If you find a lost War Ra-tion Book, just drop it in the nearest mailbox. The postoffice will do the rest.

Efforts will be made to de-liver the book to the person whose name appears on the book (and that's another reason why every-one should fill in his name and address in spaces provided). A five-cent "postage due" charge will be made. If the owner is not found, the postoffice will deliv-er the book to the nearest ra-
