stables File

The deadline for filing to become candidates for County and Township offices at 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon, gave evidence that the people of Franklin Coun-serve the county in this capacity by signing on the dotted line and paying the filing fee. These seven were John P. Moore, the present encumbent, F. C. Richardson, J. N. Tharrington, J. Henry Cash, L. G. Turnage, C. C. Hudson and Taylor W. Boone.

The office of House of Representatives and County Accountant came in for a share in popularity when H. Crawford Kearney, former representative, and Senator Willie Lee Lumpkin filed for the House race, and Tracy K. for the House race, and Tracy K.
Stockard, Clerk for the Town of Louisburg, and J. H. Boone, Franklin County's present Tax Collector, pitched their hats in the ring for the important position of County Accountant. It will be recalled that Pier Williamson, present Accountant, was largely among the latter in the old saving "that few die and the old saying "that few die and none resign" public office, by announcing he would not run again.

Evidently some of the "big public of Franklin County" thought the Commissioners job Mys. Bill Pleasants
