making a total saving to the Town of approximately $17,438.40. This sale was most gratifying to the Town and was really better than was anticipated.

The Town officials are to be congratulated for their efforts in effecting this saving to the tax payers, and we feel sure will be greatly appreciated by all.

Library Meeting

Quite a number of citizens met in the Chamber of Commerce rooms Monday night to try to find some means of continuing the public library for Louisburg. In the discussion it was learned that it would take a donation from Louisburg of at least a hundred dollars, and that half this amount had been subscribed. As a result it was decided to raise the balance of the amount and continue the service. Committees were appointed to make solicitation for funds and raise the necessary cash for the continuance of the library.

Craven County's cotton crop is the largest in years, due to no boll weevil attacks and the use of good seed, reports P. M. Cox, assistant farm agent of the State College Extension Service.

Booster Day

Saturday has been set apart as a Band Boosters Day for Louisburg when many interested citizens of Louisburg will take to the streets selling booster pins in order to raise finances for the Louisburg High School Band. Look out for the ladies and help the kids.

Federation Hold Interesting Meeting

Home Demonstration And 4-H Clubs Hold Federation Saturday at New Armory

Around two hundred Franklin County women attended the Federated Home Demonstration Clubs and 4-H Clubs of Franklin County at an interesting meeting Saturday in the Armory auditorium. Mrs. E. M. Carter, of Youngsville, president of the Federation presided, assisted by Miss Lillie Mae Braxton, home demonstration agent.

In the morning program the meeting was opened by a Devotional conducted by the Wood Club. There followed a better speech class conducted by the Mitchell's Club, and a report on the short course and tour by Mrs. W. O. Reed and Mrs. S. D. Stallings. Special music was furnished by the Gold Sand 4-H Club. Following a report on the county-wide picnic by Miss Mary Bowen, of Epson, and a report on the 4-H Club camp, by Miss Jacqueline Collier a business session was held.

Interesting exhibits at the auditorium was an emergency shelf of preserved or dried food by the Clifton Club, a complete canning budget for one person by the Centerville Club, mattress project by N. Y. A. girls and an attractive table service and color in meals by the Epson Club.

After the lunch hour there were recreational activities and a song service. Folk games were presented by the Cedar Rock and Edward Best clubs and the Seven Paths club presented several short plays. Miss Margaret Stallings directed a general recreation forum to close an interesting and informative meeting.

TOBACCO CONTINUES HIGH

The large quantity of tobacco sold in Louisburg the past week has been finding ready purchasers at good prices that show in spite of everything else it is holding its own. Good tobacco growers and other good judges say tobacco prices are holding good all through and the little apparent drop in price a few days ago was occasioned by a lower grade of tobacco instead of a price drop.

Get your tobacco ready and come on to Louisburg—the friendly town—and sell it where you will get full value and good accommodations.

4-H Corn Show

To Be Held in Louisburg The Latter Part of November

Assistant County Agent E. P. Barnes request the FRANKLIN TIMES to announce that plans are being worked out to hold a County-wide 4-H club corn show during the latter part of November. There are 112 4-H club boys who had one or more acres of corn last summer for their project and it is felt that a County-wide Corn Show and Judging Contest held in Louisburg will be an appropriate event to climax the year's activities for the club boys.

Several prizes have already been secured from different feed and fertilizer companies and some local contributions have been promised. It is believed that this corn show and judging contest among the 4-H club members of Franklin County can be made an outstanding educational event, and that it will be of much interest not only to the club boys but to the farmers of the County and to the citizens of Louisburg. It is hoped that definite arrangements as to the time and place for this Show can be made within the next few days.
